Reference Services And Technical Services Interactions In Library Practice:

Reference Services and Technical Services Gordon Stevenson, Sally Stevenson, 2019-12-05 This book first published in 1984 analyses the provision of more effective library service by relying more heavily on collaboration between reference and technical services librarians

Reference Services in the Humanities Judy Reynolds, 1994-11-11 This helpful book provides practical insight into the work and environment of reference services in the humanities Librarian s mental maps of humanities reference materials must include an awareness of the metaphoric not too precise nature of many patrons queries

Reference Services in the Humanities discusses the structure of literature in the humanities and how it matches or challenges mental images of the field Chapters are infused with the issues of language names and meaning within a metaphoric genre The book serves as a guide to humanist s use of metaphoric language and also as a bibliography of sources

Reference Services in the Humanities contains specific references for finding materials in areas that are not traditional mainstream arts This sample of disciplines provides case studies depicting each field s particular idiosyncrasies Chapters examine the challenge of referral reference and common problems encountered in searching for answers to patrons questions The book contains a theoretical framework for interacting with patrons and addresses options for humanities reference in an electronic age This book brings together librarians and researchers who provide and manage reference services to a wide array of disciplines within the humanities Authors come from all types of libraries and represent a broad spectrum of patrons from the young student curious about the movies to practicing musicians and craftspersons This diversity provides an informative grounding for practitioners and library school students and faculty who wish to become effective reference librarians in the future

Reference Services in the Humanities is divided into four sections which address research questions and challenges in selected disciplines descriptions from the field political issues in the humanities and theories and ideas for the future Specific topics explored include access to special collections censorship library resources for theater artists history research vocabulary control labeling of minorities craft information sources and much more

School Library Reference Services in the 90s Carol Truett, 1994 Here is a succinct update on school library reference services for the busy practitioner or student Exploring the state and state of the art of school library reference services in the 1990s this book provides an overview of current information skills teaching models the impact of new technologies on the teaching of reference and the student search process and assessment and evaluation models for gauging the success of school reference services

School Library Reference Services in the 90s is an informative guide for school media coordinators and specialists library science graduate students and professors and researchers in the field to help them understand what students must learn and what teachers must teach to keep everyone up to date in the fast changing world of reference

School Library Reference Services in the 90s is divided into three sections that cover reference research teaching models technology and evaluation Topics in the first section include an examination of the current state of affairs in reference teaching a look at various models for integrating library research and reference skills into the curricula and discussions of the effects of these new models on the school librarian's role. Section two addresses the profound effect new technologies such as CD ROM multimedia CD I and CD TV are having on both the teaching of reference and information skills and on the entire research process from initiation to production of the final student report. The last section presents three models for assessing the effectiveness of school reference services and skills instruction. School library reference services and particularly library instruction are changing dramatically in the 1990s as a result of the information age. School Library Reference Services in the 90s helps professionals in the field stay abreast of current developments and be more effective in their jobs.

Reference Service Expertise William A. Katz, 1993. This important volume presents a wealth of practical ideas for improving the art of reference librarianship. Reference Service Expertise provides pragmatic ways for librarians to aid patrons, consider reference collections and how they are employed and assess various technologies in reference work. Dedicated to the idea that reference service is a benevolent desire to help the sometimes puzzled library user, this unique book describes numerous and varied means to that end and encourages reference librarians to become familiar with the multiple resources available in modern libraries. Reference Service Expertise pinpoints specific areas in which librarians can increase their knowledge in order to become more efficient. These strategies include using a systems approach in reference instruction for library professionals, guidelines for academic librarians to use for evaluating facilities, services and staff as to how effectively they welcome users and validate their information needs, using team teaching to instruct users about library services, developing legal reference skills to support the constitutional right to know in a self governing society and helping non science librarians to become science literate by reading popular science literature, watching science television programs, visiting science museums and generally increasing their awareness of the problem of science illiteracy among the general population. A wide variety of resources available in today's reference libraries are discussed to help librarians become better informed about the options available to their patrons including ERIC and NTIS and the information gap between the two databases, resources on the evolving market economy or investments in the Commonwealth of Independent States, fee based services, PsycLIT CD ROM, PsycINFO online and the difference in retrieval patterns using the same vocabulary of terms, interactive media centers, advantages and shortcomings. Reference librarians in all types of libraries will benefit from chapters that describe specific methods for improving their own personal effectiveness as well as chapters that evaluate specific services and reference tools available for reference library users.

Social Science Reference Services Pam M. Baxter, 1995. This new book addresses reference services across the spectrum of the social sciences. Chapters embrace a multidisciplinary approach to providing both materials and services to users and stress the variety of information formats available through a bewildering array of delivery mechanisms from an astounding number of sources. Among the topics addressed are challenges of the automated environment, dissertation development, improving the handling of business reference queries, user education.
