A Companion to Sophocles Kirk Ormand, 2015-06-02 A Companion to Sophocles presents the first comprehensive collection of essays in decades to address all aspects of the life, works, and critical reception of Sophocles. First collection of its kind to provide introductory essays to the fragments of his lost plays and to the remaining fragments of one satyr play, the Ichneutae, in addition to each of his extant tragedies. Features new essays on Sophoclean drama that go well beyond the current state of scholarship on Sophocles. Presents readings that historicize Sophocles in relation to the social, cultural, and intellectual world of fifth-century Athens. Seeks to place later interpretations and adaptations of Sophocles in their historical context. Saramago's Philosophical Heritage Carlo Salzani, Kristof K. P. Vanhoutte, 2018-07-16 The past decades have seen a growing philosophical interest in a number of authors, but strangely enough, Saramago's oeuvre has been left somewhat aside. This volume aims at filling this gap by providing a diverse range of philosophical perspectives and expositions on Saramago's work. The chapters explore some possible issues arising from his works: from his use of Plato's allegory of the cave to his readings of Biblical stories; from his critique and reinvention of philosophy of history to his allegorical exploration of alternative histories; from his humorous approach to our being towards death to the revolutionary political charge of his fiction. The essays here confront Saramago's fiction with concepts, theories, and suggestions belonging to various philosophical traditions and philosophers, including Plato, Pascal, Kierkegaard, Freud, Benjamin, Heidegger, Lacan, Foucault, Derrida, Agamben, and others.

Aesthetic Marx Samir Gandesha, Johan F. Hartle, 2017-10-19 The whole of Marx's project confronts the narrow concerns of political philosophy by embedding it in social philosophy and a certain understanding of the aesthetic From those of aesthetic production to the poetry of the future as Marx writes in the Eighteenth Brumaire from the radical modernism of bourgeois development to the very idea of association which defined one of the main lines of tradition in the history of aesthetics steady references to Dante Shakespeare and Goethe and the idea that bourgeois politics is nothing but a theatrical stage the aesthetic has a prominent place in the constellation of Marx's thought This book offers an original and challenging study of both Marx in the aesthetic and the aesthetic in Marx It differs from previous discussions of Marxist aesthetic theory as it understands the works of Marx themselves as contributions to thinking the aesthetic This is an engagement with Marx's aesthetic that takes into account Marx's broader sense of the aesthetic as identified by Eagleton and Buck Morss as a question of sense perception and the body It explores this through questions of style and substance in Marx and extends it into contemporary questions of how this legacy can be perceived or directed analytically in the present By situating Marx in contemporary art debates this volume speaks directly to lively interest today in the function of the aesthetic in accounts of emancipatory politics and is essential reading for researchers and academics across the fields of political philosophy art theory and Marxist scholarship The Ethics of Remembering and the Consequences of Forgetting Michael

O'Loughlin, 2014-12-18 The Ethics of Remembering and the Consequences of Forgetting Essays on Trauma History and Memory brings together scholars from a variety of disciplines that draw on multiple perspectives to address issues that arise at the intersection of trauma history and memory Contributors include critical theorists critical historians psychoanalysts psychotherapists and a working artist The authors use intergenerational trauma theory while also pushing and pulling at the edges of conventional understandings of how trauma is defined This book respects the importance of the recuperation of memory and the creation of interstitial spaces where trauma might be voiced The writers are consistent in showing a deep respect for the sociohistorical context of subjective formation and the political importance of recuperating dangerous memory the kind of memory that some authorities go to great lengths to erase The Ethics of Remembering and the Consequences of Forgetting is of interest to critical historians critical social theorists psychotherapists psychosocial theorists and to those exploring the possibilities of life as the practice of freedom Theory of Literature Paul H. Fry, 2012-04-24

Discussing such major themes and strands in 20th century literary theory as hermeneutics modes of formalism and Marxist and historicist approaches the author incorporating philosophical and social perspectives on these trends offers a deeper and richer reading of literature Original Vanishing Women Karen Redrobe, 2003-04-01 Disappearing women as a persistent trope from nineteenth century magic through contemporary theory film and psychoanalysis Rx Hollywood Michael

DeAngelis,2018-01-01 How films of the 1960s and early 1970s framed therapeutic issues as problems of human communication and individual psychological problems as social ones Rx Hollywood investigates how therapy surfaced in the themes representations and narrative strategies of a changing film industry In the 1960s and early 1970s American cinema was struggling to address adult audiences who were increasingly demanding films that confronted contemporary issues Focusing upon five fields of therapeutic inquiry therapist patient dynamics female frigidity and male impotence marital discord hallucinogenic drug use and the dynamics of confession Michael DeAngelis argues that the films of this period reveal an emergent common tendency of therapy to work toward the formation of a stronger sense of interpersonal community social and political engagement counteracting alienation and social division in the spirit of connection and community Prior to the 1960s therapy had been considered an introspective process one that emphasized contemplation and insight and prompted the patient to investigate memories and past traumas In the 1960s however therapy would move toward more humanistic client centered community group and encounter models that deemphasized the there and then of past feelings and experiences and embraced the here and now of the present These kinds of therapy promised to heal the self through a process of reaching out helping individuals to connect with communities support networks and other like minded individuals who shared a needed sense of belonging Drawing on a wide range of films including Marnie The Boston Strangler The Chapman Report Carnal Knowledge Divorce American Style Diary of a Mad Housewife Guess Who s Coming to Dinner and Five Easy Pieces DeAngelis shows how American culture framed therapeutic issues as problems of human communication developing treatment strategies that addressed individual psychological problems as social problems
