Rationality study Of Religion:

Rationality and the Study of Religion Jeppe Sinding Jensen, Luther Martin, 2013-09-13 Does rationality the intellectual bedrock of all science apply to the study of religion Religion arguably the most subjective area of human behaviour has particular challenges associated with its study Attracting crowd healers conjurers the pious and the prophetic alongside comparativists and sceptics it excites opinions and generalizations whilst seldom explicitly staking out the territory for the discussions in which it partakes Increasingly scholars argue that religious study needs to define and critique its own field and to distinguish itself from theology and other non objective disciplines Yet how can rational techniques be applied to beliefs and states of mind regarded by some as beyond the scope of human reason Can these be made empirically testable or comparable and replicable within academic communities Can science explicate religion without reducing it to mere superstition or redefine its truth in some empirical but meaningful way Featuring contributions from leading international experts including Donald Wiebe Roger Trigg and Michael Pye Rationality and the Study of Religion gets under the surface of the religious studies discipline to expose the ideologies beneath Reopening debate in a neglected yet philosophically significant field it questions the role of rationality in religious anthropology natural history and anti scientific theologies with implications not only for supposedly objective disciplines but for our deepest attitudes to personal experience Interesting and important Religion has long been associated with irrationality both by its defenders and its critics and the topic of rationality has been unjustly neglected The book certainly deserves to be widely circulated Greg Alles Western Maryland College

Historicizing "Tradition" in the Study of Religion Steven Engler, Gregory Price Grieve, 2012-02-13 This collection of essays analyzes tradition as a category in the historical and comparative study of religion The book questions the common assumption that tradition is simply the passing down or imitation of prior practices and discourses It begins from the premise that many traditions are at least in part social fabrications often deliberately serving particular ideological ends Individual chapters examine a wide variety of historical periods and religions Congolese Buddhist Christian Confucian Cree Esoteric Hawaiian Hindu Islamic Jewish New Religious Movement and Shinto Different sections of the book consider tradition's relation to three sets of issues legitimation and authority agency and identity modernity and the West Rationality and Religion Roger Trigg, 1998-06-08 Rationality and Religion deals with the perennial question of how far religious faith needs reason Principles of the Law of Evidence and Rationality Applied in the Johannine Christology Henry Hock Guan Teh, 2016-02-10 Those who give primacy to evidence in the apologetic task have long maintained that 1 this is exactly the biblical writers approach maintaining as they do that they saw and heard the things of which they speak and 2 such reasoning is fundamental to society in general as exemplified in every civilised legal system Henry Hock Guan Teh concretises these vital points by way of the Gospel of John where the Apostle consistently marshals eyewitness evidence to show that Jesus is the Christ the Son of God and that believing you might have life through His name John 20 31 No finer or more scholarly support for a biblically grounded factual juridically sophisticated defence of Christian truth is available Professional and lay evangelists and anyone endeavouring to preach the gospel to every creature simply must obtain and benefit from this book And sceptical lawyers needless to say owe it to themselves to wrestle with the author's case for the only historical religion that holds up in court John Warwick Montgomery Ph D D Theol LL D Professor Emeritus of Law and Humanities University of Bedfordshire England Distinguished Research Professor of Philosophy Concordia University Wisconsin USA Director International Academy of Apologetics Evangelism and Human Rights Strasbourg France Dr Teh's book is in the same genre as those by Simon Greenleaf professor Dr John Warwick Montgomery Craig Parton Esq and Prof Dr Ross Clifford As can be seen by the title Dr Teh concentrates on the Gospel of John chapter by chapter His powerful argument can even be comprehended by those of us not legally trained Recommended Dr Rod Rosenblatt Professor of Theology Concordia University Irvine 1517legacy.com This book will greatly help people understand the legal historical and rational case for Christianity Dr Henry Teh uniquely focuses on John's gospel and establishes the Case for Jesus Resurrection through the best evidence principle This emphasizes on John's gospel establishes that it is a key text for Christian apologetics The book is a compelling read for those who take 1 Peter 3:15 seriously And for those who believe Jesus is a fairy tale it will cause them to reconsider the fact of his Resurrection It is well written and a must addition to one's apologetic armoury Rev Dr Ross Clifford AM Principal of Morling Theological College Sydney Australia Author of John Montgomery's Legal Apologetic Henry Hock Guan Teh obtained his Ph D from Trinity Theological Seminary Indiana USA where he studied apologetics under Prof John Warwick Montgomery and also at International Academy of Apologetics Evangelism Human Rights Strasbourg France With two British law degrees he was also a trial lawyer and chief law examiner Presently Henry Teh is adjunct lecturer in Philosophy Ethics and Law

The Perception of Christianity as a Rational Religion in Singapore Clive S. Chin, 2017-03-23 This book evaluates the common criticism that Christianity in Asia is westernized Since the 1980s Asian evangelical theologians and missiologists argue that the intrusion of Western theology is responsible for the Western and hence alien expressions of Christianity in Asia Yet in Singapore the number of Christians has increased over the last few decades Empirical evidence demonstrates that younger Chinese Singaporeans convert from Buddhism or Taoism to Christianity partly because they perceive it as a rational religion over Buddhism or Taoism which are viewed as irrational or superstitious Not only do many converts favor Christianity as a rational religion but they do not regard Christianity as a Western religion at the point of their conversion What accounts for those recent developments This study explores the processes of modernization and globalization as important factors impacting religious change in Singapore Personal contextual and structural elements actually influence one's religion of choice In facilitating effective mission one must qualify the use of the categories Asian and Western because religious and cultural boundaries overlap What matters most in missiology is discerning how the gospel of Jesus Christ engages the self understanding and lived realities of ethnic and religious others in diverse cultural settings

Reason, Freedom, and Religion Lorne L. Dawson, 1988 This book argues the advantages of using an unconventional method of social science the argument from rationality to ameliorate the disruptive methodological schism which exists between humanistic and social scientific perspectives in Religionswissenschaft and the sociology of religion The argument from rationality curbs the reductive thrust of conventional scientific accounts of religion by integrating the power of human choice and religious references to the transcendent into a viable mode of explanation for social and religious action Attention is focused on the role character and limits of the judgements of rationality undergirding the practice of the social sciences

Patterns of Rationality Tommaso Bertolotti, 2015-04-29 This book proposes an applied epistemological framework for investigating science social cognition and religious thinking based on inferential patterns that recur in the different domains It presents human rationality as a tool that allows us to make sense of our physical or social surroundings It shows that the resulting cognitive activity produces a broad spectrum of outputs such as scientific models and experimentation gossip and social networks but also ancient and contemporary deities The book consists of three parts the first of which addresses scientific modeling and experimentation and their application to the analysis of scientific rationality Thus this part continues the tradition of eco cognitive epistemology and abduction studies The second part deals with the relationship between social cognition and cognitive niche construction i e the evolutionarily relevant externalization of knowledge onto the environment while the third part focuses on what is commonly defined as irrational thus being in a way dialectically opposed to the first part Here the author demonstrates that the irrational can be analyzed by applying the same epistemological approach used to study scientific rationality and social cognition also in this case we see the emergence of patterns of rationality that regulate the relationships between agents and their environment All in all the book offers a coherent and unitary account of human rationality providing a basis for new conceptual connections and theoretical speculations

The Study of Science and Religion Carl Reinhold Brakenhielm, 2018-06-06 The main aim of this book is to contribute to the relationship between science and religion This book aims to do constructive theological work out of a particular cultural context The point of departure is contemporary Swedish religion and worldviews One focus is the process of biologization i e how the worldviews of the general public in Sweden are shaped by biological science Is there a gap between Swedes in general and the perceptions of Swedish clergy The answer is based on sociological studies on science and religion in Sweden and the United States Furthermore the book contains a study of Swedish theologians from Nathan Soderblom to the present Archbishop Antje Jackelen and their shifting understanding of the relation between science and religion The philosophical aspects of this relation are given special consideration What models of the relation inform the contemporary scholarly discussion Are science and religion in conflict separate or in mutual creative interaction

Church, Market, and Media Marcus Moberg, 2017-07-13 Marcus Moberg offers a new model of religion and religious life in the post war era through focusing on the role of markets and media as vectors of contemporary social and cultural change and therefore institutional religious change While there is wide agreement among sociologists of religion that there this area is transforming on a global scale there is less agreement about how these changes should best be approached and conceptualized In a time of accelerating institutional religious decline institutional Churches have become ever more susceptible to market associated discourse and language and are ever more compelled to adapt to the demands of the present day media environment Using discourse analysis Marcus Moberg tracks how new media and marketing language and concepts have entered Christian thinking and discourse Church Market and Media develops a framework that approaches changes in the contemporary religious field in direct relation to the changing socioeconomic makeup of contemporary societies on the whole Through focusing on the impact of markets and media within the contemporary religious setting of mainline institutional Christian churches in the Western world the book outlines new avenues for further theorizing the study of religious change
