Casas, Dr. Paul A. Rodríguez, 2012-02-21 We have written this book because of our unique and real concern for improving education for children who are at risk of school failure Whether these students are of different ethnicities or speak different languages the students are not failures but have difficulty maneuvering in a system we call school In order to improve education we have to improve schools and the practices of school leaders This transformation of schools requires change and improvement of individuals in school leadership positions In order to change school leaders and their practices toward improvement we must replicate what is working for kids through reflective practice Osterman and Kottkamp 1993 offered this perspective We believe that reflective practice an approach to educational improvement that is both situational and places the professional in the very center of the attempt to create improvement not only stands in contrast to most other current ideas but has the greatest potential of any approach improving individuals and through them schools and education p vii The book was written because we share professional practices and intellectual interests in reflection and reflective practice We are passionate that reflection has the best hope and significant change in how leaders examine their personal beliefs values and behaviors in such a way that members of the school community realize that it is they who must adapt their practices to meet the needs of students at risk and the diverse communities they serve However before we discuss the importance of reflective practice we need to arrive at a definition of reflective practice Schon 1983 defines reflective practice as the capacity to reflect on action so as to engage in a process of continuous learning Similarly Bolton 2010 stated that reflective practice involves playing critical attention to practical values and theories which inform everyday action by examining practice reflectively and reflexively This leads to developmental insight Another idea by Boud et al 1985 states Reflection is an important human activity in which people recapture their experience think about it mull it over and evaluate it It is this working with experience that is important in learning As for education Larrivee 2000 argues Reflective practice refers to the process of the educator studying his or her own teaching methods and determining what works best for students It involves the consideration of the ethical consequences of classroom procedures on students      Improving Learner Reflection for TESOL Li-Shih Huang, 2021-06-03 Presenting comprehensive research conducted with learners and educators in a range of settings this volume showcases self reflection as a powerful tool to enhance student learning The text builds on empirical insights to illustrate how language professionals can foster critical self reflection amongst learners of English as an additional language This text uses ecologically sensitive practitioner research that addresses issues of both practical and pedagogical significance in the fields of TESOL language teaching and learning and teacher education By synthesizing interdisciplinary research and theory chapters show how various types of self reflection including guided and non guided group and individual forms and written oral and technology mediated reflection can promote autonomous self regulated learning amongst students at various levels Whilst offering readers a strong grounding in the theoretical and empirical knowledge that supports self reflection the volume gives constant attention is given to praxis with a focus on effective pedagogical strategies and tools needed to implement encourage and evaluate critical learner reflection in readers own teaching or research This volume will be a critical resource for language teaching professionals interested in critical learner reflection including in service pre service and teacher educators in the field of TESOL Scholars and researchers in the fields of applied linguistics and language education more broadly will find this volume valuable      Reflective Practice in the Lifelong Learning Sector Jodi Roffey-Barentsen, Richard Malthouse, 2009-03-09 A major element of CPD is reflective practice and many trainee and new teachers are unsure about what is actually involved in the process and how to get the most from it The book introduces and contextualises reflective practice within Continuing Professional Development It introduces and defines the subject places it in context in relation to new regulations details how to accurately record reflective practice and explains how to use it to enhance teaching and learning It provides comprehensive support and practical advice and is closely linked to the new Professional Standards in Teaching Tutoring and Training      The Plugged-In Professor Sharmila Ferris, Hilary Wilder, 2013-05-15 New technologies are transforming the way students work The Plugged in Professor provides a timely and exceptional resource for using social media and other new technologies to help college students meet both general and discipline specific objectives The title covers techniques built around well known social networking technologies as well as other emerging technologies such as mobile phone and tablet apps With a practical focus and reader friendly format this book shows educators how to apply techniques in each technology and includes clear student learning objectives step by step directions observations and advice and supplemental readings and resources Twenty five chapters by leading contributors cover key aspects of new technologies in education in four parts Writing research and information fluency Communication and collaboration Critical thinking and creativity and Integrative learning Provides a cutting edge resource for academics and practitioners in effective ways of reaching today s students through the use of their favourite tool social media Outlines a range of strategies taking advantage of the unique learning styles and habits of net generation learners Exposes students to
