Pacific Square-riggers Jim Gibbs, 1969 Pacific square-riggers; pictorial history of the great windships of yesteryear, by Jim Gibbs James Atwood Gibbs, 1969 California, Oregon, and Washington Archaeological Resource Study, 1990

Pacific Marine Review, 1915 The Port of Los Angeles Michael D. White, 2008 The epic of the Port of Los Angeles was initiated more than 150 years ago by a handful of visionaries and entrepreneurs who exploited both fortunate and outrageous circumstances to transform a tidal mudflat into the worlds largest man made harbor Phineas Banning and archrival Augustus Timms were among the first to realize the potential of the coastal dent on the map called San Pedro Bay in the 1850s The bays namesake village expanded from a backwater loading point for raw cattle hides to a deepwater harbor rivaling and eventually surpassing San Francisco as the busiest port on the U S Pacific coast and would later become the nations largest container port Political battles in far off Washington D C economic booms and depressions world wars and billions of tons of cargo and material later the Port of Los Angeles remains Americas premier revolving door for trade with markets around the world The Graveyard of the Pacific Anthony Dalton, 2011-02-01 On January 22 1906 the passenger ship Valencia lost her way in heavy fog and rain and rammed into the deadly rocks at Pachena Point on the west coast of Vancouver Island As the wreck was shattered by the pounding waves the survivors clung desperately to the rigging Few made it the short distance to shore through the frigid and turbulent waves 117 of the 164 souls aboard perished A year earlier the King David had been wrecked on Bajo Reef near Nootka Sound The fate of her sailors was much more mysterious Today the magnificent Pacific coastline of Vancouver Island draws hikers surfers and storm watchers to marvel at its natural splendour But the ghosts of the Valencia King David Janet Cowan Pacific Soquel and dozens of other lost ships still haunt the rugged shores of the Graveyard of the Pacific Anthony Dalton tells the incredible stories of many of these ships and their courageous crews who often discovered that their nightmares had only begun once they made it ashore These true tales of disaster and daring rescues are a fascinating adventure into British Columbia maritime history Sea Breezes, 1970

The Sailors' Union of the Pacific Paul Schuster Taylor, 1922 Pacific Ports, 1919 The Life of Bent Gestur Sivertz Bent Gestur Sivertz, Tracy O'Hara, 2000 In 1995 I began working with Ben Sivertz organizing his files and taking care of his sizeable written correspondence this familiarized me both with the man and his prodigious personal archive containing letters diaries speeches and employment and education records dating back to the beginning of the 20th century I had the privilege of listening to an oral history colourfully recalled by a man still very much in possession of his faculties and a walking historical treasure The stories of his life are fascinating and I felt worthy of record Over the course of five years a culling of information took the form of an autobiographical book the writing of which was done by me sandwiched between Ben s able storytelling and fine editorial ability This is a joint project in the truest sense Ben s life has spanned the century he was born in Victoria to Icelandic immigrant parents and recalls Victoria s days at the beginning of the last century with valuable clarity From rather modest origins Ben lived a life in three parts as a seaman in the last days of wooden sailing ships as a teacher in the remote northern end of Vancouver Island as the head of the Naval Training Establishment at King's College in Halifax during the Second World War and as a government worker who became Commissioner of the Northwest Territories remembered as one who left behind a progressive legacy of reform in the North Ben has lived almost four decades since his retirement outliving his wife and most recently relocating to Mayne Island to pass the remainder of his days surrounded by young and caring relatives In this story the reader will attain an understanding of seafaring in the early days on the West Coast life on Vancouver Island in pre war years sailing ship adventures on the Pacific in the twenties and government service in the halcyon days of External Affairs in the fifties and northern affairs in the same period It is a story that will delight many of Ben's devoted pupils who came under his tutelage at the Naval Training School in Halifax during WWII as well as the student of Canadian and British Columbian history It is well illustrated with many photographs from Ben's personal collection as well as copies of newspaper clippings Tracy O Hara
