Psychology For Christian Ministry:

Psychology for Christian Ministry Rebecca Nye, Sara Savage, Fraser Watts, 2003-09-02 This introduction to psychology has been devised for those training for and working in the clergy Ideal both as a professional handbook and a textbook it covers social developmental educational occupational and counselling psychology as well as the psychology of religion It carefully considers the processes of personal change and growth central to religion Psychology and the Church Mark R.

McMinn, Amy W. Dominguez, 2005 Today's psychology with increasing openness to spirituality multiple ways of knowing cultural diversity and community emphases and provides a promising context for studying Christian communities And today's church with increasing reliance on technology and science growing engagement with contemporary culture and a willingness to elevate various Christian psychologists to a near prophetic role may be more open to the influence of psychology than ever before This book highlights exemplars who are blending the strengths of the church with the skills of psychology in applied settings to promote psychology and spiritual health The volume is divided into five sections The first section includes three survey and interview studies assessing psychologists and clergy perspectives on collaboration Each of remaining sections is comprised of three to six vignettes demonstrating how psychologists are working with the church organised by congregation based collaboration clinically focused collaboration research focused collaboration and community focused collaboration

Psychological Perspectives on Christian Ministry Leslie J. Francis, Susan H. Jones, 1996 Counseling and Mental Health in the Church: The Role of Pastors and the Ministry Kevin Van Lant, Robyn Bettenhausen, 2019-03-04 Featuring chapters written by mental health professionals who are also experienced Christian practitioners Counseling and Mental Health in the Church The Role of Pastors and the Ministry provides ministry leaders with a foundational understanding of common mental health issues typical approaches to treatment and sage advice for supporting those experiencing mental health concerns Recognizing that parishioners may seek guidance from pastors or others within the church before seeking help from mental health specialists this text equips ministry leaders with the critical knowledge and helpful resources they need to successfully support and advise members of their congregation or to direct them to additional useful resources Individual chapters address specific concerns including depression anxiety PTSD grief addiction spectrum disorders and more Each chapter explores how a particular condition may manifest how best to respond to it potential treatment options and resources to provide to affected individuals Additional chapters distill the complex world of psychopharmacology as well as a focus on pastoral health in the face of responding to the demands of ministry Containing real world examples and case studies to bridge the gap between knowledge and application Counseling and Mental Health in the Church is an ideal resource for pre service and seasoned ministry leaders alike As a result readers will find that they are better informed and better equipped to face day to day challenges Kevin Van Lant received his Ph D from Rosemead School of Psychology Biola University He is director of the Pastoral Care and Counseling program and an associate professor of Christian ministry and leadership at Talbot School of Theology Biola University Dr Van Lant is a licensed clinical psychologist and maintains a private practice at the Center for Individual and Family Therapy Robyn Bettenhausen received her Psy D from Rosemead School of Psychology Biola University She is a licensed psychologist and practices at the Center for Individual and Family Therapy Dr Bettenhausen has over 30 years of experience in the profession with expertise in severe relational issues trauma and attachment problems and internal disintegration She is the author of The Relational Brain Psychology and Christianity Eric L. Johnson, 2009-08-20 How are Christians to understand and undertake the discipline of psychology This question has been of keen interest because of the importance we place on a correct understanding of human nature This collection of essays edited by Eric Johnson and Stanton Jones offers four different models for the relationship between Christianity and psychology

The Science of Virtue Mark R. McMinn, 2017-08-22 The church and science have drifted apart over the past century Today the church is often deemed irrelevant by those who trust science and science is often deemed irrelevant by those whose primary loyalties are to the church However this book shows that the new science of virtue the field of positive psychology can serve as a bridge point between science and the church and can help renew meaningful conversation In essence positive psychology examines how ordinary people can become happier and more fulfilled Mark McMinn clarifies how positive psychology can complement Christian faith and promote happiness and personal flourishing In addition he shows how the church can help strengthen positive psychology McMinn brings the church's experience and wisdom on six virtues humility forgiveness gratitude grace hope and wisdom into conversation with intriguing scientific findings from positive psychology Each chapter includes a section addressing Christian counselors who seek to promote happiness and fulfillment in others

Psychology and the Church Dave Hunt, T. A. McMahon, 2016-10-01 Christian Psychology an oxymoron While prominent Christians embrace psychotherapy acclaimed secular psychologists acknowledge that it is in fact a religious practice under the guise of medical science So common is the use of psychotherapy among Christians today that many pastors themselves are either licensed therapists or are the greatest source of referrals to professional counselors In addition the study of psychology has become the number two career choice for all college students in fact the popularity of this science of the soul is even greater among those enrolled in Christian colleges universities and seminaries from coast to coast Some of the critical questions and crucial answers this book explores include From what ancient philosophical roots does psychology originate and what are its modern fruits Is psychology truly a scientific means by which the spiritual issues of mankind may be addressed What does God's Word prescribe as a remedy for the social ills of our culture and is that alone sufficient for the Body of Christ Can Christians effectively minister using Scripture and prayer by power of the Holy Spirit or is professional training required Is it possible for believers in Christ to eat the fish and spit out the bones with regard to psychology's foundation in secular humanism Can the mystic and occultic methodologies employed by secular psychotherapists be sanctified for practice by Christian counselors Does the wisdom of psychology point to the narrow way of biblical Christianity or toward the broad path that leads to destruction What understanding of Self can psychology bring to light that Scripture cannot The purpose of this book is not to attack or condemn evangelicals who are either practicing psychotherapists or those who have been helped by what is commonly called Christian Psychology Rather this volume acknowledges the value of believers bearing one another's burdens through prayer fellowship and the Word of God

Assessment for Counseling in Christian Perspective Stephen P. Greggo, 2019-03-19 Assessment in counseling is an ongoing and dynamic routine to encourage movement in a productive direction toward what is truly best In this Christian perspective on assessment Stephen P Greggo equips counselors to put assessment techniques into practical use charting a course for care that brings best practices of the profession together with practices of Christian discipleship

The Professionalization of Pastoral Care T. Dale Johnson, 2020-07-21 When the organization and structure of the church in America was altered in the early 1900s to meet modern demands the role of the pastorate became more specialized to adapt to the burdens of the new efficient structure In 1920 Gaines Dobbins utilized the business efficiency model at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary to formulate a distinct ecclesiology Discontent with traditional methods of instruction in theological education Dobbins sought to implement theories and methodologies from modern educationalists He adopted a psychologized educational methodology and utilized the psychology of religion as an empirical measure of the soul human nature and human behavior Use of the social sciences seemed to grant Dobbins as a practitioner academic respectability within the realm of theological education Both the professionalization that resulted from Dobbins s efficiency standards and a working theory of human nature derived from psychological models were synthesized into a specialized system of pastoral care Dobbins followed the new shape of pastoral theology in America adopting Clinical Pastoral Education CPE as the model for pastoral training As a result CPE became an integral part of the curriculum at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary for over sixty years and spread to influence many other SBC entities

Christ-Centered Therapy Neil T. Anderson, Terry E. Zuehlke, Julie Zuehlke, 2009-08-30 Depending on whom you ask the term Christian counseling can mean anything from secular psychology practiced by a Christian to biblical counseling that completely shuns psychological insights Christ Centered Therapy thoroughly integrates psychology and practical theology A book written by experts from both fields it utilizes the contributions of science in an uncompromisingly biblical framework Here at last is a powerful resource to help you pastor counselor or spiritual advisor understand the complex problems of people and address them with the wisdom of God's Word and the power of his Spirit Insightful and practical Christ Centered Therapy unites the wisdom and expertise of pastoral theologian and best selling author Dr Neil Anderson and professional Christian counselors Dr Terry and Julianne Zuehlke The first part of the book equips you with an understanding of the different issues involved in integrating theology and psychology The second part helps you turn theory into practical application You'll also find appendixes that offer personal testimonies provide professional forms discuss the role of psychiatry in managed care and present the Steps to Freedom in Christ

Person to Person Ministry Martin Bobgan, Deidre Bobgan, 2009-04 Person to Person Ministry is about a Christ centered approach to nurture the spiritual life of Christian believers and to equip them to fight the good fight of faith and thereby confront problems of living through exercising faith in Christ and in the Word of God This book reveals the innate sinfulness of problem centered counseling shows how it leads Christians into feeding the flesh and quenching the Spirit and gives reasons why Christians must abandon the problem centered approach In person to person soul care we urge believers to do three things 1 abandon problem centeredness 2 embrace the biblical truth about the role of problems 3 encourage one another to become Christ centered on a daily basis We pray that this book will encourage those in the church who are maturing in the faith through the trials of life and walking daily in the Lord to minister to others as needs and opportunities arise
