Nayar, 2012-03-29 For more than half a century now scholars have debated over what comprises a genuinely religious film one that evinces an authentic manifestation of the sacred Often these scholars do so by pitting the successful films against those which propagate an inauthentic spiritual experience with the biblical spectacular serving as their most notorious candidate This book argues that what makes a filmic manifestation of the sacred true or authentic may say more about a spectator or critic's particular way of knowing as influenced by alphabetic literacy than it does about the aesthetic or philosophical and sometimes even faith based dimensions of the sacred onscreen Engaging with everything from Hollywood religious spectacles Hindu mythologicals and an international array of films revered for their transcendental style The Sacred and the Cinema unveils the epistemic pressures at the heart of engaging with the sacred onscreen The book also provides a valuable summation of the history of the sacred as a field of study particularly as that field intersects with film      Romanian New Wave Cinema Doru Pop, 2014-03-17 Modern Romanian filmmaking has received wide international recognition From 2001 to 2011 promising young filmmakers have been embraced as important members of European cinema The country developed a new fervor for filmmaking and a dozen new movies have received international awards and recognition from some of the most important critics worldwide This development sometimes called New Wave cinema is fully explored in this book By using a comparative approach and searching for similarities among cinematic styles and trends the study reveals that the young Romanian directors are part of a larger European way of filmmaking The discussion moves from specific themes motifs and narratives to the philosophy of a whole generation such as Cristi Puiu Cristian Mungiu Radu Muntean Corneliu Porumboiu Tudor Giurgiu and others      Russian Cinema David C. Gillespie, 2014-09-25 Russian Cinema provides a lively and informative exploration of the film genres that developed during Russia's tumultuous history with discussion of the work of Eisenstein Pudovkin Mikhalkov Paradzhanov Sokurov and others The background section assesses the contribution of visual art and music especially the work of the composers Shostakovich and Prokofev to Russian cinema Subsequent chapters explore a variety of topics The literary space the cinematic rendering of the literary text from Sovietized versions to bolder and more innovative interpretations as well as adaptations of foreign classics The Russian film comedy looks at this perennially popular genre over the decades from the domestication of laughter under Stalin to the emergence of satire The historical film how history has been used in film to affirm prevailing ideological norms from October to Taurus Women and Russian film
