Patke,2018-03-01 In all cultures and times the poetic imagination has fed on the natural attributes of islands An island is either a destination or a home or a place of exile and imprisonment or simply a place to sojourn It is an ideal vehicle for journeys treated as allegories or for acts of finding that turn into acts of losing or the reverse transformation An island is not a continent yet it can be an archipelago An island is both a place in itself and a pretext for imaginings that need a local habitation and a name It can give relief and pleasure or it can frustrate isolate and negate Above all it both invites and resists or contains or constrains the imagination Poetry and Islands explores how islands become repositories of human longings and desires a locus for some of our deepest fears and fantasies It balances historical and geographical reference with a selective approach to poems and poets in English and in translations into English The study of particular poems in which islands figure in exemplary ways is balanced by a more detailed discussion of the poets who have played a major role in shaping human responses to islands on a global scale

Meticulously studied and translated by Dr Anthony Waterman a scholar of Western Esotericism it told of a journey which crossed continents in pursuit of an obsession Presented here is the personal account of the explorer Laurent Leroux The Red Raider and his lifelong search for the fabled Starless Citadel N stur Maximal God Yujin Nagasawa,2017-10-13 Yujin Nagasawa presents a new stronger version of perfect being theism the conception of God as the greatest possible being Although perfect being theism is the most common form of monotheism in the Judeo Christian Islamic tradition its truth has been disputed by philosophers and theologians for centuries Nagasawa proposes a new game changing defence of perfect being theism by developing what he calls the maximal concept of God Perfect being theists typically maintain that God is an omniscient omnipotent and omnibenevolent being according to Nagasawa God should be understood rather as a being that has the maximal consistent set of knowledge power and benevolence Nagasawa argues that once we accept the maximal concept we can establish perfect being theism on two grounds First we can refute nearly all existing arguments against perfect being theism simultaneously Second we can construct a novel strengthened version of the modal ontological argument for perfect being theism Nagasawa concludes that the maximal concept grants us a unified defence of perfect being theism that is highly effective and economical The Non-existence of God Nicholas Everitt,2004 Arguments for the existence of God have taken many different forms over the centuries in The Non Existence of God Everitt considers all the arguments and examines the role that reason and knowledge play in the debate over God s existence The Compass That Guides Us Home Marcus Mercer,2025-10-23 The Compass That Guides Us Home is a deeply evocative anthology that beautifully navigates the complex landscapes of love revealing how genuine connection serves as an unbreakable compass guiding hearts through life s most challenging terrains and ultimately leading them to their true sanctuary This collection of poignant stories delves into relationships where destinies intertwine proving that home is not merely a place but a profound shared existence The book begins by introducing Elara a woman whose life in a drought stricken desert feels as parched and desolate as the land itself her future dictated by tribal expectations Her world is transformed by the arrival of Ronan not a formidable warrior as expected but a gentle gardener who speaks of nurturing life from withered earth Their unexpected love story blossoms against the harsh backdrop of the desert as Ronan teaches Elara that the greatest strength lies not in conquest but in cultivation and that true home is found in the shared effort to bring life and beauty to barren ground Further narratives follow Elara now a celestial cartographer charting forgotten constellations and yearning for a connection as vast as the cosmos Her solitary existence is challenged by Orion a gruff clockmaker whose world revolves around precise gears and measured time Despite their contrasting natures their love becomes a guiding constellation transcending earthly boundaries as they search for the mythical Isle of Aethelred Their journey marked by perilous storms and quiet moments under a million stars ultimately reveals that the true destination is not a physical island but the unwavering bond they forge together The Compass That Guides Us Home is a powerful testament to the idea that love is an active guiding force a shared
