Sculpting The Learning Organization:

Sculpting the Learning Organization Karen E. Watkins, Victoria J. Marsick, 1993-10-26 From their unique perspective as adult educators experienced in the work of organizational change the authors show both human resource professionals as well as front line managers and others how people learn and how to support that learning They show how individual learning acts as a catalyst for group and organizational learning in such key areas as employee involvement self directed teams and the balance of work and home life Eighteen illustrative case vignettes feature companies such as AT T IBM and Esso Petroleum

The Oxford Handbook of the Learning Organization Anders Örtengren, 2019-12-12 The concept of the learning organization is one of the most popular management ideas of the last few decades Since it was conceived as an idea in its own right it has been given various definitions and meanings such that we are still faced with the question as to whether any unified understanding of what the learning organization really is can be established This Handbook offers extensive reviews of both new and traditional perspectives on the concept and provides suggestions for how the learning organization can best be defined practiced studied and developed in future research With contributions from long standing scholars in the field as well as those new to the area this book aims to bridge the gap between traditional and more critical perspectives and in doing so find alternative features and angles to take the idea forward In addition to elaborating on and developing older definitions of the learning organization and suggesting updated and even new definitions the chapters also provide focused explorations on pertinent aspects of the learning organization such as ambidexterity gender inclusivity and systems thinking They also survey organizations that have made efforts towards becoming learning organizations how the learning organization can best be measured and studied and the universality of the idea itself Some of the questions raised in this book are answered or at least given tentative answers while other questions are left open In this way the book has the ambition to take the learning organization an important step further whilst having no intentions to take any final step instead the intention is that others will endeavour to continue where this book stops

Facilitating Learning Organizations Victoria J. Marsick, Karen E. Watkins, 1999 The authors give guidance and advice on how to facilitate the complex change interventions that are required to build learning into the system so that it makes a difference They highlight the need for business leaders and development professionals to work together

Organizational Learning in China Yu Haibo, 2021-05-10 From the perspective of behavioural science this book systematically investigates organizational learning in Chinese organizations based on multilevel theory over the past 20 years. The findings contribute to the theory and practice of organizational learning and give insights into the construction of learning organizations. Revisiting existing studies on organizational learning the author reconceptualises organizational learning and constructs an integrative model which is corroborated and then supplemented by empirical research. Based on samples and materials from 3 000 managers and employees in organizations from all over China the book further elaborates this integrative model covering the multilevel structure trans level functions and generative mechanisms that figure prominently in organizational learning in Chinese organizations. This framework helps enhance the organizational learning ability and the establishment of a learning culture while offering possible directions for updating research methods and a stereoscopic theory of organizational learning. The book will be a good reference for management practitioners students and academics interested in organizational behaviour human resource management innovation management and multilevel perspective.

Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Sculpting The Learning Organization : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Sculpting The Learning Organization : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
