Re Imagining Rwanda Conflict Survival And Disinformation In The Late Twentieth Century:

Re-Imagining Rwanda Johan Pottier, 2002-09-26 Pottier examines how a persuasive analysis of the situation in Rwanda exacerbated the original crisis

A Biographical Encyclopedia of Contemporary Genocide Paul R. Bartrop, 2012-07-06 This book documents the devastating effects of genocide in the world's most destructive human environments since the end of World War II and explores why such events still occur

A Biographical Encyclopedia of Contemporary Genocide Portraits of Evil and Good is a unique study of humanity's most reprehensible actions. It documents genocides that have occurred after World War II, a period that was supposed to be the fulfillment of the promise never again, by providing biographies rather than extensive historical narratives. The entries describe the personal backgrounds, careers, and relationship to genocidal events, humanitarian actions, or international initiatives relevant to each person in the book. Beyond examining the genocidaires who played key roles in mass murder, individuals who contributed to efforts to stop genocide are also profiled. By adopting a biographical approach to post World War II genocide, the author sheds light on why people behave the way they do toward their fellow human beings and provides vital insights into the extremes of human positivity and negativity that have characterized this period of history. Serving as a vital tool for scholars and students of genocide as well as compelling reading for general audiences, the book highlights individual human behaviors, motivations, backgrounds, and intentions that can form a platform from which to raise and discuss issues of morality and ethics in the modern world.

The Prevention and Intervention of Genocide Samuel Totten, 2008 Over the last twenty years, the world has witnessed four major genocides. There was the genocide in Iraq 1988, in Rwanda 1994, in Srebrenica 1995, and in Darfur 2003, and continuing. Most observers agree there is an urgent need to assess the international community's efforts to prevent genocide and to intervene once a genocide is under way in an effective and timely manner. This volume, the latest in a widely respected series on the subject of genocide, provides an overview of a host of issues germane to this task. The book begins with a cogent discussion of the issues of prevention and intervention during the Cold War years. The second chapter discusses the abject failures and moderate, though in some cases highly controversial, successes at prevention and intervention carried out in the 1990s and early 2000s. Further chapters examine latest efforts to develop an effective genocide early warning system and examine the complexity of and barriers to prevention. The pros and cons of sanctions and the problems of enforcement and evaluation, their effectiveness, are then discussed. Conflicts between state sovereignty and the protection of threatened populations are examined both in historical context and by incorporating the latest thinking. Later chapters treat the issue of intervention, why and how it has met with only limited success. Concentrating on Rwanda and Srebrenica, chapter 8 discusses various peace operations that were abject failures and those that were moderately successful. The concept of an anti-genocide regime is examined in terms of progress in developing such a regime as well as what the international community must do in order to implement it. Chapters discuss key issues related to post-genocidal periods, those that need to be addressed in order to establish stability in a wounded land and populace as well as to prevent future genocides The final chapter asks whether bringing perpetrators to justice has any impact in breaking impunity ensuring deterrence and bringing about reconciliation The contributors to the volume are all noted scholars some of whom specialize in the study of genocide and others who specialize in such areas as early warning peacekeeping and sanctions

Stuck Marc Sommers, 2012-02-01 Young people are transforming the global landscape As the human population today is younger and more urban than ever before prospects for achieving adulthood dwindle while urban migration soars Devastated by genocide hailed as a spectacular success and critiqued for its human rights record the Central African nation of Rwanda provides a compelling setting for grasping new challenges to the world's youth Spotlights failed masculinity urban desperation and forceful governance Marc Sommers tells the dramatic story of young Rwandans who are stuck striving against near impossible odds to become adults In Rwandan culture female youth must wait often in vain for male youth to build a house before they can marry Only then can male and female youth gain acceptance as adults However Rwanda's severe housing crisis means that most male youth are on a treadmill toward failure unable to build their house yet having no choice but to try What follows is too often tragic Rural youth face a future as failed adults while many who migrate to the capital fail to secure a stable life and turn fatalistic about contracting HIV/AIDS Featuring insightful interviews with youth adults and government officials Stuck tells the story of an ambitious controlling government trying to govern an exceptionally young and poor population in a densely populated and rapidly urbanizing country This pioneering book sheds new light on the struggle to come of age and suggests new pathways toward the attainment of security development and coexistence in Africa and beyond Published in association with the United States Institute of Peace

The Politics of Social Protection in Eastern and Southern Africa Sam Hickey, Tom Lavers, Miguel Niño-Zarazúa, Jeremy Seekings, 2019-11-20 The notion that social protection should be a key strategy for reducing poverty in developing countries has now been mainstreamed within international development policy and practice Promoted as an integral dimension of the post Washington Consensus all major international development agencies and bilateral donors now include a strong focus on social protection in their advocacy and programmatic interventions and a commitment to providing social protection was recently enshrined within the Sustainable Development Goals The rhetoric around social protection particularly when delivered in the form of cash transfers has sometimes reached hyperbolic proportions with advocates seeing it as a magic bullet that can tackle multi dimensional problems of poverty vulnerability and inequality and a southern led success story that challenges the unequal power relations inherent within international aid The Politics of Social Protection in Eastern and Southern Africa challenges the common conception that this phenomenon has been entirely driven by international development agencies instead focusing on the critical role of political dynamics within specific African countries It details how the power and politics at multiple levels of governance shapes the extent to which political elites are committed to social protection the form that this commitment takes and the implications that this has for future welfare regimes and state citizen relations in Africa It reveals how international pressures only take hold when they become aligned with the incentives and ideas of ruling elites in particular contexts It shows how elections the politics of clientelism political ideologies and elite perceptions all play powerful roles in shaping when countries adopt social protection and at what levels which groups receive benefits and how programmes are delivered

Genocide Graham Charles Kinloch, Raj P. Mohan, 2005 Twenty authors analyze factors behind genocidal situations worldwide with detailed case studies and an evaluation of attempts to prevent genocide and of the implications for human rights policies with a particular concern to develop new and practical insights Provided by publisher

Rwanda's Gacaca Courts Paul Christoph Bornkamm, 2012-01-12 The Gacaca courts are a traditional justice mechanism used by the Rwandan government to try lower level perpetrators of the 1994 genocide This book provides an empirical analysis of these courts assessing their rules and procedures as well as their contribution to reconciliation in Rwanda

Mercenaries in Asymmetric Conflicts Scott Fitzsimmons, 2013 Fitzsimmons argues that small mercenary groups must maintain a superior culture to successfully engage and defeat larger and better equipped opponents

Business, Politics, and the State in Africa Doctor Tim Kelsall, 2013-01-10 In recent years Africa appears to have turned a corner economically It is posting increased growth rates and is no longer the world's slowest growing region Commentators are beginning to ask whether emerging from Africa is a new generation of lion economies to challenge the East Asian tigers This book goes behind the headlines to examine the conditions necessary not just for growth in Africa but for a wider business and economic transformation Contrary to neoliberal economics it argues that governments can play an important role in this through selective interventions to correct market failures and controversially that neo patrimonial governance need not be an obstacle to improved business and economic conditions Drawing on a variety of timely case studies including Rwanda Ethiopia Tanzania and Ghana this provocative book provides a radical new theory of the political and institutional conditions required for pro poor growth in Africa

Genocide Matters Joyce Apsel, Ernesto Verdeja, 2013-08-21 This edited book provides an interdisciplinary overview of recent scholarship in the field of genocide studies The book examines four main areas The current state of research on genocide New thinking on the categories and methods of mass violence Developments in teaching about genocide Critical analyses of military humanitarian interventions and post violence justice and reconciliation The combination of critical scholarship and innovative approaches to familiar subjects makes this essential reading for all students and scholars in the field of genocide studies

Intersectionality and Beyond Emily Grabham, Davina Cooper, Jane Krishnadas, Didi Herman, 2008-08-21 This collection addresses the present and the future of the concept of intersectionality within socio legal studies Intersectionality provides a metaphorical schema for understanding the interaction of different forms of disadvantage including race sexuality and gender But it also goes further to provide a particular model of how these aspects of social identity and location converge whether at the level of subjectivity everyday life in culture or in the institutional practices of state and other bodies Including contributions from a range of international scholars this book interrogates what has become a key organizing concept across a range of disciplines most particularly law political theory and cultural studies

Master Plans and Minor Acts Shakirah E. Hudani, 2024-04-17 How might a devastated and divided country undergoing accelerated urbanization and growth find its way to an equitable future What is the role of the city as a terrain for reconciliation and redistribution and who determines the contours of such processes These questions are at the heart of Shakirah Hudani's Master Plans and Minor Acts a detailed examination of the regeneration of post genocide Rwanda and its capital city of Kigali While studies of reconciliation in Rwanda have for the most part focused on the national level Hudani argues that much of the actual work of repair has been in rebuilding Kigali and urban centers around the country Hudani therefore shifts our perspective to the level of the city where through years of fieldwork she has observed on the ground negotiations over material redistribution dispossession and rebuilding in the wake of the country's civil war and 1994 genocide This work of reconciliation at the city and neighborhood level she shows has been significantly impacted by efforts to reconstruct the city through largescale master planning often involving international finance and expertise Through an examination of this national urban dynamic Hudani shows that reconciliation in Rwanda has been and continues to be primarily a socio material and spatial process consisting of negotiation over property homes and the right to urban space

Motorbike People Will Rollason, 2019-12-03 In Motorbike People Power and Politics on Rwandan Streets Will Rollason examines the relationship between power and culture Rollason looks at what social scientists gain and lose by abandoning the assumption that power is a universal feature of human social life Through an ethnographic account of the lives and livelihoods of motorcycle taxi drivers in Kigali Rwanda Rollason depicts how forms of personhood can sit uneasily with conventional accounts of power relationships From the motorcyclists everyday dealings with the police and each another to the regulation of their businesses at large and the Rwandan constitution Rollason depicts the need for varied concepts of power By allowing concepts of power to proliferate the social sciences lose the political capacity to engage in questions of justice and make common cause with the oppressed but gain the ability to rethink what it means to act politically and meet the challenges of a swiftly changing world This work is recommended for students and scholars of the social sciences

The Rwandan Genocide on Film Matthew Edwards, 2018-07-09 The Rwandan genocide was one of the most shameful events of the 20th century Many Westerners understanding of it is based upon the Oscar winning film Hotel Rwanda and the critically acclaimed Shooting Dogs Yet how accurately do these films depict events in Rwanda in 1994 Drawing on new scholarship this collection of essays explores a variety of feature films and documentaries about the genocide to understand its expression in both Western and Rwandan cinema Interviews with filmmakers are featured including journalist Steve Bradshaw BBC s Panorama director Nick Hughes 100 Days director Lee Isaac Chung Munyurangabo and Rwandan filmmakers Eric Kabera and Kivu Ruhorahoza
