Reader In Post Cultural Revolution Chine:

□□□□□□□□ Vivian Ling Hsu,1990 A Reader in Post-cultural Revolution Chinese Literature ,1988 Cultural Revolution Manuscripts Lena Henningsen,2021-10-06 This book investigates handwritten entertainment fiction shouchaoben wenxue which circulated clandestinely during the Chinese Cultural Revolution Lena Henningsen s analyses of exemplary stories and their variation across different manuscript copies brings to light the creativity of these readers turned copyists Through copying readers modified the stories and became secondary authors who reflected on the realities of the Cultural Revolution Through an enquiry into actual reading practices as mapped in autobiographical accounts and into intertextual references within the stories the book also positions manuscript fiction within the larger reading cosmos of the long 1970s Henningsen analyzes the production circulation and consumption of these texts considering continuities across the alleged divide of the end of the Mao era and the beginning of the reform period The book further reveals how these texts achieved fruitful afterlives as re published bestsellers or as adaptations into comic books or movies continuing to shape the minds of their audience and the imaginations of the past Chapter 5 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com Chinese Science Fiction during the Post-Mao Cultural Thaw Hua Li,2021-06-01 The late 1970s to the mid 1980s a period commonly referred to as the post Mao cultural thaw was a key transitional phase in the evolution of Chinese science fiction This period served as a bridge between science popularization science fiction of the 1950s and 1960s and New Wave Chinese science fiction from the 1990s into the twenty first century Chinese Science Fiction during the Post Mao Cultural Thaw surveys the field of Chinese science fiction and its multimedia practice analysing and assessing science fiction works by well known writers such as Ye Yonglie Zheng Wenguang Tong Enzheng and Xiao Jianheng as well as the often overlooked tech science fiction writers of the post Mao thaw Exploring the socio political and cultural dynamics of science related Chinese literature during this period Hua Li combines close readings of original Chinese literary texts with literary analysis informed by scholarship on science fiction as a genre Chinese literary history and media studies Li argues that this science fiction of the post Mao thaw began its rise as a type of government backed literature yet it often stirred up controversy and received pushback as a contentious and boundary breaking genre Topically structured and interdisciplinary in scope Chinese Science Fiction during the Post Mao Cultural Thaw will appeal to both scholars and fans of science fiction The Reading of Russian Literature in China M. Gamsa,2010-05-24 This book traces the profound influence that Russian literature which was tied inseparably to the political victory of the Russian revolution had on China during a period that saw the collapse of imperial rule and the rise of the Communist Party The China Reader David L. Shambaugh,2016 Chronicles the diverse aspects of this transition since the late 1990s It is comprehensive in scope and draws upon both primary Chinese sources and secondary Western analyses written by the world s leading experts on contemporary China covers the full range of China s internal and external developments From publisher

description The A to Z of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Guo Jian,Yongyi Song,Yuan Zhou,2009-09-17 The Cultural Revolution in the People's Republic of China started in 1966 and lasted about a decade This revolutionary upsurge of Chinese students and workers led by Mao Zedong wreaked havoc in the world's most populous country often turning things upside down and undermining the party government and army while simultaneously weakening the economy society and culture Tens of millions of people were killed injured or imprisoned during this period and relatively few benefited aside from Mao Zedong and the Gang of Four the group that would eventually receive the blame for the events of the Cultural Revolution Given the turbulence and confusion it is hard to know just what happened The A to Z of the Chinese Cultural Revolution tackles this task First in an extensive chronology which traces the events from year to year and month to month then in an introduction puts these events in context and helps to explain them But most importantly the bulk of the information is provided in a dictionary section with numerous cross referenced entries on important persons places institutions and movements A bibliography points to further sources of information and a glossary will help those researching in Chinese

Reading the Right Text Xiaomei Chen,2003-07-31 Reading the Right Text introduces six new plays from contemporary China five of which are translated here into English for the first time Chosen from a wide variety of well received dramas of the period each play represents the traditions and changes in a particular subgenre regional theater proletarian theater women's theater history plays and experimental theater Xiaomei Chen's wide ranging and perceptive introduction locates the plays in the political and cultural history of modern China to demonstrate the interrelationship between theater history society and everyday experience She highlights the origin and development of the different sub genres and outlines critical approaches from numerous fields including gender studies performance studies subaltern studies and comparative cultural studies Quite apart from their importance as theater these plays are crucial for a fully rounded understanding of the cultural dynamics involved in the transition from Maoist to post Mao China from socialist realist drama to the post socialist response to a market economy and a society in flux Asia: Case Studies in the Social Sciences - A Guide for Teaching Myron

Readers, Reading and Reception of Translated Fiction in Chinese Leo Tak-hung Chan, 2014-04-08 Translated fiction has largely been under theorized if not altogether ignored in literary studies Though widely consumed translated novels are still considered secondary versions of foreign masterpieces Readers Reading and Reception of Translated Fiction in Chinese recognizes that translated novels are distinct from non translated novels just as they are distinct from the originals from which they are derived but they are neither secondary nor inferior They provide different models of reality they are split apart by two languages two cultures and two literary systems and they are characterized by cultural hybridity double voicing and multiple intertextualities With the continued popularity of translated fiction questions related to its reading and reception take on increasing significance Chan draws on insights from textual and narratological studies to unravel the processes through which readers interact with translated fiction Moving from individual readings to collective reception he considers how lay Chinese readers as a community received translated British fiction at specific historical moments during the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Case studies discussed include translations of stream of consciousness novels fantasy fiction and postmodern works In addition to lay readers two further kinds of reader with bilingual facility are examined the way critics and historians approach translated fiction is investigated from structuralist and poststructuralist perspectives A range of novels by well known British authors constitute the core of the study including novels by Oscar Wilde James Joyce D H Lawrence Virginia Woolf John Fowles Helen Fielding and J K Rowling

Reading China Against the Grain Carlos Rojas, Mei-hwa Sung, 2020-10-28 Through an analysis of a wide array of contemporary Chinese literature from inside and outside of China this volume considers some of the ways in which China and Chineseness are understood and imagined Using the central theme of the way in which literature has the potential to both reinforce and to undermine a national imaginary the volume contains chapters offering new perspectives on well known authors from Jin Yucheng to Nobel Prize winning Mo Yan as well as chapters focusing on authors rarely included in discussions of contemporary Chinese literature such as the expatriate authors Larissa Lai and Xiaolu Guo The volume is complemented by chapters covering more marginalized literary figures throughout history such as Macau born poet Yiling the Malaysian born novelist Zhang Guixing and the ethnically Korean author Kim Hak ch l Invested in issues ranging from identity and representation to translation and grammar it is one of the few publications of its kind devoting comparable attention to authors from Mainland China authors from Manchuria Macau and Taiwan and throughout the global Chinese diaspora Reading China Against the Grain Imagining Communities is a rich resource of literary criticism for students and scholars of Chinese studies sinophone studies and comparative literature The Gender/sexuality Reader Roger N.
