Companion to American Travel Writing Alfred Bendixen, Judith Hamera, 2009-01-29 Travel writing has always been intimately linked with the construction of American identity Occupying the space between fact and fiction it exposes cultural fault lines and reveals the changing desires and anxieties of both the traveller and the reading public These specially commissioned essays trace the journeys taken by writers from the pre revolutionary period right up to the present They examine a wide range of responses to the problems posed by landscapes found both at home and abroad from the Mississippi and the Southwest to Europe and the Holy Land Throughout the contributors focus on the role played by travel writing in the definition and formulation of national identity and consider the experiences of minority writers as well as canonical authors This Companion forms an invaluable guide for students approaching this new important and exciting subject for the first time

Handbook of British Travel Writing Barbara Schaff, 2020-09-07 This handbook offers a systematic exploration of current key topics in travel writing studies It addresses the history impact and unique discursive variety of British travel writing by covering some of the most celebrated and canonical authors of the genre as well as lesser known ones in more than thirty close reading chapters Combining theoretically informed astute literary criticism of single texts with the analysis of the circumstances of their production and reception these chapters offer excellent possibilities for understanding the complexity and cultural relevance of British travel writing Contemporary Travel Writing of Latin America Claire Lindsay, 2010-02-15 This book takes a new approach to travel writing about Latin America by examining domestic journey narratives that have been produced by travellers from the continent itself and largely in Spanish Historically travel writing about Latin America has been written primarily from the perspective of the foreign often European traveller As such and following the large influx of military scientific and leisure travellers in the region since its colonisation much of this foreign travel writing has depicted the continent in predominantly exoticist and or imperialist terms Lindsay explores how Latin American travellers have conceived and constructed narratives about travel at home and considers how such texts many of them available in English translation or with subtitles function to counter or corroborate long standing myths about the continent Through a series of regionally and thematically oriented case studies that engage with key issues themes and debates in both Latin American and travel studies Lindsay provides the first sustained interdisciplinary study of contemporary domestic travel narratives about the region and will also comprise an important intervention into methodological debates about travel and travel writing

Car and Driver, 1991 You Should Really Write a Book Regina Brooks, Brenda Lane Richardson, 2024-06-04 This is a terrific guide that clearly explains how to take your own story and turn it into a book that readers can't put down Julie Silver MD Chief Editor of Books at Harvard Health Publications If you've ever been told that You should really write a book and you've decided to give it a try this book is for you It hones in on the three key measures necessary for aspiring authors to conceptualize sell and market their memoirs Written especially for those who don't happen to be celebrities You Should Really Write a Book reveals why and how so many relatively unknown memoirists are making a name for themselves With references to more than four hundred books and six memoir categories this is essential reading for anyone wanting to write a commercially viable memoir in today's vastly changing publishing industry

The days are long gone when editors and agents were willing to take on a manuscript simply because it was based on a good idea or even because it was well written. With eyes focused on the bottom line they now look for skilled and creative authors with an established audience too. Brooks and Richardson use the latest social networking marketing and promotional trends and explain how to conceptualize and strategize campaigns that cause buzz dramatically fueling word of mouth and attracting attention in the publishing world and beyond. Full of current examples and in depth analysis this guide explains what sells and why. It teaches writers to think like publishers and offers guidance on dealing with complicated emotions essential tools for maximizing memoir success.

Lost Angel Walkabout Linda Ballou, 2011-09 Lost Angel Walkabout One Traveler's Tales is a spirited collection of travel narratives recounting the happy mishaps and serendipitous adventures that give travel writer Linda Ballou a sense of wonder and delight. Some of the stories like Falling in the Footsteps of John Muir and Look Both Ways on Small Islands are reflections that might make you glad you stayed home while River Wise could inspire you to toss the TV clicker out the window and to explore our beautiful planet. All of the stories take you to special places where you share the sensual experience of being there without straining one muscle getting altitude sickness or tipping your canoe. This is an eclectic mix of tales filled with chills spills giggles and squeaks.

Gender, Genre, and Identity in Women's Travel Writing Kristi Siegel, 2004 Women experience and portray travel differently. Gender matters irreducibly and complexly. Building on recent scholarship in women's travel writing these provocative essays not only affirm the impact of gender but also cast women's journeys against coordinates such as race class culture religion economics politics and history. The book's scope is unique. Women travelers extend in time from Victorian memsahibs to contemporary road girls and topics range from Anna Leonowens's slanted portrayal of Siam later popularized in the movie The King and I to current feminist descripting of the male road buddy genre. The extensive array of writers examined includes Nancy Prince Frances Trollope Cameron Tuttle Lady Mary Montagu Catherine Oddie Kate Karko Frances Calderon de la Barca Rosamond Lawrence Zilpha Elaw Alexandra David Neel Amelia Edwards Erica Lopez Paule Marshall Bharati Mukherjee and Marilynne Robinson.
