DeLeon,2019-03-21 In this book DeLeon presents a critique of neoliberalism and present times through a metaphor of social collapse and considers what remains once the dust has settled for a different kind of person to emerge Engaging a variety of social political and educational theories along with pop culture and literature DeLeon positions humanity at the edges of collapse and what will emerge after the fall Engaging academic and fictional alternatives he imagines future possibilities through a new kind of person that rises from the rubble Questioning the foundations of empiricism standardization and reproducible results that reject new forms of social and political projects from materializing DeLeon discusses the potentials of the imagination and the ways in which it can produce alternative possibilities for our collective future when unleashed and combined with fictional narratives Moving across multiple intellectual philosophical artistic and historical traditions he constructs a radical interdisciplinary vision that challenges us to think about transforming our collective future s one in which we construct a new kind of person ready to tackle the challenges of a potentially liberatory future and what this might entail The Nets of Modernism Maud

Ellmann,2010-09-30 One of the finest literary critics of her generation Maud Ellmann synthesises her work on modernism psychoanalysis and Irish literature in this important new book In sinuous readings of Henry James James Joyce and Virginia Woolf she examines the interconnections between developing technological networks in modernity and the structures of modernist fiction linking both to Freudian psychoanalysis The Nets of Modernism examines the significance of images of bodily violation and exchange scar bite wound and their psychic equivalents showing how these images correspond to vampirism and related obsessions in early twentieth century culture Subtle original and a pleasure to read this 2010 book offers a fresh perspective on the inter implications of Freudian psychoanalysis and Anglophone modernism that will influence the field for years to come What I Don't Know about Animals Jenny Diski,2011-01-01

What does novelist essayist and memoirist Jenny Diski know about animals She wasn't really sure as she began to write this book and she may not be sure now But of this she is certain our relationships with and attitudes toward animals are really worth thinking about In What I Don't Know About Animals she shows why Diski sets out on her wide ranging investigation by remembering the stuffed cuddly creatures from her childhood the animal books she read the cartoons she watched the strays she found She considers the animals who have lived and still live with her most especially Bunty the cat animals she has encountered close up and those she has feared She examines human beings too and how they have looked at studied treated and written about the non human creatures of our shared planet Ranging still further the author interviews scientists discusses Derrida and his cat and observes elephants in Kenya always seeking the key to the complex relationship we in the modern West have with animals Subtle intelligent and always engaging this book is a brilliant exploration of what it means to be human and what it means to be animal and the uncertainty of what we can know about either Science in Modern Poetry John Holmes,2012-01-01
