The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth-Century French Literature Alison James, 2020-09-03 The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth Century French Literature identifies a documentary impulse in French literature that emerges at the end of the nineteenth century and culminates in a proliferation of factual writings in the twenty first Focusing on the period bookended by these two moments it highlights the enduring concern with factual reference in texts that engage either with current events or the historical archive Specifically it considers a set of ideas and practices centered on the conceptualization and use of documents In doing so it contests the widespread narrative that twentieth century French literature abandons the realist enterprise and argues that writers instead renegotiate the realist legacy outside or at the margins of the fictional space of the novel Analyzing works by authors including Gide Breton Aragon Yourcenar Duras and Modiano the book defines a specific documentary mode of literary representation that records assembles and investigates material traces of reality The document is a textual visual or material piece of evidence repurposed through its visual insertion textual transcription or description within a literary work It is a fact but it also becomes a figure standing for literature's confrontation with the real The documentary imagination involves a fantasy of direct access to a reality that speaks for itself At the same time it gives rise to concrete textual practices that open up new directions for literature by interrogating the construction and interpretation of facts Travel and Ethics Corinne Fowler, Charles Forsdick, Ludmilla Kostova, 2013-12-13 Despite the recent increase in scholarly activity regarding travel writing and the accompanying proliferation of publications relating to the form its ethical dimensions have yet to be theorized with sufficient rigour Drawing from the disciplines of anthropology linguistics literary studies and modern languages the contributors in this volume apply themselves to a number of key theoretical questions pertaining to travel writing and ethics ranging from travel as commoditization to encounters with minority languages under threat Taken collectively the essays assess key critical legacies from parallel disciplines to the debate so far such as anthropological theory and postcolonial criticism Also considered and of equal significance are the ethical implications of the form's parallel genres of writing such as ethnography and journalism As some of the contributors argue innovations in these genres have important implications for the act of theorizing travel writing itself and the mode and spirit in which it continues to be conducted In the light of such innovations how might ethical theory maintain its critical edge The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research Norman K. La démarche défendue dans ce livre assume que l'éthique n'est pas un savoir bien qu'elle repose sur un savoir. C'est une éthique intégrative de la science, une éthique relative parce qu'elle procède durablement mais non relativiste car elle repose sur des raisons et des alternatives sans cesse valables et discutées, une éthique qui prend le chemin des aventures conceptuelles de la science non pour se faire science elle-même mais pour être suffisamment informée en vue de décrypter les dilemmes que les choix humains affrontent tous les jours. Ali Benmakhlouf, agrégé de philosophie, est professeur à l'Université Paris Est Créteil et membre senior de l'Institut universitaire de France. Le fil directeur de ses recherches est la logique ; il est notamment spécialiste de G. Frege et B. Russell auxquels il a consacré de nombreux ouvrages. Il est actuellement engagé dans les débats sur la bioéthique, notamment dans l'Académie nationale de pharmacie dont il est membre correspondant. Travaux de linguistique et de littérature, 1989.
