the Highlands Mai Lin Tjoa-Bonatz, 2019-11-07 This book analyses the rise of the settlement system in the heartland of the Minangkabau region in the highlands of West Sumatra Indonesia It explores the regional settlement pattern arising from Adityavarman's highland interregnum c 1347-75 and provides the first attempt to place the archaeological remains and the landscape of Tanah Datar a fertile plain in the highlands of West Sumatra in a cultural historic synthesis The core of this research consisted of excavations at Bukit Gombak and Bukit Kincir Bukit Gombak was a central place in Adityavarman's kingdom and provides evidence of the organization and material development of this political entity Surveys uncovered other settlements that could be examined in relation to each other and to sites from earlier and later periods and used to sketch out the settlement history of Tanah Datar from prehistoric times to the colonial period The book consists of detailed studies of metal ceramics and glass finds by laboratory based specialists as well as careful descriptions of stone clay and other finds

Fieldwork in Humanities Education in Singapore Teddy Y.H. Sim, Hwee Hwang Sim, 2021-02-20 This book addresses the topic of humanities education fieldwork using the Singapore context as its primary focus It explores how the thought processes behind and techniques of various humanities and social sciences subjects can be applied to fieldwork in a variety of school and training settings In addition it discusses how humanities students and educators could stand to benefit from utilizing fieldwork techniques and skills used in archaeology and anthropology beyond undergraduates majoring in that discipline Finally the adoption of multidisciplinary approaches in fieldwork incorporating history geography literature and social studies demonstrate how these subjects can collaborate together in actual case studies to facilitate participants learning in the field The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology Alexis Catsambis, Ben Ford, Donny L. Hamilton, 2011-04-01 The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology is a comprehensive survey of the field as seen through the eyes of nearly fifty scholars at a time when maritime archaeology has established itself as a mature branch of archaeology. This volume draws on many of the distinct and universal aspects of maritime archaeology, bringing them together under four main themes: the research process, ships and shipwrecks, maritime and nautical culture, and issues of preservation and management. The first section of the book deals with the best practices for locating, documenting, excavating, and analyzing submerged sites. This methodological foundation is followed by a sample of shipwreck studies from around the world, as scholars trace the regional development of ships and seafaring. Chosen to balance the traditional core regions of maritime archaeology with important but lesser studied areas, it aims at offering an international account of the study of submerged sites. Reflecting the growing number of scholars who study past maritime cultures but not shipwrecks, the third section of the book addresses various aspects of the maritime landscape and ethnography above and below the water. The final chapters then approach maritime archaeology in a broader context, moving beyond archaeological sites to discuss the archaeological record in general, within legal preservation and management frameworks. Taken together, these individual and original articles provide a valuable resource that summarizes the current state of the field of maritime archaeology and offers insight into the future of this established and growing discipline.

Bujangga Manik Alexander Joseph West, 2025-05-26 Bujangga Manik is a narrative poem in Old Sundanese which opens a window onto the world of late 15th century maritime Southeast Asia. The poem describes the spiritual development of a young man from Pakacilan in what is now West Java as he walks and sails across and around Java and Bali, culminating with his death in a mountainside hermitage and ascension to heaven. This volume is an exemplary edition of Bujangga Manik, complete with a revised transliteration, a new English translation, detailed descriptions of the manuscript script and language, and an extensive commentary on the poem's contents from its setting and characters to its descriptions of ocean-going ships, houses, furniture, perfumes, and much else.

Archaeology of East Asian Shipbuilding Jun Kimura, 2016-04-12 North American Society for Oceanic History John Lyman Book Award in Naval and Maritime Reference Works and Published Primary Sources Honorable Mention In this innovative study, Jun Kimura integrates historical data with archaeological findings to examine a wide array of eleventh through nineteenth century ships from China, Korea, and Japan. Chinese junks and Japanese sailing ships were known throughout the world, and this work illustrates why their innovative designs have survived the centuries. Kimura presents an extensive dataset of excavated coastal and ocean-going ships that traveled the Yellow Sea, the East China Sea, and the South China Sea. Three detailed case studies include the Shinan and Quanzhou wrecks and the Takashima underwater site. Using travel documents, cargo manifests, iconographic paintings, and other descriptive resources, as well as the archaeological evidence of hull components, wooden timbers, and iron remains, Kimura sheds new light on East Asian shipbuilding traditions.
