The Reformation of Historical Thought Mark A. Latin Literatures of Medieval and Early Modern Times in Europe and Beyond Francesco Stella, Lucie Doležalová, Danuta Shanzer, 2024-07-15 The textual heritage of Medieval Latin is one of the greatest reservoirs of human culture Repertories list more than 16 000 authors from about 20 modern countries Until now there has been no introduction to this world in its full geographical extension Forty contributors fill this gap by adopting a new perspective making available to specialists but also to the interested public new materials and insights The project presents an overview of Medieval and post medieval Latin Literatures as a global phenomenon including both Europe and extra European regions It serves as an introduction to medieval Latin's complex and multi-layered culture whose attraction has been underestimated until now Traditional overviews mostly flatten specificities yet in many countries medieval Latin literature is still studied with reference to the local history Thus the first section presents 20 regional surveys including chapters on authors and works of Latin Literature in Eastern Central and Northern Europe Africa the Middle East Asia and the Americas Subsequent chapters highlight shared patterns of circulation adaptation and exchange and underline the appeal of medieval intermediality as evidenced in manuscripts maps scientific treatises and iconotexts and its performativity in narrations theatre sermons and music The last section deals with literary interfaces that is motifs or characters that exemplify the double sided or the long term transformations of medieval Latin mythologemes in vernacular culture both early modern and modern such as the legends about King Arthur Faust and Hamlet A Short History of the Renaissance in Northern Europe Malcolm Vale,2020-04-02 The concept of a Northern European Renaissance in the arts in thought and in more general culture north of the Alps often evokes the idea of a cultural transplant which was not indigenous to or rooted in the society from which it emerged Classic definitions of the European Renaissance during the 14th 15th and 16th centuries have often seen it as an Italian import of for example humanism and classical learning into the Gothic North There were certainly differences between North and South which have to be addressed not least in the development of the visual arts In this book Malcolm Vale argues for a Northern Renaissance which while cognisant of Italian developments had a life of its own expressed through such innovations as a rediscovery of pictorial space and representational realism and which displayed strong continuities with the indigenous cultures of northern Europe But it also contributed new movements and tendencies in thought the visual arts literature religious beliefs and the dissemination of knowledge which often stemmed from and built upon those continuities A Short History of the Renaissance in Northern Europe while in no way ignoring or diminishing the importance of the Greek and Roman legacy seeks other sources and different uses of classical antiquity for a rather different kind of Renaissance in the North Catalogue of the Library of the Reform Club Reform Club (London),Reform Club (London, England).
