Readers Construction Of Narrative

Herre van Oostendorp, Susan R.
Goldman

Readers Construction Of Narrative:

The Reader's Construction of Narrative Horst Ruthrof, 2016-08-19 In this book first published in 1981 the author argues that narrative is an interaction between the presented world and the presentational process and attempts to define narrative from the perspective of reading The Reader's Construction of Narrative includes chapters on narrative language translating narrative and discusses what happens when we read a narrative text This book will be of particular interest to students of literary theory

The Construction of Mental Representations During Reading Herre van Oostendorp, Susan R. Goldman, 1998-11 This volume presents in depth investigations of the processes of meaning making during reading at both local discourse and global general knowledge levels It will be of theoretical and practical interest to cognitive scientists reading researchers

Performativity, Cultural Construction, and the Graphic Narrative Leigh Anne Howard, Susanna Hoeness-Krupsaw, 2019-09-11 Performativity Cultural Construction and the Graphic Narrative draws on performance studies scholarship to understand the social impact of graphic novels and their sociopolitical function Addressing issues of race gender ethnicity race war mental illness and the environment the volume encompasses the diversity and variety inherent in the graphic narrative medium Informed by the scholarship of Dwight Conquergood and his model for performance praxis this collection of essays makes links between these seemingly disparate areas of study to open new avenues of research for comics and graphic narratives An international team of authors offer a detailed analysis of new and classical graphic texts from Britain Iran India and Canada as well as the United States Performance Social Construction and the Graphic Narrative draws on performance studies scholarship to understand the social impact of graphic novels and their sociopolitical function Addressing issues of race gender ethnicity race war mental illness and the environment the volume encompasses the diversity and variety inherent in the graphic narrative medium This book will be of interest to students and scholars in the areas of communication literature comics studies performance studies sociology languages English and gender studies and anyone with an interest in deepening their acquaintance with and understanding of the potential of graphic narratives

Narrative Theory, Literature, and New Media Mari Hatavara, Matti Hyvärinen, Maria Mäkelä, Frans Mäyrä, 2015-06-19 Offering an interdisciplinary approach to narrative this book investigates storyworlds and minds in narratives across media from literature to digital games and reality TV from online sadomasochism to oral history databases and from horror to hallucinations It addresses two core questions of contemporary narrative theory inspired by recent cognitive scientific developments what kind of a construction is a storyworld and what kind of mental functioning can be embedded in it Minds and worlds become essential facets of making sense and interpreting narratives as the book asks how story internal minds relate to the mind external to the storyworld that is the mind processing the story With essays from social scientists literary scholars linguists and scholars from interactive media studies answering these topical questions the collection brings diverse disciplines into dialogue providing new openings for genuinely transdisciplinary narrative theory

The wide ranging selection of materials analyzed in the book promotes knowledge on the latest forms of cultural and social meaning making through narrative necessary for navigating the contemporary mediatized cultural landscape The combination of theoretical reflection and empirical analysis makes this book an invaluable resource for scholars and advanced students in fields including literary studies social sciences art media and communication

Narrative and the Cultural Construction of Illness and Healing Cheryl Mattingly, Linda C. Garro, 2000 A valuable collection The essays in the volume are all fresh the result of recent work and the opening chapter by Garro and Mattingly places the current trend in narrative analysis in historical context explaining its diverse origins and constructs in a range of disciplines Shirley Lindenbaum author of Kuru Sorcery A good place to consult the narrative turn in medical anthropology Thick with the richness and diversity and stubborn resistance to interpretations of human stories of illness An anthropological antidote for too narrow a framing of the complex tangle of ways of being and ways of telling that make medicine a space of indelibly human experiences Arthur Kleinman author of The Illness Narratives Luke's Stories of Jesus David Lee, 1999-11-01 The current interest in reading the Gospels as narratives has reclaimed aspects of these texts that historical critical approaches failed to respect The richness of these newer readings can however disguise their limitations as literary critical exercises Developing Hans Frei's concern for theological reading David Lee reworks the narratology of the Dutch literary theorist Mieke Bal to produce a theological narrative reading practice that formally respects the text as scripture while leaving open the possible meanings that readers may construct for themselves in the act of reading Lee demonstrates his approach through readings of the Narrator and the characters Jesus and the Demons as aspects of a composite Lukan narrative Christology

Cognitive Literary Science Michael Burke, Emily Troscianko, 2017 This book brings together researchers with cognitive scientific and literary backgrounds to present innovative research in all three variations on the possible interactions between literary studies and cognitive science The tripartite structure of the volume reflects a more ambitious conception of what cognitive approaches to literature are and could be than is usually encountered and thus aims both to map out and to advance the field The first section corresponds to what most people think of as cognitive poetics or cognitive literary studies the study of literature by literary scholars drawing on cognitive scientific methods findings and or debates to yield insights into literature The second section demonstrates that literary scholars needn't only make use of cognitive science to study literature but can also in a reciprocally interdisciplinary manner use a cognitively informed perspective on literature to offer benefits back to the cognitive sciences Finally the third section literature in cognitive science showcases some of the ways in which literature can be a stimulating object of study and a fertile testing ground for theories and models not only to literary scholars but also to cognitive scientists who here engage with some key questions in cognitive literary studies with the benefit of their in depth scientific knowledge and training

Literary Construction of Identity in the Ancient World Hanna Liss, Manfred Oeming, 2010-06-30 Encountering an ancient text not only as a historical source but also as a literary artifact entails an important paradigm shift which in recent years has taken place in classical and Oriental philology Biblical scholars Egyptologists and classical philologists have been pioneers in supplementing traditional historical critical exegesis with more literary approaches This has led to a wealth of new insights While the methodological consequences of this shift have been discussed within each discipline until recently there has not been an attempt to discuss its validity and methodology on an interdisciplinary level In 2006 the Faculty of Bible and Biblical Interpretation at the Hochschule für Jüdische Studien Heidelberg and the Faculty of Theology at the University of Heidelberg invited scholars from the U S Canada the Netherlands Israel and Germany to examine these issues Under the title Literary Fiction and the Construction of Identity in Ancient Literatures Options and Limits of Modern Literary Approaches in the Exegesis of Ancient Texts experts in Egyptology classical philology ancient Near Eastern studies biblical studies Jewish studies literary studies and comparative religion came together to present current research and debate open questions At this conference each representative from a total of 23 different disciplines dealt with literary theory in regard to his or her area of research The present volume organizes 17 of the resulting essays along 5 thematic lines that show how similar issues are dealt with in different disciplines

Ideologies of Identity in

Adolescent Fiction Robyn McCallum, 2012-10-02 Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction examines the representation of selfhood in adolescent and children's fiction using a Bakhtinian approach to subjectivity language and narrative The ideological frames within which identities are formed are inextricably bound up with ideas about subjectivity ideas which pervade and underpin adolescent fictions Although the humanist subject has been systematically interrogated by recent philosophy and criticism the question which lies at the heart of fiction for young people is not whether a coherent self exists but what kind of self it is and what are the conditions of its coming into being Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction has a double focus first the images of selfhood that the fictions offer their readers especially the interactions between selfhood social and cultural forces ideologies and other selves and second the strategies used to structure narrative and to represent subjectivity and intersubjectivity

The Social Construction of Virtue George W. Noblit, Van O. Dempsey, Belmira Oliveira Bueno, 1996-01-01 Examines how schools function as agents and transmitters of moral life in communities

Interpreting New Testament Narratives Eric J. Douglass, 2018-10-02 Narratives are the concrete manifestation of an author's subjectivity They function as that person's voice and should be treated with the same respect that is granted to all voices In Interpreting New Testament Narratives Eric Douglass develops this ethical perspective so that narratives are treated as communication and the author's voice is regarded as a valued perspective Employing a cross disciplinary approach Douglass shows how readers engage narratives as mental simulations creating a temporary possible world that readers enter and experience To recover communication readers locate the events of this world in the culture of the intended audience and translate this meaning into the modern reader's worldview Using a staged reading design this initial reading is followed by readings of critique

The systemic and empirical approach to literature and culture as theory and application Steven Tötösy de Zepetnek, Irene Sywenky, University of Alberta. Research Institute for Comparative Literature and Cross-Cultural Studies, 1997

Images That Injure Paul Martin Lester, 2011-04-19 This expanded collection of new and fully revised explorations of media content identifies the ways we all have been negatively stereotyped and demonstrates how careful analysis of media portrayals can create more beneficial alternatives Not all damaging stereotypes are obvious In fact the pictorial stereotypes in the media that we don't notice could be the most harmful because we aren't even aware of the negative false ideas they perpetrate This book presents a series of original research essays on media images of groups including African Americans Latinos women the elderly the physically disabled gays and lesbians and Jewish Americans just to mention a few Specific examples of these images are derived from a variety of sources such as advertising fine art film television shows cartoons the Internet and other media providing a wealth of material for students and professionals in almost any field Images That Injure Pictorial Stereotypes in the Media Third Edition not only accurately describes and analyzes the media's harmful depictions of cultural groups but also offers creative ideas on alternative representations of these individuals These discussions illuminate how each of us is responsible for contributing to a sea of meaning within our mass culture Narrative Asides in Luke-Acts Steven Sheeley, 2015-01-29 An examination of the literary device of narrative asides including parenthetical remarks addressed directly to the reader which interrupt the logical progression of the story and establish a relationship between the narrator and the narratee Narrative asides in Luke Acts are located categorized according to their function and examined within their literary context With this discussion in mind the book offers a narrative critical exploration of the relationship of asides to the plot narrator and audience of Luke Acts Joyce's Creative Process and the Construction of Characters in Ulysses Luca Crispi, 2015-08-20 This book is both a study of how James Joyce created two of the most iconic characters in literature Leopold Bloom and Marion Tweedy Bloom as well as a history of the genesis of Ulysses From a genetic critical perspective it explores the conception and evolution of the Blooms as fictional characters in the work s wide range of surviving notes and manuscripts At the same time it also chronicles the production of Ulysses from 1917 to its first edition in 1922 and beyond Based on decades of research it is an original engagement with the textual archive of Ulysses including the exciting recently discovered manuscripts now in the National Library of Ireland Luca Crispi excavates the raw material and examines the creative processes Joyce deployed in the construction of the Blooms and so the writing of Ulysses Framed by a contextual introduction and four bibliographical appendices the seven main chapters are a critical investigation of the fictional events and memories that constitute the lives of the Blooms Thereby it is also a commentary on Joyce s conception of Ulysses more generally Crispi analyzes how the stories in the published book achieved their final form and discloses previously unexamined versions of them for everyone who enjoys reading Ulysses This book demonstrates the various ways in which specialist textual work on the genesis of Ulysses directly intersects with other critical and interpretive readings This volume is a behind the scenes guide to the creation of one of the most important books ever written Storyworld Possible Selves and Narrative Intersubjectivity María-Ángeles Martínez, 2025-09-01 In the wake of the cognitive turn in the humanities narrative research has become increasingly interdisciplinary The theory of storyworld possible selves brings approaches from a range of disciplines such as cognitive narrative theory cognitive linguistics and social psychology to bear on the study of narrative engagement The diversity of the contributions to this volume testifies to the interdisciplinarity of the storyworld possible selves approach while Part I addresses issues connected to the textual construction of authors narrators and characters as narrative perspectivizers Part II explores applications of storyworld possible selves theory to the study of real readers interaction with both fictional and non fictional narratives Characterization in the Gospels David Rhoads, Kari Syreeni, 1999-01-01 This volume examines characterization in the four Gospels and in the Sayings Gospel Q Peter in Matthew Lazarus in John and Jesus as Son of Man in Q are examples of the characters studied The general approach is narrative critical At the same time each contribution takes special effort to widen the scope beyond the narrated world to include the text s ideological and real life setting as well as its effective history New ways of doing narrative criticism are thus proposed The concluding essay by
