Emerging Solutions for Musical Arts Education in Africa Pan African Society for Musical Arts Education, 2005 Emerging Solutions for Musical arts Education in South Africa offers peer reviewed articles prepared for the 2003 Conference of the Pan African Society for Musical Arts Education in Africa held in Kisumu Maseno Kenya Not only does this publication voice the solutions offered by 31 authors from the African continent and beyond but it presents in a unique and highly accessible fashion the collective voice of the conference participants True to the spirit of ubuntu an individual is only a person through other people their communities this publication is a reflection of the essence of an overarching sub Saharan philosophy the contents represents a conference where papers were not presented but where conference participants engaged to discuss solutions for the musical arts on the African continent While the individual voice has been given its rightful place the collective voice represents an emergent song composed by the scholarly community in oral fashion This publication provides insight into the problems of musical arts education in Africa and solutions for musical arts education

The State and the Politics of Knowledge Michael W. Apple, 2003-12-16 The State and the Politics of Knowledge extends the insightful arguments Michael Apple provided in Educating the Right Way in new and truly international directions Arguing that schooling is by definition political Apple and his co authors move beyond a critical analysis to describe numerous ways of interrupting dominance and creating truly democratic and realistic alternatives to the ways markets standards testing and a limited vision of religion are now being pressed into schools

Changing Teacher Professionalism Sharon Gewirtz, Pat Mahony, Ian Hextall, Alan Cribb, 2009-01-08 Significant changes in the policy and social context of teaching over the last 30 years have had substantial implications for teacher professionalism This collection of work by leading international scholars in the field makes a unique contribution to understanding both how these changes are impacting on teaching and how teachers might change their practice for the better

Taboo ,2001 Taboo ,2001

Memory and Pedagogy Claudia Mitchell, Teresa Strong-Wilson, Kathleen Pithouse, Susann Allnutt, 2010-12-14 Memory work the conscious remembering and study of individual and shared memories is increasingly being acknowledged as a key pedagogical tool in working with children Giving students opportunities and support to remember and study their selves as individuals and as communities allows them to see their future as something that belongs to them and that they can influence in some way for the better This edited volume brings together essays from scholars who are studying the interconnections between pedagogy and memory in the context of social themes and social inquiry within educational research The book provides a range of perspectives on the social and pedagogical relevance of memory studies to the educational arena in relation to the themes of memory and method revisiting childhood memory and place addressing political conflict sexuality and embodiment and inter generational studies

collection open up a hopeful dialogue about the existing state of democratic education and the ways in which it could be reimagined as an inclusive democratized space of possibility and engagement Proceeding from a critique that questions the dominance of Western liberal understandings of democratic education as a series of rational culturally neutral acts undertaken by individuals who conceive of democracy and the common good in universalist and fundamentally exclusionary terms the contributors give voice to those whose ideas histories cultures and current understanding of the world is not highlighted in the dominant relationships of schooling From a variety of theoretical and pragmatic approaches the chapters in this collection engage the dialectics of history power colonization and decolonization identity memory citizenship Aboriginal rights development and globalization all in the context of providing a critique of educational systems relations structures and curricula that seem badly in need of reform While the contributors who have diverse scholarly interests are not in a direct dialogue with one another their different foci should nevertheless inter topically inform each other The book should interest students and researchers in the general foundations of education democracy and education citizenship education comparative and international education postcolonial studies in education and cultural studies in education

Social Studies as New Literacies in a Global Society Mark Baildon,James S. Damico,2010-10-04 This book reconceptualizes social studies teaching and learning in ways that will help prepare students to live in new times prepared for new forms of labor in the post industrial economy equipped to handle new and emerging technologies and function in the new media age and prepared to understand different perspectives to participate in an increasingly diverse multicultural global society Mark Baildon and James Damico offer an integrated theoretical framework and corresponding set of web based technology tools to guide a reconceptualized social studies education and provide concrete examples of teachers and students wrestling with core challenges involved in doing inquiry based investigations with web based texts The authors also lay out a range of suggestions for social studies and literacy teachers curriculum developers teacher educators and researchers interested in enacting and researching social studies as new literacies for living in the global society in the 21st century

Race, Identity, and Representation in Education Warren Crichlow,2013-05-13 This stunning new edition retains the book s broad aims intended audience and multidisciplinary approach New chapters take into account the more current backdrop of globalization particularly events such as 9 11 and attendant developments that make a reconsideration of race relations in education quite urgent
