Biddle,1996-11 This booklet will make a positive contribution to the ongoing debate about euthanasia and physician assisted suicide Reflections of a Police

Psychologist Jack Digliani, 2010-06-18 Reflections of a Police Psychologist is an account of the experiences, thoughts, and observations of a seasoned police veteran. It is written for police officers and those who would like a glimpse into the world of policing from the perspective of a former police officer and current police psychologist. Dr Digliani discusses the major challenges facing those first entering police work. He addresses police field training and identifies the ten police field training pitfalls. The PATROL program developed to assist new officers is outlined. It involves an orientation and phase meetings between new officers and the staff psychologist to support them throughout field training. Dr Digliani discusses how stress management becomes life management within the concepts of life by design and life by default. Inside the parameters of life management, a list of Some Things to Remember functions as an instrument for transactional change. The issues related to traumatic stress and exposure are discussed. The insights presented originate out of years of treating officers exposed to traumatic events. The role of police peer support teams is examined. Models for a peer support team policy and operational guidelines are presented. There is also information relating to the confidentiality of peer support interactions, a topic of current controversy. Traumatic incident debriefings and their applications in policing are elucidated along with phase and freeze frame models of debriefing. Included is a discussion of the current efficacy research pertinent to traumatic incident debriefings. Police family issues and the Foundation Building Blocks of Functional Relationships are outlined. Various family patterns of interaction are identified, including information for families of traumatized officers. There is a discussion of coping with death and loss, a critical area for police officers. An exposition of mental illness and interacting with the mentally ill from a police perspective is presented. Toward the end of the book, the retirement transition is discussed. In retirement or separation from service, officers return to the civilian world. Some experience difficulty with this transition. Issues to consider before retirement are presented. The final chapter includes the general reflections and policing history of Dr Digliani. These reflections include the insights that come only with years of policing experience in several police assignments, including that of staff psychologist. This is an excellent book for anyone interested in law enforcement, policing, and police psychology.

The Reflections of Lichtenberg Georg Christoph Lichtenberg, 1908 The Hauerwas Reader Stanley Hauerwas, 2001-07-23 A Stanley Hauerwas Reader including Hauerwas essays and excerpts from his books and monographs intended to provide a comprehensive introduction to his work Foundational Reflections H.A. Durfee, 2012-12-06 The American University Publications. In From its inception, Philosophy has continued the direction stated in the sub title of the initial volume: that of probing new directions in philosophy. As the series has developed, these probings of new directions have taken the two-fold direction of exploring the relationships between the disparate traditions of twentieth-century philosophy and with developing new insights into the foundations of some enduring philosophic problems. This present volume continues both of these directions. The interaction between twentieth-century Anglo-Saxon and Continental philosophy, which was an implicit theme of our first and third volumes and the explicit subject of our second volume, is here continued in a series of studies on major figures and topics in each tradition In the context of these interpretative studies Professor Durfee returns again and again to the question of the relationships between the will and the reason and explores the conflicting goals of creativity and objectivity in formulating a philosophic position In so doing he raises the issue as his title suggests of the foundations of philosophy itself He seriously challenges the belief common to both phenomenology and analytic philosophy that philosophizing can be a presuppositionless activity objectively pursued independent of the personal and perhaps arbitrary commitments of the philosopher This issue critical as it is to all forms of philosophy is surely a worthy one for a series such as ours

Reflections of a Psychiatrist Shailja Chaturvedi, 2021-04-20 This book illustrates one of the most significant phases of international development of psychiatry with emphasis on Australian psychiatry and its recognition as the fundamental branch of medicine Every sensation and thought create an emotion with its impact on the functioning of our brain and the status of our health The book illustrates the journey of psychiatry from the times of lunatic asylums the days of anti psychiatry Freudian psychoanalysis as the only treatment to the refinement of the state of art technology psychopharmacology and present day equal human rights of the people with mental illness The author has attempted to include the current scientific explorations debates and information above the robust foundation of psychiatry which can also make it a reference book with its wide coverage and simplified concepts The inclusion of case studies with changed identity of the patients make it even more readable and understanding the enigma of human emotions

Suicidal Thoughts Max Malikow, 2008-10-20 Suicidal Thoughts is a compilation of some of the most moving and insightful writing accomplished on the topic of suicide It presents the thoughts and experiences of fifteen writers who have contemplated suicide some on a professional level others on a personal level and a few both personally and professionally Through this collection the reader is able to bear witness to the struggle between life and death and to the devastating aftermath of suicide Suicidal Thoughts provides readers with a better understanding of the reasons why some individuals give serious consideration to killing themselves

Truthfulness and Tragedy Stanley Hauerwas, 2025-02-15 In Truthfulness and Tragedy Stanley Hauerwas provides an account of moral existence and ethical rationality that shows how Christian convictions operate or should operate to form and direct lives In attempting to conceptualize the basis of Christian ethics in a manner that will render Christian convictions morally intelligible the author casts fresh light on traditional theoretical issues and articulates the distinctive Christian response to contemporary concerns such as suicide medical ethics and child care The first section of the book deals with methodological issues the meaning and nature of practical reason obligation claims natural law and self deception and the affinity of story and ethics It focuses on the relation of truthfulness and tragedy and the need for a story a set of religious convictions or grammar of theology that does justice to the tragic character of human existence The second section addresses substantive issues suicide euthanasia and the value of survival the moral limits of population growth the definition of person for medical reasons and social involvement and Christian ethics The overall theme is the need for a community in which truthfulness is a way of life In the final section devoted to the problem of how to care for disabled children the implications of the author's ethical position are given concrete expression He discusses the assumptions underlying the willingness to have children criteria for humanness medical ethics and how truthful communities deal with suffering In Truthfulness and Tragedy Stanley Hauerwas extends and clarifies the ethical position set forth in his earlier books Character and the Christian Life and Vision and Virtue

Mad/Bad/Sad: Philosophical, Political, Poetic and Artistic Reflections on the History of Madness Gonzalo Araoz, 2020-09-25 This volume collects a series of writings exploring the notion the experience and the representation of madness from different disciplinary perspectives and in different cultural contexts
