Engineering Design Michele Maugeri, Claudio Soccodato, 2014-02-03 Pseudo static analysis is still the most used method to assess the stability of geotechnical systems that are exposed to earthquake forces However this method does not provide any information about the deformations and permanent displacements induced by seismic activity Moreover it is questionable to use this approach when geotechnical systems are affected by frequent and rare seismic events Incidentally the peak ground acceleration has increased from 0.2-0.3 g in the seventies to the current value of 0.6-0.8 g Therefore a shift from the pseudo static approach to performance based analysis is needed Over the past five years considerable progress has been made in Earthquake Geotechnical Engineering Design EGED The most recent advances are presented in this book in 6 parts The evaluation of the site amplification is covered in Part I of the book In Part II the evaluation of the soil foundation stability against natural slope failure and liquefaction is treated In the following 3 Parts of the book the EGED for different geotechnical systems is presented as follows the design of levees and dams including natural slopes in Part III the design of foundations and soil structure interaction analysis in Part IV underground structures in Part V Finally in Part VI new topics like the design of reinforced earth retaining walls and landfills are covered Designing the Seaside Fred Gray, 2006 In

House Beautiful, 1911      "Destined to Fail" Julia Eklund Koza, 2021-08-31 A little known fact about the prominent US psychologist and educator Carl E Seashore 1866 1949 is that he was deeply involved in the American eugenics movement He was among the US academics to support eugenics long before German Nazis embraced it A titan in a host of disciplines and a proponent of radical education reform Seashore used his positional power to promote a constellation of education reforms consistent with central precepts of eugenics Many of these reforms including tracking gifted and talented programs and high stakes standardized testing were adopted and remain standard practice in the United States today He promulgated the idea that musical talent is biologically inheritable and he developed the first standardized tests of musical talent these tests were used by early twentieth century researchers in their attempts to determine whether there are race differences in musical talent Seashore's ideas and work profoundly shaped music education's research trajectory as well as enduring commonsense beliefs about musical ability An intersectional analysis Destined to Fail focuses on the relationship between eugenics and Seashore's views on ability race and gender Koza concludes that Seashore promoted eugenics and its companion eugenics because he was a true believer She also discusses the longstanding silences surrounding Seashore's participation in eugenics As a diagnosis and critique of the present Destined to Fail identifies resemblances and connections between past and present that illustrate the continuing influence of eugenics and the systems of reasoning that made early twentieth century eugenics imaginable and seem reasonable on education discourse and practice today It maps out discursive citational and funding connections between eugenicists of the early twentieth century and contemporary White supremacists this mapping leads to some of Donald Trump's supporters and appointees

Franck, Teresa von Sommaruga Howard, 2010-02-15 Completed projects receive more public attention than the process of their creation and so the myth that architects design buildings alone lives on In fact architects work with a great many others and the relationships that develop particularly with clients have a significant impact on design Design through Dialogue explores the relationship between client and architect through the lens of four overlapping activities that occur during any project relating talking exploring and transforming Cases of design and collaboration range from smaller scale retail residential and educational projects in the US Sweden the UK and the Pacific Rim to large institutions including Seattle's Central Library the National Museum of the American Indian in Washington DC the Supreme Court in Jerusalem and the Museum of New Zealand Material is taken from interviews with clients and architects and research in psychotherapy group dynamics and design studies Throughout the book aspects of process are linked to design outcomes to illustrate how architects and clients collaborate creatively
