Cook, 2017-07-05 This volume deals with aspects of genocide in Rwanda and Cambodia that have been largely unexplored to date including the impact of regional politics and the role played by social institutions in perpetrating genocide Although the story of the Cambodian genocide of 1975 1979 and that of the Rwandan genocide of 1994 have been written about in detail most have focused on how the genocides took place what the ideas and motives were that led extremist factions to attempt to kill whole sections of their country's population and who their victims were This volume builds on our understanding of genocide in Cambodia and Rwanda by bringing new issues sources and approaches into focus The chapters in this book are grouped so that a single theme is explored in both the Cambodian and Rwandan contexts their ordering is designed to facilitate comparative analysis The first three chapters emphasize the importance of political discourse in the genocidal process Chapters 4 and 5 examine social institutions and explore their role in the genocidal process Chapters 6 and 7 describe the military trajectories of the genocidal regimes in Cambodia and Rwanda after their overthrow showing that genocide and genocidal intents as a political program do not cease the moment the massacres subside The final chapters deal with private and public efforts to memorialize the genocides in the months and years following the killing Drawing on ten years of genocide studies at Yale this excellent anthology assembles high quality new research from a variety of continents disciplines and languages It will be an important addition to ongoing research on genocide      Red Internationalism Salar Mohandesi, 2023-02-23 Shows how human rights displaced anti imperialism as the dominant framework for changing the world in the 1960s and 1970s

Cultures at War Tony Day, Maya H. T. Liem, 2018-08-06 The Cold War in Southeast Asia was a many faceted conflict driven by regional historical imperatives as much as by the contest between global superpowers The essays in this book offer the most detailed and probing examination to date of the cultural dimension of the Cold War in Southeast Asia Southeast Asian culture from the late 1940s to the late 1970s was primarily shaped by a long standing search for national identity and independence which took place in the context of intense rivalry between the United States and the Soviet Union with the Peoples Republic of China emerging in 1949 as another major international competitor for influence in Southeast Asia Based on fieldwork in Burma Indonesia Laos Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Thailand and Vietnam the essays in this collection analyze the ways in which art literature film theater spectacle physical culture and the popular press represented Southeast Asian responses to the Cold War and commemorated that era's violent conflicts long after tensions had subsided Southeast Asian cultural reactions to the Cold War involved various solutions to the dilemmas of the newly independent nation states of the region What is common to all of the perspectives and works examined in this book is that they expressed social and aesthetic concerns that both antedated and outlasted the Cold War ones that never became simply aligned with the ideologies of either bloc Contributors Francisco B Benitez University of Washington Bo Bo Burmese writer SOAS University of London Michael Bodden University of Victoria Simon Creak Australian National University Gaik Cheng Khoo Australian National University Rachel Harrison SOAS University of London Barbara Hatley University of Tasmania Boitran Huynh Beattie Asiartha Foundation Jennifer Lindsay Australian National University

Experiments with Marxism-Leninism in Cold War Southeast Asia Matthew Galway, Marc H. Opper, 2022-09-21 One of the most contentious theatres of the global conflict between capitalism and communism was Southeast Asia From the 1920s until the end of the Cold War the region was racked by international and internal wars that claimed the lives of millions and fundamentally altered societies in the region for generations Most of the 11 countries that compose Southeast Asia were host to the development of sizable communist parties that actively and sometimes violently contested for political power These parties were the object of fierce repression by European colonial powers post independence governments and the United States Southeast Asia communist parties were also the object of a great deal of analysis both during and after these conflicts This book brings together a host of expert scholars many of whom are either Southeast Asia based or from the countries under analysis to present the most expansive and comprehensive study to date on ideological and practical experiments with Marxism Leninism in Southeast Asia The bulk of this edited volume presents the contents of these revolutionary ideologies on their own terms and their transformations in praxis by using primary source materials that are free of the preconceptions and distortions of counterinsurgent narratives A unifying strength of this work is its focus on using primary sources in the original languages of the insurgents themselves      The Price of War Nigel Thrift,Dean Forbes,2012-11-12 Much rare material is incorporated in this unique account of urbanization in a developing country that was ravaged by war for twenty years With due emphasis on the experience of Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City Saigon the authors present an account of what happened to the towns and cities of Vietnam between the establishment of Ho Chi Minh s socialist state in 1954 and the mid 1980s The story is introduced through a general theoretical and empirical account of urbanization in socialist Third World countries The book stresses the importance of the turmoil created by warfare in directing urbanization but it also refers to the more conventionally studied determinants of the process such as the institution of a planned economy As one of the few books highlighting the impact of warfare on urban settlements The Price of War will interest all those interested in urbanization development and South East Asia This book was first published in 1986
