Pacific Affairs Volume 48 No 1:

The Moral Democracy Michał Lubina, 2019-03-12 Aung San Suu Kyi spoke passionately about non violence she wrote involved articles about compatibility of democracy with Buddhism and she won the hearts and minds of so many with her call for the freedom from fear It seemed for more than two decades that Suu Kyi was a perfect non Western propagator of democracy human rights rule of law Yet a deeper analysis reveals that Suu Kyi intellectually indeed has been a democrat all along but a Burmese democrat Suu Kyi understands democracy in a Buddhist way and she reasons about politics using Buddhist ideas idioms and concepts This Buddhist dominance of her political thought had several consequences the most important one being that her approach to politics has first and foremost been a moral one her vision of democracy and of politics in general is a moral vision It is something I propose to call the moral democracy The same reason that made her famous and admired worldwide now contributed to her fall from grace For too many outside Burma Myanmar it is impossible to understand how Suu Kyi yesterday s global personification of good and morality can now silently endorse crimes against humanity conducted in her country and accept forced relocation of 700 thousand people A cynic would quote Bertrand Russell s words we have two kinds of morality side by side one which we preach but do not practice and another which we practice but seldom preach and add a commentary that it applies especially to politicians One however may offer a more favourable explanation that Suu Kyi represents a tragic clash of ideas including moral ideas with political reality Whatever the case it was morality that made her famous it was the same moralistic attitude that contributed to her removal from international Olympus and it is this moral understanding of politics that is the hallmark of her political thought which is here to stay for longer as political ideas last longer than changing political circumstances and fashions From the Preface The dramatic fall from grace of Burma s human rights icon Aung San Suu Kyi shocked the world Micha Lubina s magisterial account of Aung San Suu Kyi s political education demystifies the behavior in power of this otherwise enigmatic leader This is the indispensable book for anyone who wants to understand the mind of one of the world s most controversial women Prof Salvatore Babones University of Sydney Dr Micha Lubina known in Poland for portraying Aung San Suu Kyi not as a human rights activist but as a realist politician in the very footsteps of her father now comes out with his research to the international audience Following the example of Mahbubani s Can Asian Think Lubina shows the intellectual and philosophical tradition of Myanmar through the case study of Suu Kyi s political thought It s a unique undertaking that presents Suu Kyi from an unexpected angle as a theoretician and political thinker or sage Both the scope of research done and the material presented are very impressive and rather unique even on international scene Prof Bogdan G ralczyk University of Warsaw Former Ambassador to Myanmar This book is a well documented and well constructed multilayered complex analytical work based on very rich research interviews with Suu Kyi and personal observations of the Author who displays unquestioned analytical skills As such the book represents a pioneer work in Burmese studies Prof Agnieszka

Kuszevska Jagiellonian University in Cracow None of the numerous books and articles that I have read about Daw Aung San Suu Kyi dissects her political thoughts and background as thoroughly as the book written by Dr Micha Lubina He shows the political construction of her character her struggle her idealism her sources of inspiration and her weaknesses It is a necessary publication to read in order to understand historical and contemporary policymaking in today s Burma Dr Marion Sabri University of Rouen Normandy

Triangles, Symbols, and Constraints Charles M. Dobbs,2010 In his five plus years as president of the United States Lyndon Johnson witnessed dramatic power struggles within and between the Soviet Union the People s Republic of China and the United States of America New Soviet leaders were determined to build Soviet power and extend Soviet influence Mao s revolutionary ideology so dominated China that there were few levers to move Sino American relations ahead Johnson wanted to ease Cold War tensions by reaching a range of agreements with the Soviet Union on nuclear weapons and establishing relations with the People s Republic of China in order to end its isolation in the world community However multiple events frustrated Johnson s good intentions The Soviet leadership that overthrew Nikita Khrushchev was committed to expanding its military might before negotiating with Washington it also began focusing more and more on the worsening Sino Soviet split Mao Zedong entered into the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution and China seemed to devour itself Meanwhile the Vietnam War made negotiations among all three great powers more difficult limiting room to maneuver But Johnson persevered and by 1968 the apparent American retreat symbolized by the North Korean seizure of the USS Pueblo and the Communist Tet Offensive in Vietnam along with the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia seemed to change the construct between the great powers Beijing emerging from the worst of the Cultural Revolution increasingly feared Soviet intentions and Moscow wanted to prevent a Sino American rapprochement Although Johnson did not achieve his lofty goals he created the pre conditions that Richard Nixon later harvested for the détente with Moscow and rapprochement with Beijing Johnson's best intentions fell prey to triangles symbols and constraints

Equality in Asia-Pacific Phil C. W. Chan, 2014-02-04 In 1948 the United Nations General Assembly proclaimed the Universal Declaration of Human Rights stating every human being's right of equality in dignity and right However notwithstanding recognition by the international community of its importance and codification in numerous national and sub national constitutions and legislation reinforced by various multilateral and regional human rights treaties the right of equality continues to be unable to take complete firm hold in all regions and countries Evidence as presented by the insightful papers in this collection published initially as a Special Double Issue of The International Journal of Human Rights dedicated to exploring the place of equality in Asia Pacific societies suggests that although progress is being made the right of equality has not yet fully materialized both in law and in reality in the world's most populous region Many factors particularly entrenched cultural heritage and practices the lingering effects of colonialism and newly found independence and above all pervasive ignorance and prejudices continue to impede the recognition development and protection of equality in this region Of course equality a normative right and entitlement by virtue of our humanity has neither been fully achieved in societies outside the region Such neo colonial thinking in fact perpetuates and assists in the subjugation of the right of equality in the Asia Pacific Region as a matter of relevance and concern only to Western countries Accordingly we hope that our discussions will also be able to shed light and generate reflections on realities outside the region as interlinked with our aim The Editor's book fee has been donated to the UNICEF Tsunami Fund This book was previously published as a special issue of The International Journal of Human Rights

Muradi,2014-06-05 How does an authoritarian state reform its police force following a transition to democracy In 1998 Indonesia the third largest country in the world faced just such a challenge Policing had long been managed under the jurisdiction of the military as an instrument of the Suharto regime and with Suharto abruptly removed from office this was about to change Here we see how it changed and how far these changes were for the better Based on direct observations by a scholar who was involved in the last days of the New Order and who saw how the police responded to regime change this book examines the police the new regime and how the police was disassociated from the military in Indonesia Providing a comprehensive historical overview of the position of police in this change of regime the book focuses on two key areas the differences between local and national levels and the politicisation associated with decentralisation Arguing that the disassociation of the Indonesian National Police from the military has achieved only limited success the book contends that there is continued impetus for the establishment of a professional police force and modern and democratic policing which will entail effective public control of the police A pioneering study of the police in Indonesia examining key issues in the post Suharto era this book will be of interest to scholars of Southeast Asian politics and of policing and politics in the developing world The U.S.-Japan Security Alliance T.
