

Visual art is static and, as any other art form, is dependent on stipulated terms. In case with photograph it is hard to imagine depicted events in another setting. It is almost impossible to believe that this could have happened somewhere else. What we can see on the four pictures, taken by Alec Soth, is the story of one community – the community of migrant workers in Owatonna, Minnesota State. The story I can see behind these 4 photographs is the search for better fortune. Being exhausted and aloof, people as if do not mind they are photographed, as if there is no camera and photographer nearby. This creates the effect like a photographer is one of them, as if these people and the one who takes pictures of them give credence to each other or something of that kind.

Visual comprehension is a sort of immersion into the world of these people. Photos were taken in 2011 and once you realize that this happens in the world you live in, you realize you may not care, but anyway you are responsible for such state of things, the conditions these people live and work in. People who long for freedom, peace, self-realization and the world without discrimination, the world in which others consider their rights – they are here. I think that the author of these pictures wanted to recall the minds to the subject of poverty, humanity and just the way people treat each other.

The other point of decoding Alec Soth's art is ethics of emotions. Children beside the adults, adults' perplexity and desperation in facial expressions and the eyes of children are staggering. Gestures, positions of hands, faces with tightened lips and sight with burden attest acquiescence. It is obvious that these people have nothing but hope, and this is their blessing. Hope helps them to live and children are what they must live for. On the other hand, the very idea that children got used to such life, they just might not want to strive for something more and would languish in poverty. There must be someone who may show them the real state of things and the real essence of life. Adults must never forget there is someone always by.

The Reader and the Writer Robert E. Yarber, Martha McAuliffe, Conn McAuliffe, 1982-01-01 The Reader and the Writer: essays for College Writing Yue Du Yu Xie Zuo Robert Yarber, 1986 Handbook of College Reading and Study Strategy Research Rona F. Flippo, David C. Caverly, 1999-09 The Handbook of College Reading and Study Strategy Research is the most comprehensive and up to date source available for college reading and study strategy practitioners and administrators In this thorough and systematic examination of theory r Handbook of College Reading and Study Strategy Research , Reading-to-Write Linda Flower, Victoria Stein, John Ackerman, Margaret J. Kantz, Kathleen McCormick, Wayne C. Peck, 1990-09-20 The Social and Cognitive Studies in Writing and Literacy Series is devoted to books that bridge research theory and practice exploring social and cognitive processes in writing and expanding our knowledge of literacy as an active constructive process as students move from high school to college This descriptive study of reading to write examines a critical point in every college student s academic performance when he or she is faced with the task of reading a source integrating personal ideas and creating an individual text with a self defined purpose Offering an unusually comprehensive view of this process the authors chart a group of freshmen as they study and write in their dormitories recording their think aloud strategies for reading writing and revising their interpretation of the task and their broader social cultural and contextual understanding of college writing Flower Stein and colleagues convincingly conclude that the legacy of schooling in general makes the transition to college difficult and more important that the assumptions students hold and the strategies they use in undertaking this task play a significant role in their academic performance Embracing a broad range of perspectives from rhetoric composition literacy research literary and cultural theory and cognitive psychology this rigorous analysis treats reading to write as both a cognitive and social process It will interest researchers and theoreticians in rhetoric and writing teachers working with students in transition from high school to college and educators involved in the links between cognition and the social process Reading and Writing Essays Judith Lambert, Wiener, 1994 This book is a rhetoric reader that opens with several chapters on reading and writing essays followed by a collection of essays organized by rhetorical mode Each chapter contains an introduction explaining the mode showing how it is used and exploring how to organize an essay using that mode three selections from a professional writer and one from a student illustrating the mode Students are encouraged in each chapter to think critically about the selection and to write essays on related topics Back cover Handbook of Reading Research, Volume II Rebecca Barr, Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P David Pearson, 2016-11-18 A comprehensive overview of important contemporary issues in the field of reading research from the mid 1980s to mid 1990s this well received volume offers readers an examination of literacy through a variety of lenses some permitting microscopic views and others panoramic views A veritable who s who of specialists in the field chapter authors cover current methodology as well as cumulative research based knowledge Because it deals with society and literacy the first section provides the broadest possible view of literacy The second section defines the range of activities culturally determined to be a part of the enterprise known as literacy The third focuses on the processes that individuals engage in when they perform the act of reading The fourth section visits the environment in which the knowledge that comprises literacy is passed on from one generation to the next The last section an epilogue to the whole enterprise of reading research provides apt philosophical reflection
