Contemplating Friendship in Aristotle's Ethics Ann Ward,2016-09-30 In this book Ann Ward explores Aristotle s Nicomachean Ethics focusing on the progressive structure of the argument Aristotle begins by giving an account of moral virtue from the perspective of the moral agent only to find that the account itself highlights fundamental tensions within the virtues that push the moral agent into the realm of intellectual virtue However the existence of an intellectual realm separate from the moral realm can lead to lack of self restraint Aristotle Ward argues locates political philosophy and the experience of friendship as possible solutions to the problem of lack of self restraint since political philosophy thinks about the human things in a universal way and friendship grounds the pursuit of the good which is happiness understood as contemplation Ward concludes that Aristotle s philosophy of friendship points to the embodied intellect of timocratic friends and mothers in their activity of mothering as engaging in the highest form of contemplation and thus living the happiest life

99 Theses on the Revaluation of Value Brian Massumi, 2018-09-11 A speculative exploration of value emphasizing practical experimentation in its future forms How can we begin to envision a postcapitalist economy without first engineering a radically new concept of value And with a renewed sense of how and what we collectively value what would the transition to new social forms look like According to Brian Massumi it is time to reclaim value from the capitalist market and the neoliberal reduction of life to human capital It is time to occupy surplus value for a postcapitalist future 99 Theses on the Revaluation of Value is both a theoretical and practical manifesto Massumi reexamines ideas about money exchange and finance with special attention to how what we value in experience for quality is economically translated into quantity He proposes new conceptual tools for understanding value in directly qualitative terms speculating on how this revaluation of value might practically form the basis of an alter economy A promising path he suggests might involve emerging blockchain technologies beyond bitcoin But these must be uprooted from their libertarian origins and redesigned to serve not individual choice but collective creativity not calculations of self interest but collaborative speculations on the future to be shared It is necessary to grasp the specificity of our contemporary neoliberal condition and the ultimately destructive forms of power it mobilizes to better resist their claim on the future 99 Theses on the Revaluation of Value is written to galvanize a radical redefinition of value for a livable postcapitalist future Nietzsche, Soloveitchik and Contemporary Jewish Philosophy Daniel Rynhold, Michael J. Harris, 2018-06-28 Presents Soloveitchik's philosophy as a conceptual response to Nietzsche's critique of religion that brings Nietzsche's life affirming sensibility to halakhic Judaism

Aristotle's Quarrel with Socrates John Boersma, 2024-03-01 Aristotle's Quarrel with Socrates is an account of the role friendship plays in ancient political thought Examining Platonic dialogues and Aristotle's ethical and political treatises John Boersma makes the case that the different stances Aristotle and Socrates take toward politics can be traced to their divergent accounts of friendship Aristotle's Quarrel with Socrates brings to the fore the tension that exists between the philosophic life as exemplified by Socrates and the life devoted to politics It goes on to argue that Aristotle's account of a friendship of the good based on human excellence can reduce not to say eliminate this tension enabling the development of a political community that is organized for action in history The Long Life Helen Small, 2010-09-16 The Long Life invites the reader to range widely from the writings of Plato through to recent philosophical work by Derek Parfit Bernard Williams and others and from Shakespeare's King Lear through works by Thomas Mann Balzac Dickens Beckett Stevie Smith Philip Larkin to more recent writing by Saul Bellow Philip Roth and J M Coetzee Helen Small argues that if we want to understand old age we have to think more fundamentally about what it means to be a person to have a life to have or lead a good life to be part of a just society What did Plato mean when he suggested that old age was the best place from which to practice philosophy or Thomas Mann when he defined old age as the best time to be a writer and were they right If we think as Aristotle did that a good life requires the active pursuit of virtue how will our view of later life be affected If we think that lives and persons are unified much as stories are said to be unified how will our thinking about old age differ from that of someone who thinks that lives and or persons can be strongly discontinuous In a just society what constitutes a fair distribution of limited resources between the young and the old How if at all should recent developments in the theory of evolutionary senescence alter our thinking about what it means to grow old This is a groundbreaking book deep as well as broad and likely to alter the way in which we talk about one of the great social concerns of our time the growing numbers of those living to be old and the growing proportion of the old to the young

Atheism and Deism Revalued Wayne Hudson, Diego Lucci, 2016-04-15 Given the central role played by religion in early modern Britain it is perhaps surprising that historians have not always paid close attention to the shifting and nuanced subtleties of terms used in religious controversies In this collection particular attention is focussed upon two of the most contentious of these terms atheism and deism terms that have shaped significant parts of the scholarship on the Enlightenment This volume argues that in the seventeenth and eighteenth century atheism and deism involved fine distinctions that have not always been preserved by later scholars The original deployment and usage of these terms were often more complicated than much of the historical scholarship suggests Indeed in much of the literature static definitions are often taken for granted resulting in depictions of the past constructed upon anachronistic assumptions Offering reassessments of the historical figures most associated with atheism and deism in early modern Britain this collection opens the subject up for debate and shows how the new historiography of deism changes our understanding of heterodox religious identities in Britain from 1650 to 1800 It problematises the older view that individuals were atheist or deists in a straightforward sense and instead explores the plurality and flexibility of religious identities during this period Drawing on the most recent scholarship the volume enriches the debate about heterodoxy offering new perspectives on a range of prominent figures and providing an overview of major changes in the field

Aristotle and the Rediscovery of Citizenship Susan D. Collins, 2006-05-22 Aristotle and the Rediscovery of Citizenship confronts a question that is central to Aristotle's political philosophy as well as to contemporary political theory what is a citizen Answers prove to be elusive in part because late twentieth century critiques of the Enlightenment called into doubt fundamental tenets that once guided us Engaging the two major works of Aristotle's political philosophy his Nicomachean Ethics and his Politics Susan D Collins poses questions that current discussions of liberal citizenship do not adequately address Drawing a path from contemporary disputes to Aristotle she examines in detail his complex presentations of moral virtue civic education and law his view of the aims and limits of the political community and his treatment of the connection between citizenship and the human good Collins thereby shows how Aristotle continues to be an indispensable source of enlightenment as he has been for political and religious traditions of the past
