Fr. Sebastian Callistus

Reflecting Grace:

Reflecting Grace Jared Byrns, 2020-02-19 Grace can change anyone's life. It is easy to treat people with kindness when they deserve it. But Jesus taught that even the tax collectors could manage to love their friends. He expects more from His followers. Matthew 5:43-48. God expects us to show kindness to those who do not deserve it. This undeserved kindness is grace. Grace is not easy, but in our times of difficulty, God teaches Christians to show grace all while giving us the grace we need as well. In Reflecting Grace, Jared Byrns recalls the painful circumstances God used to teach him the importance of grace and explores how we can learn to reflect God's kindness to those who need it most.

Grace Looks Amazing on You Amy Seiffert, 2020-04-07 What if today is the perfect time to notice God's grace in one another? Women are so often weighed down by comparison, anxiety, and fear that the idea that grace could look amazing on them feels unbelievable. But all around us are flashes of grace shining examples of God's love. Amy Seiffert says it's the everyday moments that Jesus shines through: making time for a friend even when your to-do list is pages long; apologizing to your neighbor when you don't want to admit you are wrong; opening the Bible when your soul feels hollow and empty. Making the choice to accept God's limitless love no matter what and reflecting it back to the world around you. That's when His grace looks amazing on you. A perfect gift to affirm and encourage any woman. Grace Looks Amazing on You is a timeless Christian message packed with personal story and reflection. Scripture and deep biblical truth. This 100-day devotional will help you change your perspective so you can confidently radiate the grace of Christ.

Reflection-in-Motion Jaclyn Fiscus-Cannaday, 2025-05-23 Reflection in Motion considers how reflective practice is embedded in daily course happenings, centering the experiences of students and teachers in Minority Serving Institutions to amplify underrepresented viewpoints about how reflection works in the writing classroom. Jaclyn Fiscus-Cannaday examines how its availability is subject to teacher-student power dynamics, the literacies welcomed or not in the class, the past and present pedagogies that students are engaging with and attending to, and the interactions among humans, materials, and emotions within the rhetorical context. She adopts an intersectional feminist perspective for an inclusive view of how practitioners name, identify, and practice reflection in the everyday moments of writing classrooms. Fiscus-Cannaday invokes a Black feminist qualitative research method that Venus Evans-Winters calls a mosaic. When researchers collect both traditional and nontraditional texts to create a full view of students and teachers, interviews at three institutions: a Hispanic Serving Institution, a Historically Black College and University, and an Asian American Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution, she finds that practitioners often build definitions from past experiences with reflection and then use those definitions as terministic screens to decide if an activity can be named, identified, and practiced as reflection. These definitions hold different rhetorical effects: reflection for introspection, reflection for learning, reflection for mindfulness, and reflection for awareness. Reflection is used for these different rhetorical effects, but because classrooms so often focus on the Westernized view and its emphasis on growth, reflection has the underused and undertheorized potential.

rhetorical effect of helping students investigate their identities and positionalities acknowledge deep rooted ideologies and consider new perspectives so they can better work across difference Reflection in Motion will inspire teachers and writing program administrators to listen to how students define and practice reflection and why thus making room for more capacious definitions of reflection and student centered practices of what reflection can do and be Discovering God David Jeremiah,2015-11 No matter how much time you spend in Scripture there is always something new to discover be it a fresh take on a favorite verse or a hidden nugget of wisdom you ve simply never noticed before That s the beauty of God s Word In Discovering God New York Times bestselling author Dr David Jeremiah distills the wisdom of the Bible into 365 beautifully crafted devotional readings that will help ground and guide you every day of the coming year Featuring specially selected Bible verses and quotations from such respected Christian thinkers and writers as C S Lewis Charles H Spurgeon A W Tozer J I Packer D L Moody and countless others this stunning pocket sized devotional is sure to enhance and enrich your daily walk with God Novena for true devotion to Mary Fr. The Retreat of Representation Martha B. Helfer, 1996-03-28 The Retreat of Representation is the first book length study to examine the radical new notion of Darstellung in its own discursive context Martha Helfer traces the term's genealogy from its inception in Kant's Critiques through Fichte's definition of the subject as Darstellung to the poetic theory and praxis of the Jena Romantics She argues that the conceptually powerful yet tremendously problematic figure of the negative Darstellung of the Kantian sublime opens up the possibility of a poetization of the philosophical discourse of transcendental idealism and ultimately demonstrates that Kleist's oeuvre constitutes a critique of transcendental theories of Darstellung Helfer provides remarkably clear concise readings of major texts of Idealism and Romanticism in light of the Darstellung problematic advancing compelling interpretations of Novalis's Hymns to the Night as a theory of the Romantic
