The Buddha Image Yuvraj Krishan, 1996 Illustrations 247 b w illustrations Description This book deals with crucial though controversial questions in Buddhist art the origin of the Buddha image and the iconography of the Buddha images The earliest Buddhist art of Sanchi and Bharhut is aniconic The Buddha is represented in symbols only In the later Buddhist art of Gandhara and Mathura the Buddha is represented in human form he is the principal subject of sculptural art The book seeks to explore the geographical area in which the image of the Buddha first emerged and whether the Buddhist doctrines Hinayana or Mahayana had anything to do with this transformation The Buddha image as developed eventually at Sarnath became the model for the Buddha images in whole of Asia south east central and eastern Asia The iconographic features of the Buddha image are superficially an aberration being in apparent conflict with the doctrine The Buddha had cut off his hair at the time of his renunciation the rules of the order enjoin that a monk must be tonsured and must discard and eschew all riches However in his images the Buddha has hair on his head later he is also endowed with a crown and jewels After an exhaustive examination of the views of various scholars the book answers these questions and resolves the controversies on the basis of literary numismatic and epigraphic sources More importantly it makes use of the valuable evidence from the contemporaneous Jaina art Aniconism of early Jaina art and the iconographic features of Jaina images The implications of this study are also important Does India owe idolatry to Buddhism Was this of foreign inspiration Was the Buddha image fashioned after the Vedic Brahma and whether the Buddha's usnisa and Buddhist art motifs are rooted in the Vedic tradition The book is profusely illustrated and provides rich and stimulating fare to students of Indian art in general and of Buddhist art in particular

The Symbolism of the Stupa Adrian Snodgrass, 1992-01-01 In his preface to The Symbolism of the Stupa Prof Craig Reynolds writes The stupa is a symbolic form that pullulates throughout South Southeast and East Asia In its Indian manifestations it is an extreme case in terms of architectural function it has no useable has a basic simplicity In this state of the art study Adrian Snodgrass reads the stupa as a cultural artifact The monument concretizes metaphysical principles and generates multivalent meanings in ways that can be articulated with literary texts and other architectural forms This study analyses a pattern of interrelated meanings generated by the form of the stupa It does so by reference to myth to ritual and to doctrine viewing the architectural form from within the conceptual framework of the tradition to which it belongs This approach involves questions of aim and methodology A deeper understanding of a symbol is gained by studying the grid or net formed by its symbolic homologues The pattern of meaning that emerges from the juxtaposition of cognate symbols does not exhaust the significance of the symbol which is ultimately beyond worlds but it reinforces its intimations indicating a logical cohesion and integrity which in itself is an intimation of the all pervasiveness of Principle It is precisely this pattern of inter reflection or symbols that this study attempts to delineate By bringing together cognate symbols in apposition it attempts to mark out the field of symbolic interactions which the stupa generates

The Symbolism of the Stupa Adrian Snodgrass,2018-05-31 A close analysis of the architecture of the stupa a Buddhist symbolic form that is found throughout South Southeast and East Asia The author who trained as an architect examines both the physical and metaphysical levels of these buildings which derive their meaning and significance from Buddhist and Brahmanist influences
