Administrative Reform in Post-Mao China Stephen K. Ma, 1996 This book analyzes China's bureaucratic behavior since the inauguration of administrative reform in the late 1970s Although bureaucratic behavior in China in the past decade was increasingly corrupted this aspect of China's post Mao reform has not been subjected to a rigorous scrutiny This book explores the gulf between desired and the actual bureaucratic behavior among China's public administrators The author argues that this behavioral gap in China's modernization stems from several factors including the nation's cultural heritage the ruling party's approach to government and the absence of trusted full fledged academic groups assigned to advise on administrative reform The book then probes one of the gravest consequences of the behavioral gap reform corruption a phenomenon which seems to be a mixed blessing of modernization

Education and Reform in China Emily Hannum, Albert Park, 2012-11-12 Transformative market reforms in China since the late 1970s have improved living standards dramatically but have also led to unprecedented economic inequality During this period China's educational system was restructured to support economic development with educational reforms occurring at a startling pace Today the educational system has diversified in structure finance and content it has become more market oriented and it is serving an increasingly diverse student population These changes carry significant consequences for China's social mobility and inequality and future economic prospects In Education and Reform in China leading scholars in the fields of education sociology demography and economics investigate the evolution of educational access and attainment educational quality and the economic consequences of being educated Education and Reform in China shows that economic advancement is increasingly tied to education in China even as educational services are increasingly marketized The volume investigates the varying impact of change for different social ethnic economic and geographic groups Offering interdisciplinary views on the changing role of education in Chinese society and on China's educational achievements and policy challenges this book will be an important resource for those interested in education public policy and development issues in China China and Globalization Doug Guthrie,2012 An accessible introductory text on contemporary China this book covers the social economic and political factors responsible for China's revolutionary changes and interweaves this structural analysis with a consideration of social changes at the micro and macro levels China In The Post-utopian Age Christopher J. Smith,2019-04-11 China in the Post Utopian Age is an interdisciplinary book about China in the post utopian age focusing on the transformations that have occurred during the leaderships of Deng Xiaoping and Jiang Zemin throughout the 1980s and 1990s The Institutional Transition of China's Township and Village Enterprises Hongyi Chen,2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 This work provides a new insight into China's township and village enterprises TVEs It views the governance structure of TVEs as effectively combining the comparative advantage of local government officials in external management and of dual firm managers in internal management to overcome imperfections in both market and government during the transitional period Through extensive field investigation analysis and case studies this work shows that the governance structure of TVEs has been evolving during the past fifteen years To adapt to the changing environment TVEs have continuously innovated firm contractual form from a government official dominant fixed wage form to a partnership style profit sharing form then to a privatization oriented fixed rent form This work develops a complete model to explain how the central government's partial reform efforts in market liberalization have become the driving force to induce the contractual form innovation and to explicate how heterogeneity in firms technical structures and in local economic settings may affect local government's decisions regarding contractual form innovation Using the author's unique data set the model simulations predict that the development in the whole market system will result in the diffusion of contractual form innovation and lead to an induced privatization in this sector The following empirical studies show this to be a powerful prediction and the progress toward such induced privatization can be expected in China in near future This research work provides a rich empirical study on China's institutional transition towards a market system It explains how a bottom up endogenous instead of top down exogenous property rights reform can be realized in transitional economies This work will serve as a valuable reference for researchers and students in economics economic development and institutional economics and especially for those interested in research China in the Global Economy Reforming China's Enterprises OECD,2000-09-05 This volume describes the main reforms that are being undertaken in China's enterprises the progress that is being made the problems that are being encountered and the challenges that remain to be overcome The Everyday Impact of Economic Reform in China Ying Zhu,Michael Webber,John Benson,2010-05-11 During the past 30 years China has undergone extensive economic reform replacing the government's administration of enterprises with increasing levels of market oriented enterprise autonomy At the heart of the reform are changes in the employment relationship where state control has been superseded by market relationships These reforms have had far reaching implications for many aspects of everyday life in Chinese society This book appraises the impact of the economic reforms on the employment relationship and in turn examines the effects on individual workers and their families including salaries working conditions and satisfaction job security and disparities based on location gender age skill position and migrant status In particular it focuses on how changes in the employment relationship have affected the livelihood strategies of households It explores the changing human resource management practices and employment relations in different types of enterprises including State Owned Enterprises Foreign Owned Enterprises and Domestic Private Enterprises throughout different industries focusing especially on textiles clothing and footwear and the electronics industry and in different regions and cities within China Beijing Haerbin Lanzhou Hangzhou Wuhan and Kunming Overall this book provides a detailed account of the everyday implications of economic reform for individuals and families in China

Foreign Direct Investment in Transitional Economies Michael Du Pont, 2000-08-17 Foreign Direct Investment in Transitional Economies presents a detailed investigation into the recent changes in the patterns and determinants in inflows of FDI to transitional economies The author re-evaluates conventional theories of FDI and analyses the many changes taking place in the nature of international business both in terms of the drives of the trans border transactions and the strategic orientation of the firms that engage in those transactions This comparative investigation is based on original research detailing the experiences of FDI in the economies of China and Poland through case studies of over 200 multinationals and takes into account the dynamic forces of globalization and their effects on FDI

Economic Reforms and Political Attempts in China 1979-1989 Barna Talas, 2012-12-06 In our quickly changing world authors who are analyzing the social economic and political processes going on in different countries often find themselves in a situation where the development of processes they have already described take a turn in another direction before their work is in final form or appears in print As a consequence some of their statements are no longer valid More rarely it occurs that after the writing of a book presenting a reform process covering 10 years the writing itself taking one and a half years exceptional events take place in the given country within 1 or 2 months of the delivery of the manuscript that indicate a sharp break in this process one that makes it doubtful whether the process can continue along the same channel This is what has happened to this text and to its author at the beginning of June 1989 when in Beijing after the brutal suppression of student demonstrations and of protests lasting several weeks the General Secretary of the Communist Party of China Zhao Ziyang was relieved of his office and arrested along with several other prominent representatives of reform policy and reform endeavors of the past decade The manuscript of this book was handed over to the publisher on May 4 1989 for editing Immediately thereafter I left for nearly 2 months in the United States consequently I did not receive the manuscript again
