Michener,2013-02-14 Postliberal theology is a movement in contemporary theology that rejects both the Enlightenment appeal to a universal rationality and the liberal assumption of an immediate religious experience common to all humanity The movement initially began in the 1980 s with its association to Yale Divinity School Theologians such as Hans Frei Paul Holmer David Kelsey and George Lindbeck were influential and were significantly influenced by theologians such as Karl Barth Clifford Geertz and Ludwig Wittgenstein Postliberalism uses a narrative approach to theology such as developed by Hans Frei and argues that all thought and experience is historically and socially mediated Michener provide the reader with an accessible introductory overview of the origins current thought potential problems and future possibilities of postliberal theology The basic philosphical and theological background are be briefly discussed along with the seminal and predominant theologians identified with the movement Michener shows how postliberalism emerges from the context of the postmodern critique of Enlightenment rationalism and empiricism Postliberal theology is extremely critical of classical liberal theology rather than an advancement of its agenda Méthod(e)s Jean-Bernard Ouédraogo,2021-08-09 The bilingual French English journal M thod e s founded in 2015 is an African initiative with the objective to enlarge the methodological debates on the Global South The desire for a strong understanding of methodology is to situate it above academic trends thereby placing it in line with a universal history of the sciences Just as calling dominant paradigms into question leaves room for creative opportunities so does the comparison of theoretical approaches and technical models of data collection Questions related to methods are not purely technical or merely philosophical reflections The examination of the method used in scientific investigations necessarily leads us to question the validity and consequences of research results From this point of view the journal M thod e s is not a forum for simple discussions on the mechanics of research but a tool to question social interests influencing academic research and giving it a political function It is also intended to lead to a more critical look at the creation of theories dealing with the status of individuals and societies in Africa and the Global South M thod e s aims to bring into question connect and compare the theoretical technical and political foundations of the social sciences as applied to human societies Each contribution is followed by a summary in the respectively other language In order to ensure a broad intellectual reach the editors reserve the right to include articles written in other languages All the abstracts of the papers are also available in Arabic Chinese and Spanish Seeking the Identity of Jesus Beverly Roberts Gaventa,Richard B. Lineages of the Global City Shiben Banerji, 2025-07-08 The forgotten history of the occult foundations of the early twentieth-century global city. War, revolution, genocide, rebellion, slump. The economic and political turmoil of the early twentieth century seemed destined to rip asunder the ties that bound colonizers and the colonized to one another. The upheaval represented an opportunity, not just to nationalists who imagined new homelands or to socialists who dreamed of international brotherhood. For modernists in the orbit of various occultisms, the crisis of empire also represented an opportunity to reveal humanity's fundamental unity and common fate. Lineages of the Global City recounts a continuous, if also contentious, transnational exchange among modernists and occultists across the Americas, Europe, South Asia, and Australia between 1905 and 1949. At stake were the feelings and affect of a new global subject who would perceive themselves as belonging to humanity as a unified whole and the urban environment that would foster their subjectivity. The interventions in this debate which drew in the period's most renowned modernists took the form of a succession of plans for cities suburbs and communes as well as experiments in building drawing printmaking filmmaking and writing Weaving together postcolonial feminist and Marxist insight on subject formation Shibden Banerji advances a new way of understanding modernist urban space as the design of subjective effects The Railroad Trainman ,1907
