Caleb Carr's attention to detail in The Alienist and Jacqueline Winspear's appealing sleuth Maisie Dobbs The Philadelphia Inquirer The Conjurer When Martha's father disappears from the family's country estate she begins an investigation that takes her from the pinnacle of society abuzz with the arrival of a European conjurer who communicates with the dead to the city's poorest neighborhoods where a killer is targeting prostitutes Biddle wonderfully evokes the color and culture of the time Publishers Weekly Deception's Daughter Now the guardian of two young children Martha returns to Philadelphia to find it torn apart by the disappearance of a young heiress and a succession of unsolved robberies Martha acts as liaison between the mayor's aide and the missing girl's parents but the investigation takes a darker turn as rich and poor alike face a deadly threat A good read skillfully evokes the elegant society salons and grubby streets of 1842 Philadelphia Philadelphia Magazine Without Fear When a mill worker's corpse is found on an estate outside Philadelphia Martha joins the investigation But a friend also needs help escaping her abusive socialite husband As Martha navigates the growing divide between classes she comes face to face with an evil that touches everyone including her own adopted daughter The setting is unfolded as vividly as the characters A fine mix of history and mystery Booklist

Copyright Office, 1977 Includes index Handbook of Learning and Cognitive Processes (Volume 1) W. K. Estes, 2014-06-20 From the Foreword Is it possible at present to identify a core cluster of theoretical ideas concepts and methods with which everyone working in the area of learning and cognition needs to be familiar Would it be possible to make explicit the relationships that we feel do or must exist among the various subspecialties ranging from conditioning through perceptual learning and memory to psycholinguistics and to present these in a sufficiently organized way to help specialists and non specialists alike in relating particular lines of research to the broader spectrum of activity These questions were posed to a substantial number of investigators who are currently most active in developing the ideas and doing the research Their response constitutes this Handbook First published in 1975 Volume 1 of this Handbook attempts to present an overview of the field and to introduce the principal theoretical and methodological issues that will persistently recur in the expanded treatments of specific research areas that comprise the later volumes Deferring to the current Zeitgeist rather than to chronology they begin with the present state of cognitive psychology then introduce the comparative approach and conclude this volume with a rapid three chapter review of the evolution of ideas from conditioning to information processing
