Reasons from Within Alan H. Goldman, 2009-11-26 Do the reasons we have for acting as we do derive from our concerns and desires or are there objective values in the world that we are rationally required to pursue and protect Alan H Goldman argues for the internalist or subjectivist view of practical reasons on the grounds that it is simpler more unified and more comprehensible than the rival objectivist position He provides a naturalistic account of practical rationality in terms of coherence within sets of desires or motivational states and between motivations intentions and actions Coherence is defined as the avoidance of self defeat the defeat of one's own deepest concerns The demand for coherence underlies both practical and theoretical reason and derives from the natural aims of belief and action In clarifying which desires create reasons drawing on the literature of cognitive psychology Goldman offers conceptual analyses of desires emotions and attitudes Reasons are seen to derive ultimately from our deepest occurrent concerns These concerns require no reasons themselves but provide reasons for many more superficial desires In defense of this theory Goldman argues that rational agents need not be morally motivated or concerned for their narrow self interest Objective values would demand such concern They would be independent of our desires but would provide reasons for us to pursue and protect them They would require rational agents to be motivated by them But Goldman argues we are not motivated in that way and it makes no sense to demand that our informed and coherent desires be generally other than they are We need not appeal to such objective values in order to explain how our lives can be good and meaningful Reasons from Within will appeal to anyone interested in the nature of values and reasons particularly students of philosophy psychology and decision theory

Johns,2013-02 The physician patient bond is a significant relationship intended to effect healing in our patient but is it the patient alone who benefits We are all patients at some point As a patient how well do we know our self how clearly do we communicate what troubles us to our doctor to others Even when we are feeling healthy we remain aware of some aspects of our lives that need healing For many of us it is our relationships that need healing This book is an essential exploration into the challenges inherent in the physician patient dynamic and extends the findings to other important encounters The reason it is appropriate for everyone physician or not is because the principles adhered to in its writing are universal in reach and eternally relevant Its sole purpose is to promote healing in our world individually and collectively Whatever our vocation we are each called to be an essential effective healer in some way that is natural to us our gift to the world Here we are reminded that when we promote conditions for healing in our relationships we manifest miracles naturally
