Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James's The Ambassadors to McCarthy's The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distill the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification Dialogism or Interconnectedness in the Work of

Louise Erdrich Marta J. Lysik, 2017-05-11 This study portrays how Louise Erdrich's writing extends Bakhtin's concepts of dialogism and the novel through an investigation of a selection of her works as well as her practices of writing co-writing re-writing and reading novels Erdrich's hallmark dialogic literary style and practice encompasses writing a series of books re-cycling protagonists narrators events themes and settings re-writing previously published novels employing heteroglossia and polyglossia co-authoring texts blogging about books translating different epistemologies for different audiences and spotlighting families as the main thematic concern in dialogue with her own parenting experiences as depicted in her memoirs She writes a growing series of novels compost pile like capitalizing on former novels as well as adding new elements and new stories in the process Thus a dialogic intra-textual microcosm emerges Erdrich suffuses her writing with an incessant quality of changing and becoming Her novels resist closure while protagonists return and demand attention and the author answers dialogically by penning new tales Erdrich's writing can be accessed because it concerns shared human experiences and relationships both their ambivalence and their beauty Erdrich includes instead of alienating sympathizes instead of judging which makes her an internationally acclaimed author with her work crossing topographies epistemologies and identities
