Subverting the Empire Paul Genoni,2004 This paper examines the way in which contemporary Australian novelists use various tropes derived from exploration in order to embellish themes of personal search in their fiction By doing so they have borrowed from the language and myths created by what was essentially an exercise in imperialism and applied them to the quest by individuals in the settler society to find a permanent spiritual home in the new country The exploration imagery proves to be apposite in that just as the empire s hopes were dashed when exploration of the inland was repelled by the barren heart of the continent so too has the metaphysical exploration of the same spaces foundered on uncompromising and withholding landscapes

Unsettling Space Joanne Tompkins,2006-11-08 This study investigates contestations over spatiality in one culturally composite nation Australia where contemporary theatre stages competing cultural and political agendas through space and place Covering a wide range of plays it will have wide appeal for issues of space spatiality and territory in all forms of theatre in all nations

Trigger,Gareth Griffiths,2003-12-01 Disputed Territories investigates the significance of land for contesting cultural identities in comparable settler societies In the regions of Australasia and southern Africa European visions of landscape and nature have engaged with southern hemisphere environments and the cultures of indigenous peoples Amid conflicts over land as a material resource there has also been an intellectual contest over the aesthetic iconic and cultural meanings of natural forms and species Arising from a programme of seminars held at The University of Western Australia this collection of eminent international authors assembles contributions from anthropology geography history and literary studies The combination of diverse methods and theoretical approaches establishes the ways that land and nature constitute disputed territories in the mind as well as material resources subject to pragmatic negotiations

Roads, Tourism and Cultural History Rosemary Kerr,2018-12-20 Roads and road tourism loom large in the Australian imagination as distance and mobility have shaped the nation s history and culture but roads are more than simply transport routes they embody multiple layers of history mythology and symbolism Drawing on Australian travel writing diaries and manuscripts tourism literature fiction poetry and feature films this book explores how Australians have experienced and imagined roads and road touring beyond urban settings from Aboriginal songlines to modern day road trips It also tells the stories of iconic roads including the Birdsville Track Stuart Highway and Great Ocean Road and suggests alternative approaches to heritage and tourism interpretation of these important routes The ongoing impact of the colonial past on Indigenous peoples and contemporary Australian society and culture including representations of the road and road travel is explored throughout the book The volume offers a new way of thinking about roads and road tourism as important strands in a nation s cultural fabric

The Planetary Clock Paul Giles,2021 Ranging over various aesthetic forms literature film music in the period since

1960 this volume brings an antipodean perspective into conversation with the art and culture of the Northern Hemisphere to reformulate postmodernism as a properly global phenomenon Rewriting God Elaine Lindsay, 2021-11-22 Women are rarely if ever mentioned in commentaries upon Australian Christianity and spirituality Only exceptional women are recognized as authorities on religious matters Why is this so Does it matter Don't people from the same religious tradition share similar experiences of the divine regardless of their gender Rewriting God asks whether women have been writing about the divine and whether their insights are different from those contained in malestream accounts of Australian Christianity and spirituality An analysis of the writings of popular theologians and religious commentators over the last twenty years suggests that the most popular form of spirituality among Australian theologians is Desert Spirituality An analysis of women's autobiographical writings however suggests that the desert is irrelevant to many women's spiritual experiences This book through a close investigation of the fictions of Thea Astley Elizabeth Jolley and Barbara Hanrahan attempts to posit alternative forms of women's spirituality and to signal ways in which this spirituality is already being expressed From the evidence gathered here it becomes obvious that traditional expressions of Australian Christianity and spirituality are gender specific and that they have functioned to deny women's religious experiences and to silence their claims to equality in the sight and service of the divine It becomes obvious too that women have been developing their own forms of religious expression and that these may be expected to supplant gradually withering images of Desert Spirituality Whether this new imagery will strengthen Australian Christianity or whether it merely marks a decline in the authority of Christianity remains a moot point
