The Seasons Luke Fischer, David Macauley, 2021-07-01 Although the seasons have been a perennial theme in literature and art their significance for philosophy and environmental theory has remained largely unexplored This pioneering book demonstrates the ways in which inquiry into the seasons reveals new and illuminating perspectives for philosophy environmental thought anthropology cultural studies aesthetics poetics and literary criticism The Seasons opens up new avenues for research in these fields and provides a valuable resource for teachers and students of the environmental humanities The innovative essays herein address a wide range of seasonal cultures and geographies from the traditional Western model of the four seasons spring summer fall and winter to the Indigenous seasons of Australia and the Arctic Exemplifying the crucial importance of interdisciplinary research The Seasons makes a compelling case for the relevance of the seasons to our daily lives scientific understanding diverse cultural practices and politics Encyclopedia of Literary

Modernism Paul Poplawski, 2003-12-30 Modernism is still widely acknowledged as perhaps the most important and influential artistic and cultural phenomenon of the 20th century Written by expert scholars from around the world and covering hundreds of different topics in a clear incisive and critical manner this reference maps the complex field of modernism in a fresh and original way The principal focus of the book is on English language literary modernism and the period 1890 1939 yet many entries extend beyond those parameters to include important precursors and successors of the movement The book also covers the crucial European and interdisciplinary dimensions of modernism and provides complementary comparative perspectives from countries and regions not usually included in traditional accounts of the subject Entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography The

Postcolonial Unconscious Neil Lazarus, 2011-06-30 The Postcolonial Unconscious is a major attempt to reconstruct the whole field of postcolonial studies In this magisterial and at times polemical study Neil Lazarus argues that the key critical concepts that form the very foundation of the field need to be re assessed and questioned Drawing on a vast range of literary sources Lazarus investigates works and authors from Latin America and the Caribbean Africa and the Arab world South Southeast and East Asia to reconsider them from a postcolonial perspective Alongside this he offers bold new readings of some of the most influential figures in the field Fredric Jameson Edward Said and Frantz Fanon A tour de force of postcolonial studies this book will set the agenda for the future probing how the field has come to develop in the directions it has and why and how it can grow further Memories of the Moderns Harry Levin, 1982 Harry Levin's Memories of the

Moderns originally published by New Directions in 1980 is now presented in New Directions Paperbook format This gathering of prose pieces reviews essays lectures introductions personal recollections and epistles written for the most part during the 1970s combines criticism with reminiscence and is both an exploration of the idea of modernism within the international frame of comparative literature and a valediction By now what was so avant garde experimental difficult and

Grossman, 1986 A series of poems traces the course of a love affair from both the man's and the woman's point of view Tian Wen Yuan Qu, 1986 Describes the historical background of the poem and poses questions about Chinese mythology and the nature of the universe

Scenarios for a Mixed Landscape John Allman, 1986 Scenarios for a Mixed Landscape John Allman's third collection of poems is a book as remarkable for its lyricism as it is for its capaciousness for there seems to be no area of thought no branch of learning no dark region of the mind into which the poet is unwilling to delve His recent Clio's Children Dostoevsky at Semyonov Square and Other Poems is a reminder as the title implies that history is a narrative art In his newest book Allman reflects on art and nature love and death the dualities that animate our common humanity The poems in Scenarios for a Mixed Landscape look back at one level to the mutable mythic cosmos of Ovid as well as Lucretius universe of benign random change But to these ancient considerations Allman brings the insights indeed the language of modern science and evolution creating a speculative aesthetic appropriate to the awesome possibilities of the atomic age I would say Allman observes that Scenarios for a Mixed Landscape is about nature that the poems speak in the complementary idioms of art and science in an attempt to comprehend nature that love recapitulates all life forms and that love finally is the only ground we stand on the only steadiness beneath us earned by us yet strangely given as we sing of glory and grief John Allman's previous books of poems are Walking Four Ways in the Wind Princeton University Press 1979 and Clio's Children New Directions 1985 He is a professor of English at Rockland Community College State University of New York
