Divorced Fathers and Their Families Florence W. Kaslow, 2012-12-09 This book focuses on the experience of father s lives after a divorce and how mental health professionals can help them create a healthy transition Through the use of case examples critical issues are highlighted and discussed with supportive empirical findings and clinical insights Traditionally the marital legal sessions as well as the ultimate marriage settlement focus on the issues confronted by the ex wife and mother and on the custody and visitation plan for the children This is actually supported by law in some places This can remove the father from important qualitative issues such as what it is like to have children in two households relationships with two sets of grandparents where holidays will be spent fair rotations of responsibility and how continuing parental discord can be resolved The issues examined in this volume are relevant to a range of professionals who deal with divorcing couples from psychologists and family therapists to legal advisors and judges

After Intimacy Karl Leydecker, Nicholas White, 2007 Divorce is a conspicuous character trait of modernity commonly portrayed in texts and on screen with its moral and social rationalisation firmly rooted in Enlightenment and Romantic thought The aim of this volume is to bring into focus this contemporary cultural fascination by assembling the variety of academic responses it has started to create Bringing together the reflections of scholars from the UK and North America who have worked in this domain this study offers for the first time a genuinely wide ranging account of the depiction of divorce across the northern hemisphere in a number of media fiction journalism film and television It reaches historically from the intellectual and legal aftermath of the Enlightenment right up to the present day As such the collection shows both the roots of this apparently contemporary phenomenon in nineteenth century literary practice and the very particular ways in which divorce characterises the different narrative media of modernity

Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, 2008. Hooyman and Kramer's starting point is that loss comes in many forms and can include not only suffering the death of a person one loves but also giving birth to a child with disabilities, living with chronic illness, or being abused, assaulted, or otherwise traumatized. They approach loss from the perspective of the resilience model, which acknowledges the capacity of people to integrate loss into their lives and write sensitively about the role of age, race, culture, sexual orientation, gender, and spirituality in a person's response to loss. Marital Separation and Lethal Domestic Violence Desmond Ellis, 2015-03-05. This book is the first to investigate the effects of participation in separation or divorce proceedings on femicide, murder of a female, femicide, suicide, homicide, and suicide. Because separation is one of the most significant predictors of domestic violence, this book is exclusively devoted to theorizing, researching, and preventing lethal domestic violence or other assaults triggered by marital separation. The authors provide evidence supporting the use of an estrangement-specific risk assessment and estrangement-focused public education to prevent murders and assaults. This information is needed not only by instructors in criminal justice and sociology programs but by researchers theorizing about or investigating domestic violence. In the world of practitioners, family court judges, divorce mediators, family lawyers, prosecutors involved in bail hearings, shelter staff, and family counselors urgently need this resource. Ellis et al. include discussion questions and chapter objectives to support learners in the classroom or in community.
