Hillman-Matters ,2015 In 1975 James Hillman published Re Visioning Psychology which is perhaps his most important book and certainly constitutes one of the main texts in archetypal psychology This dissertation argues that the ideas presented by Hillman forty years ago have lost much of their psychological value and are again in need of revisioning In order to execute such revisioning this dissertation performs a close reading of Re Visioning Psychology in which the central ideas of archetypal psychology personifying pathologizing psychologizing and soul making are examined under their own logic Hillman s ideas are in this way used to reflect on Hillman s ideas the text is treated as an image and studied as such The methodology is thus recursive the dissertation personifies personifying pathologizes pathologizing psychologizes psychologizing and dehumanizes soul making By doing this the dissertation reveals the tensions and contradictions present within Hillman s text Using Hillman s own archetypal methodology as a tool this dissertation problematizes fundamental concepts of archetypal psychology such as psychological polytheism the return to Greece the metaphorical aspect of the psyche and anima as root metaphor in archetypal psychology Particular attention is put on the historical aspect of Hillman s ideas arguing that Hillman s lack of historical rigor often limits his imaginal insights The dissertation concludes that when Re Visioning Psychology s ideas are applied to themselves and contextualized historically the book collapses under the pressure of its own argument revealing a mythic substructure which is highly monotheistic literalistic and Christian This dissertation contends that the collapse of Re Visioning Psychology s argument far from detrimental to archetypal psychology constitutes a furthering of soul making in its theory through deeper and more complex personifying pathologizing and psychologizing The dissertation argues that the questions and doubts raised by the text itself are an invitation to plunge into what is still unknown and foreign in the logic of Hillman's thought they constitute an invitation to imagine further the ideas of archetypal psychology particularly those presented by Hillman in Re-Visioning Psychology Key Words James Hillman archetypal psychology revisioning history polytheism monotheism literalism anima soul image

Re-visioning Gender in Philosophy of Religion Pamela Sue Anderson,2017-10-24 A passion for justice and truth motivates the bold challenge of Revisioning Gender in Philosophy of Religion. Unearthing the ways in which the myths of Christian patriarchy have historically inhibited and prohibited women from thinking and writing their own ideas, this book lays fresh ground for re-visioning the epistemic practices of philosophers. Pamela Sue Anderson seeks both to draw out the salient threads in the gendering of philosophy of religion as it has been practiced and to re-vision gender for philosophy today. The arguments put forth by contemporary philosophers of religion concerning human and divine attributes are epistemically located, yet the motivation to recognize this locatedness has to come from a concern for justice. This book presents invaluable new perspectives on the philosopher's ever-increasing awareness of his or her own locatedness on the gender often unwittingly given to God, the ineffability in both analytic and Continental philosophy, the still critical role of reason in the field, the aims of a feminist philosophy of religion, the roles of beauty and justice, the vision of love and reason, and a gendering which opens philosophy of religion up to diversity.
