Modistae Modern interpreters are frequently misled by the fact that the various authors regularly used the same terms. Such a homogeneous terminology however covers profound theoretical differences. The aim of these essays is to show that the medieval theory of signs does not represent a unique body of semiotic notions; there are diverse and frequently alternative semiotic theories. This book thus represents an attempt to encourage further research on the still unrecognized variety of the semiotic approaches offered by the medieval philosophies of language. Seduction, Community, Speech Frank Brisard, Michael Meeuwis, Bart Vandenabeele, 2004. This volume unites various contributions reflecting the intellectual interests exhibited by Professor Herman Parret, Institute of Philosophy, Leuven, who has continued to observe and often critically assess ongoing developments in pragmatics throughout his career. In fact, Parret's contributions to philosophical and empirical linguistic pragmatics present substantive proposals in the epistemics of communication while simultaneously offering meta-comments on the ideological premises of extant pragmatic analyses. In a lengthy introduction, an overview is provided of his achievements in promoting an integrated maximalist pragmatics as well as of the links between his own work in philosophy of language and in semiotics and aesthetics. The remaining 12 essays address relevant pragmatic themes or look into the relation between pragmatics and neighboring disciplines. They deal with grammatical deixis (Brisard), Ikegami and mood (van der Auwera), Schalley, performativity (Harnish), Holdcroft, speech act types and their praxeological dimensions (Roulet), Van Overbeke, Wittgensteinian language games (Marques), Parisi, cultural and intercultural identities (Vandenabeele), Verschueren and the visual arts (Wildgen).
