Kiessling, Judith Bernstein, Susan R. Levin, 2012-12-06 Medicine is changing at a speed never witnessed before in history With each passing year medical technology achieves the capacity to provide cures and improve treatments that even a short time before were difficult to conceptualize and impossible to provide Reproductive technology personifies this concept perhaps better than any other field of medicine The 1990s have seen an explosion in endoscopic and ambulatory procedures the application of molecular biology to clinical conditions and the refinement of assisted reproduction to allow third parties donors and surrogates into the process of family building More than ever before comprehensive medical care requires a team approach However the team comprises not only medical and scientific personnel but also mental health professionals lawyers and ethicists This integrated and multidisciplinary approach to medical care will become even more necessary as medical capabilities continue to develop faster than society can respond This book reflects such an approach It is based on a Harvard Postgraduate Course in June 1990 entitled Infertility in the 1990s Technological Advances and Their Psychosocial Implications that was sponsored by the Faulkner Centre for Reproductive Medicine The first half of the course was directed by Drs M Seibel A Kiessling and C Richards The second half of the course was directed by Dr M Seibel J Bernstein R N and S Levin LICSW Child Adoption R. A. C. Hoksbergen, 1997 Child Adoption is a straightforward concise and comprehensive guide which adoptive parents and the professionals who advise them will find invaluable R A C Hoksbergen covers the practical and emotional issues and possible problems which affect child and parents in adoption such as preparation of the family and the child adopting from different races or cultures and dealing with discrimination helping the child adjust to school discussing the adoptive status with the child This handbook provides much needed information so that everyone involved in the adoption process can make educated and fully thought out decisions It is invaluable reading for any professional involved in the process of adoption including adoption workers and lawyers social workers and couples who are considering adoption
