The ageing of the world's populations particularly in Western developed countries is a well documented phenomenon and despite many positive images of later life in the media and public discourse later life is frequently depicted as a time of inevitable physical and cognitive decline Against this background Heinrichsmeier presents the results of her two year sociolinguistic study examining how a group of older women of different ages negotiated their way through their own and others expectations of ageing and constructed different kinds of older and other identities for themselves Through vivid and nuanced analysis of their chat and practices in a small village hair salon Heinrichsmeier reveals these women's subtle and skilful manipulation of stereotypes of ageing and the impact of the evolving talk on their identity constructions Her study which provides numerous short extracts of talk in both the hair salon and interview along with more detailed case studies highlights the importance of such apparently trivial sites for both studying older people's identity work and as loci for positive identity constructions and well being in later life This book will be of particular interest to graduate students and scholars working in sociolinguistics discourse analysis conversation analysis and gerontological studies as well as those interested in approaches integrating ethnography and language

I and My True Love Hersilia A. Mitchell Keays, 1908 Adolescent Female Portraits in the American Novel 1961-1981 Jane S. Bakerman, Mary Jean DeMarr, 2019-10-01

Originally published in 1983 this title lists and annotates reference sources which will help readers select primary materials useful in studies of the literary portraits of women and their societal roles The years 1961 to 1981 were set as boundaries for this volume because the author's initial research revealed that a twenty year span was a manageable unit because the novels published between those dates yielded abundant materials for such a reference work and because significant changes in the way portraits of adolescent females were being drawn took place during the period for example sex role stereotyping became a shade less prevalent young women's sexuality was discussed more forthrightly and some topics such as single women's pregnancies and lesbianism were treated more overtly sometimes less judgementally
