Reflections In Literature:

Reflections on Literature and Culture Hannah Arendt, Susannah Young-ah Gottlieb, 2007 This is the first volume in any language that collects Hannah Arendt's remarkable series of essays and notes on literary figures and cultural questions
Reflections in Literature, 1974 Pretexts André Gide, 1869-1951 Gide, 2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Reflections of Fantasy Beverly Lyon Clark, 1986 In Victorian England non realistic fiction was largely forced underground with Alice into such marginal fiction as fantasy for children Only now is fantasy beginning to receive the attention it deserves in both fiction and literary criticism Beverly Lyon Clark's Reflections of Fantasy extends recent theoretical work on fantasy by exploring the technique of the mirror world Tracing the fantasy mirror world in Carroll Nabokov and Pynchon allows Clark to shed light on the dialectic central to fantasy that between the real and the not real and also on Victorian and contemporary views of fictional reality on the use of metaphoric and metonymic modes on the ramifications of self consciousness She explores these themes in analyses of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland Through the Looking Glass Anya v strane chudes Pale Fire Ada and The Crying of Lot 49

Self-reflection in Literature, 2019-12-16 Self reflection is fundamental for human thinking on many levels Philosophy has described the mind's capacity to observe itself as a core element of human existence Political and social sciences have shown how modern democracies depend on society's ability to critically reflect on their own values and practices And literature of all ages has proven self reflexivity to be a crucial trait of cultural production This volume provides the first diachronic panorama of genres forms and functions of literary self reflection and their connections with social political and philosophical discourses from the 17th century to the present Far beyond the usual focus on postmodernist opacity these contributions present a rich tradition of critical transparency Literary texts that show us what is behind and beyond them

Pretexts Andre Gide, 2017-07-05 Most of Andre Gide's richly varied literary output has long been available to American readers Only one aspect of his protean career has been lacking in translation the essays the publication of which will go far to explain why Gide holds in France such high rank as a critic Many of the essays in Pretexts Reflections on Literature and Morality were provoked by events in the cultural and political world of twentieth century France a turbulent setting that produced a lasting literature These essays are vintage Gide informed by his characteristic spirit his hard brilliance pointed honesty and the enduring relevance of his concerns Readers of his Journals will be prepared for the style intelligence and marksmanship that Gide brings to bear in these forty two articles on life as well as on letters His range as always is broad a long and moving memoir of his encounters with Oscar Wilde a series of combats against reactionary nationalists and self appointed purifiers of morals estimates of Mallarme Baudelaire Proust Gautier and Valery among others letters to Jacques Riviere Jean Cocteau and Francis Jammes and general essays on art literature the theater and politics Justin O Brien famous for his studies in modern French literature has written that Gide is related to La Fontaine and Racine by his essential conciseness and crystalline style to Montaigne and Goethe by his inquiring mind which reconciled unrest and serenity to Baudelaire by his lucid prophetic criticism O Brien who has done so much to bring contemporary French literature to America supervised the translations in Pretexts Reflections on Literature and Morality prepared several of them himself and contributes an informative general introduction and additional commentary to preface the various sections of this major book

Dictionary of the Political Thought of the People's Republic of China Henry Yuhuai He, 2016-07-22 Far more than a simple glossary this unique resource provides a detailed lexicography of political and social life in China today and deepens our understanding of the last twenty years of enormous change in the People s Republic Each of the 1 600 entries 1 is rendered in Chinese characters 2 is alphabetized according to pinyin the Chinese phonetic alphabet 3 is translated into English and 4 is explained in terms of the situation in which it first appeared and how its meaning shifted over time In addition to the main body of definitions and annotations there are three appendices abbreviations a name index and a bibliography

The Renewal of Literature Richard Poirier, 1988 Of what use is literature to daily life Why do writers exaggerate its cultural political and social importance What is its overall value given that most people have never been able to comprehend it at all Just what is literature and why does it seem it must be less intelligible than other kinds of writing These are among the fundamental questions posed by Richard Poirier the highly renowned American critic in this strikingly original lucid and tough minded book Treating works of literature as in Emerson s words tokens of the everlasting effort to produce exploiting the idea that there are hidden similarities between technology and literary production Poirer extends and enriches the Emersonian tradition Jacket flap Academy and Literature Charles Edward Cutts Birch Appleton, Charles Edward Doble, James Sutherland Cotton, Charles Lewis Hind, William Teignmouth Shore, Alfred Bruce Douglas, Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, Thomas William Hodgson Crosland, 1881 The School Review , 1907 Unpartizan Review , 1916 The Analytical Review, Or History of Literature, Domestic and Foreign, on an Enlarged Plan , 1794 Containing scientific abstracts of important and interesting works published in English a general account of such as are of less consequence with short characters notices or reviews of valuable foreign books criticisms on new pieces of music and works of art and the literary intelligence of Europe c

Reflections in Literature Philip James McFarland, 1974 Reflections on Literature and Culture Hannah Arendt, 2022 As one of the foremost public intellectuals of the twentieth century Hannah Arendt is well known for her writings on political philosophy Less familiar are her significant contributions to cultural and literary criticism This edition brings together for the first time Arendt s reflections on literature and culture The essays include previously unpublished and untranslated material drawn from half a century of engagement with the works of European and American authors poets journalists and literary critics including such diverse figures as Proust Melville Auden and Brecht Intended for a wide readership this volume has the potential to change our view of Arendt by introducing her not only as one of the leading political theorists of her generation but also as a serious committed and highly original literary and cultural critic Gottlieb s introduction ties the work together showing how Arendt developed a form of literary and cultural analysis that is entirely her own The New Public Service, Expanded Edition Janet Vinzant Denhardt, 2007 Provides a framework for the many voices calling for the reaffirmation of democratic values citizenship and service in the public interest This edition includes a chapter that addresses the practical issues of applying these ideals in actual real life situations Teaching Literature as

Reflective Practice Kathleen Blake Yancey, 2004 Teaching Literature as Reflective Practice speaks to all those teachers who teach the gen ed literature course that their students must take to complete a general education or core curriculum requirement These students the 95 percent who are not English majors are the students we hope will become active and reflective members of a reading public Given this goal Kathleen Blake Yancey outlines a course located in reflective practice and connected to readings in the world The course invites students to theorize about their own reading practices about how literature is made and about texts and their relationships to culture more generally Such a course also encourages students to think about what places and occasions in the world are poetic about the role of not understanding in coming to understand literature and about technological forms of literacy such as multimedia pop ups that link associatively to multiple contexts In addition to cogent reflections on the realities of lived delivered and experienced curricula Yancey defines illustrates and analyzes two kinds of literature portfolio print and electronic and shows how each fosters a particular kind of learning and leads to specific assessment practices Second Thoughts ,1961
