Sir John Baynes

One Day At A Time Diaries From A Palestinian Camp:

One Day at a Time Suzy Wighton, 1990 The true story of a young Glaswegian nurse battling to survive in the besieged Palestinian refugee camp of Gourj al Brajneeh Beirut Suzy Wighton talked about what it was like living on a day to day basis in a war zone with the memory of the horrific 1985 massacre at nearby Shatilla camp fresh in mind knowing that few outside were even aware of the appalling suffering and degradation

Coming Home? Vol. 1 Sharif Gemie, 2014-07-18 The wars of the twentieth century uprooted people on a previously unimaginable scale to the extent that being a refugee became an increasingly widespread experience With the arrival of refugees governments of host countries had to mediate between divided national populations some wished to welcome those arriving in search of refuge others preferred a strategy of exclusion or even expulsion At the same time refugees had to manage conflicts of the self as they responded to the loss of nationhood families socio political networks material goods and arguably also a sense of belonging or home While return migration was usually perceived by governments and refugees alike as the best solution to the dilemmas of forced displacement consensus about the timing and dynamics of how this would actually occur was very difficult to achieve In practice the return of refugees to their countries of origin rarely if ever produced a wholly satisfactory outcome Conflicts clearly resulted in forced displacement but it is equally true that forced displacement created conflicts The complex inter relationship of conflict return migration and the sometimes chimerical but still compelling search for a sense of home is the central preoccupation of the contributors to the two volumes of the Coming Home series Scholars from history literature cultural studies and sociology explore the tensions between nation states and migrants as they have anticipated implemented or challenged the process of return migration during the twentieth and twenty first centuries This book begins with Western Europe and progresses to Central and Eastern Europe from the period of the Spanish Civil War to the Cold War era whilst the second volume Coming home Vol 2 Conflict and Postcolonial Return Migration in the Context of France and North Africa shifts the focus to the colonial and post colonial framework of the French North African nexus What emerges from the two volumes of essays is that as ambiguous and sometimes ambivalent as home could appear it was nonetheless central to migrants preoccupations about returning

Palestinian Refugees in International Law Francesca Albanese, Lex Takkenberg, 2020 The Palestinian conflict has produced one of the most tragic refugee crises since World War II with the number of refugees caused by the violence associated with the creation of the State of Israel numbering around 11 million in 2011 The much lauded first edition in 1998 of The Status of Palestinian Refugees in International Law was the first book to comprehensively analyse the legal aspects of the Palestinian refugee crisis yet the last two decades have seen multiple developments New waves of conflict and displacement have affected Palestinian refugees in the Middle East and there has been Israeli encroachment on Palestinian territory Hamas has grown and a schism has formed within the first Palestinian government The so called Arab Spring has impacted the life fate and legal status of thousands of Palestinian refugees In international legal jurisprudence change has been similarly rapid In 2004 the International Court of Justice delivered a crucial advisory opinion on the Separation Wall authoritatively elucidating the international legal framework applicable to the Israeli occupation Numerous international human rights bodies and UN fact finding missions have added their analysis to the mix The possibility of the State of Palestine joining the International Criminal Court has spurred discussion relating to the applicability of international criminal law to Palestinian refugees Clear compelling and authoritative Lex Takkenberg and Francesca Albanese discuss the status quo both on the ground and in the courts and pose future scenarios to come

Nursing Times, 1990 Periodica Islamica, 1991 Politics of the Modern Arab World Laleh Khalili, 2009 This four volume collection of cutting edge and canonical scholarship counters the oft cited opinion that studies of Middle Eastern politics are devoid of social scientific theory and method by providing an overview of the state of the scholarship in the field innovations therein and the debates that have advanced knowledge in the field The collection covers the Arab world from Morocco to the borders of Iran with the focus primarily on the twentieth century and especially the post Second World War era By choosing a wide array of authors many of whom are from the region or from the non Anglophone world the full breadth of worldwide scholarship on the modern Arab world is on display The collection defines politics broadly in line with the most innovative current works in the field of political studies to include not only politics at the state level but also the public social and popular domains that define and shape and are in turn defined and shaped by politics For Love of Justice Sir John Baynes, 1997 The Quarterly Index Islamicus, 1989 U.S. Official Statements Norbert Scholz, 1994
