Reading Development Of Nonnative Speakers Of English:

Reading Development of Nonnative Speakers of English John G. Barnitz, 1985-01-01 A state of the art report on the development of native and second language reading skills in nonnative English speakers begins with a review of the reading process and the relationship of language to the reading process The second chapter reviews various levels of language and relates them to reading and learning to read a first and second language Two questions are addressed 1 to what extent do language proficiency or language differences affect reading and learning to read a second language and 2 what principles and methods are useful in facilitating the nonnative speaker s acquisition of English literacy First and second language reading research is examined and compared and teaching strategies and techniques are reviewed Finally some related issues in applied linguistics and second language literacy are discussed including 1 the relationship of orthographies bilingualism and reading 2 initial literacy in the native vs the second language 3 similarities and differences in learning to read in different languages and 4 needs in teacher education programs concerning language differences and reading Suggestions for further reading a list of organizational resources and a bibliography are included MSE

Pivotal Research in Early Literacy Christina M. Cassano, Susan M. Dougherty, 2018-07-19 This reader friendly text examines the key foundational studies in early literacy It addresses such essential questions as how research informs current practices and where the field still needs to go to provide the best learning opportunities for all children Each chapter describes the methods and findings of one to five seminal studies critically assesses their long term impact on practice and policy and offers takeaways for the classroom Leading authorities including several authors of the original pivotal studies cover 12 essential aspects of language development literacy development and home and community literacy experiences in PreK 2

Handbook of Reading Research, Volume II Rebecca Barr, Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P David Pearson, 2016-11-18 A comprehensive overview of important contemporary issues in the field of reading research from the mid 1980s to mid 1990s this well received volume offers readers an examination of literacy through a variety of lenses some permitting microscopic views and others panoramic views A veritable who s who of specialists in the field chapter authors cover current methodology as well as cumulative research based knowledge Because it deals with society and literacy the first section provides the broadest possible view of literacy The second section defines the range of activities culturally determined to be a part of the enterprise known as literacy The third focuses on the processes that individuals engage in when they perform the act of reading The fourth section visits the environment in which the knowledge that comprises literacy is passed on from one generation to the next The last section an epilogue to the whole enterprise of reading research provides apt philosophical reflection

Reading Development in a Second Language Elizabeth Buchter Bernhardt, 1991 Bernhardt advocates more principled research and instruction in second language literacy This book is a personal statement based on her own theory and research as well as that of others It provides a comprehensive review of what is known about the second language reading process based on principles drawn from the synthesis of empirical data The discussion is set forth from four main perspectives an examination of theoretical models of the reading process and their application to second language contexts a synthesis of empirical data of second language reading research from 1973 to 1989 descriptions of reader based interactions with second language texts and curriculum instruction and assessment

Interactive Approaches to Second Language Reading Patricia L. Carrell, Joanne Devine, David E. Eskey, 1988-04-29 Emphasis is on English as a second language Reading Development of Nonnative Speakers of English Prepared by ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics John G. Barnitz, 1985
