Lord Peter Views the Body Dorothy Leigh Sayers, 2013-01-01 The Egotists Club is one of the most genial places in London. It is a place to which you may go when you want to tell that odd dream you had last night or to announce what a good dentist you have discovered. You can write letters there if you like and have the temperament of a Jane Austen for there is no silence room and it would be a breach of club manners to appear busy or absorbed when another member addresses you. You must not mention golf or fish however and if the Hon Freddy Arbuthnot's motion is carried at the next committee meeting and opinion so far appears very favourable you will not be allowed to mention wireless either. As Lord Peter Wimsey said when the matter was mooted the other day in the smoking room those are things you can talk about anywhere. Otherwise the club is not specially exclusive. Nobody is ineligible per se except strong silent men. Nominees are however required to pass certain tests whose nature is sufficiently indicated by the fact that a certain distinguished explorer came to grief through accepting and smoking a powerful Trichinopoly cigar as an accompaniment to a 63 port. On the other hand dear old Sir Roger Bunt the coster millionaire who won the 20 000 ballot offered by the Sunday Shriek and used it to found his immense catering business in the Midlands was highly commended and unanimously elected after declaring frankly that beer and a pipe were all he really cared for in that way. As Lord Peter said again Nobody minds coarseness but one must draw the line at cruelty. On this particular evening Masterman the cubist poet had brought a guest with him a man named Varden. Varden had started life as a professional athlete but a strained heart had obliged him to cut short a brilliant career and turn his handsome face and remarkably beautiful body to account in the service of the cinema screen. He had come to London from Los Angeles to stimulate publicity for his great new film Marathon and turned out to be quite a pleasant unspoiled person greatly to the relief of the club since Masterman's guests were apt to be something of a toss up. There were only eight men including Varden in the brown room that evening. This with its panelled walls shaded lamps and heavy blue curtains was perhaps the cosiest and pleasantest of the small smoking rooms of which the club possessed half a dozen or so. The conversation had begun quite casually by Armstrong's relating a curious little incident which he had witnessed that afternoon at the Temple Station and Bayes had gone on to say that that was nothing to the really very odd thing which had happened to him personally in a thick fog one night in the Euston Road.

Dorothy L. Sayers Eric Sandberg, 2022-01-04 Dorothy L Sayers was one of the Queens of Crime. Alongside writers like Agatha Christie she perfected the whodunnit but also used the genre to explore social ethical and emotional matters. Her characters particularly Lord Peter Wimsey and his investigative partner Harriet Vane struggle with the complexities of life and love in a rapidly changing world while solving some of the most intricate and complex mysteries ever offered to the reading public. Sayers was also an important theoretician of detective fiction a religious dramatist a public intellectual and one of the 20th century's most important translators of Dante. While focusing on her mystery fiction this companion offers a full view of all aspects of Sayers's career. It is an ideal introduction for readers new to Sayers's diverse and rewarding body of work and an invaluable companion for her many fans. Bowker's

Whose Body? Dorothy Leigh Sayers,1987 Ian Carmichael is Lord Peter Wimsey with Patricia Routledge as his mother in this BBC radio full cast dramatization Wimsey s mother has heard through a friend that Mr Thipps a respectable Battersea architect found a dead man in his bath wearing nothing but a gold pince nez Lord Wimsey makes his way straight over to Mr Thipps and a good look at the body raises a number of interesting questions Why would such an apparently well groomed man have filthy black toenails flea bites and the scent of carbolic soap lingering on his corpse Then comes the disappearance of oil millionaire Sir Reuben Levy last seen on the Battersea Park Road With his beard shaved he would look very similar to the man found in the bath but is Sir Levy really dead The Technique of the Mystery Story Carolyn Wells,1929 Literary Afterlife Bernard A. Drew,2010-03-08 This is an encyclopedic work arranged by broad categories and then by original authors of literary pastiches in which fictional characters have reappeared in new works after the deaths of the authors that created them It includes book series that have continued under a deceased writer s real or pen name undisguised offshoots issued under the new writer s name posthumous collaborations in which a deceased author s unfinished manuscript is completed by another writer unauthorized pastiches and biographies of literary characters The authors and works are entered under the following categories Action and Adventure Classics 18th Century and Earlier Classics 19th Century Classics 20th Century Crime and Mystery Espionage Fantasy and Horror Humor Juveniles 19th Century Juveniles 20th Century Poets Pulps Romances Science Fiction and Westerns Each original author entry includes a short biography a list of original works and information on the pastiches based on the author s characters A Bookshelf of Our Own ,2006 In an analysis of the fifty most important books by and about women from the Middle Ages to the present day each book is placed within its historical context tracing the life and influence of such authors as Toni Morrison Edith Wharton Grace Paley Zora Neale Hurston and Mary Wollstonecraft Reconciling Science and Religion Peter J. Bowler,2014-04 Although much has been written about the vigorous debates over science and religion in the Victorian era little attention has been paid to their continuing importance in early twentieth century Britain Reconciling Science and Religion provides a comprehensive survey of the interplay between British science and religion from the late nineteenth century to World War II Peter J Bowler argues that unlike the United States where a strong fundamentalist opposition to evolutionism developed in the 1920s most famously expressed in the Scopes monkey trial of 1925 in Britain there was a concerted effort to reconcile science and religion Intellectually conservative scientists championed the reconciliation and were supported by liberal theologians in the Free Churches and the Church of England especially the Anglican Modernists Popular writers such as Julian Huxley and George Bernard Shaw sought to create a non Christian religion similar in some respects to the Modernist position Younger scientists and secularists including Rationalists such as H G Wells and the Marxists tended to oppose these efforts as did conservative Christians who saw the liberal position as a betrayal of the true spirit of their religion With the increased social tensions of the 1930s as the churches moved toward a neo orthodoxy unfriendly to natural theology and biologists adopted the Modern Synthesis of genetics and evolutionary theory the proposed reconciliation fell apart Because the tensions between science and religion and efforts at reconciling the two are still very much with us today Bowler s book will be important for everyone interested in these issues Words on Cassette, 2002 R R Bowker Publishing,2002 The Artist and the Trinity Christine M Fletcher,2014-03-27 The Artist and the Trinity aims to create a Christian theology of work based on Dorothy L Sayers analogy of the Trinity to the process of artistic creation Sayers analogy gives us an account of the person that does not collapse into the atomism of the individual of modern liberal capitalism but is fully relational By putting Sayers into dialogue with Alasdair MacIntyre the book develops a fully Trinitarian theology of work that accounts for the interdependence of human beings and for the ethical requirements of caring for the weak the young and the old in a way that is gender neutral
