Pacesettersfinger Of Suspicion:

Finger of Suspicion Rosina Umelo,1984 Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940-2020 Matthew J.

Christensen,2024 Providing a survey of Anglophone African detective fiction from the late 1940s to the present day this study traces its history both as a literary form and a mode of critical exploration of the fraught sovereignties of the African state and its citizens Since the late 1940s African writers including Cyprian Ekwensi Arthur Maimane Adaora Lily Ulasi Hilary Ngweno Unity Dow Parker Bilal and Angela Makholwa have published over 200 murder mysteries police procedurals spy thrillers and other fictional narratives of investigation and discovery in English language newspapers magazines and novels Distributed widely across the continent s diverse cultural and political geographies these texts share aesthetic characteristics and thematic preoccupations that reflect transnational networks of production circulation and influence Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940 2020 surveys this literary history and examines how African writers have repeatedly harnessed the detective story to interrogate postcolonial realities of selfhood and the state It argues that African writers have turned the detective story into a highly productive while at the same time suspense filled and entertaining mode of social and political critique first of colonialism and the independence era and latterly of neoliberal governance Offering an overview of paradigmatic texts from Ghana to Kenya and Sudan to South Africa the book traces the contours of the history of Anglophone African detective fiction that is at once a cultural history of a uniquely African assessment of the ongoing problematics of sovereignty and decolonization Women and the Nigeria-Biafra War Sussie U. Aham-Okoro,Gloria Chuku,2020-10-07

This first comprehensive study of the Nigeria Biafra War 1967 1970 through the lens of gender explores the valiant and gallant ways women carried out old and new responsibilities in wartime and immediate postwar Nigeria The book presents women as embodiments of vulnerability and agency who demonstrated remarkable resilience and initiative waging war on all fronts in the face of precarious conditions and scarcities and maximizing opportunities occasioned by the hostilities Women s experiences are highlighted through critical analyses of oral interviews memoirs life histories fashion and material culture international legal conventions music as well as governmental and non governmental sources The book fills the gap in the war scholarship that has minimized women s complex experiences fifty years after the hostilities ended It highlights the cost of the conflict on Nigerian women their participation in the hostilities and their contributions to the survival of families communities and the country The chapters present counter narratives to fictional and nonfictional accounts of the war especially those written by men which often peripheralize or stereotypically represent women as passive spectators or helpless victims of the conflict and also highlight and exaggerate women s moral laxity and sensationalize their marital infidelities Neoliberalism and the Novel Emily Johansen,Alissa Karl,2017-12-22 The novel form has long been connected to modern capitalism and is arguably the literary genre most prominently enmeshed in contemporary global markets Yet as many critics have suggested about capital something has changed in the last forty years With the rise of neoliberalism as the dominant global economic rationality and mode of governance the experience of capital has produced new ways of seeing and relating to the world leading as David Harvey observes to the financialization of everything The novel indexed to capital in myriad ways then must similarly have been transformed Neoliberalism and the Novel investigates both those changes wrought to the novel form by changing arrangements of capital and the novel's broader engagement with neoliberalism itself The chapters in this book consider these questions from a variety of angles attending to the way in which the neoliberal novel deploys familiar generic patterns as a site from which to offer critique examining the changing operation of labour and time under neoliberalism and its effect on novel form and offering a broader call for new reading and interpretative practices to respond to changing socio economic realities This book was originally published as a special issue of Textual Practice The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean Since 1950 Simon Gikandi, 2016 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 examines the institutional and social peculiarities that make fiction produced in Africa and the Atlantic World since 1950 important to the history of the novel in English Nigerian Female Writers Henrietta C. Otokunefor, Obiageli C. Nwodo, 1989 Fifteen contributors from Nigerian universities write on twenty Nigerian women writers The aim of the editors was to bring into focus the literary contribution of Nigerian women writers up to the present The writers are grouped into four broad categories novelists dramatists poets and the children's literature writers They include the well known writers such as Flora Nwapa Buchi Emecheta and Adaora Ulasi but also relatively unknown female writers who have contributed to the development of Nigerian literature The book includes a short biography on each writer a list of her publications words about her and a critical analysis of her works Conference Proceedings of the International Association of School Librarianship International Association of School Librarianship. Conference, 1992 Something to Hide Rosina Umelo, 1986 Mysteries of Africa Eugene Schleh, 1991 Using the highly popular genre of detective mystery fiction this volume explores the insights available in African centered stories The sample of writings used ranges from the colonial era to the present and covers the work of both Africans and outside observers from Europe and North America BOOKJACKET The National Bibliography of Nigeria, 1988
