El nuevo Apocalipsis Homero Aridjis, 2020-08-05 El Apocalipsis ser obra del hombre y no de Dios es el dictum persistente con el que Homero Aridjis nos avis hace casi cincuenta años de lo que estamos viviendo y de lo que estaba por venir Fue una profecía de la destrucción que nos debe inquietar un pronóstico sobre todo ecológico de quien ha hecho de la lucha medioambiental el eje de su obra literaria y de su compromiso con la vida Aridjis ha escrito las páginas finales para este libro El nuevo Apocalipsis en los días de una pandemia que amenaza a la humanidad En la presente antología el lector encontrar junto a una profecía antigua reactualizada la grandeza de una literatura que está entre las más valoradas de México y Latinoamérica Y hallar también la belleza de una escritura que se sedimenta en una terrible posibilidad que ha de entenderse sobre todo como una llamada militante que nos invita a reaccionar La selección de textos y las introducciones críticas a los distintos apartados a cargo de los profesores Jos Carlos Rovira Anbal Salazar Anglada y Víctor Manuel Sanchis Amat constituyen una completa visión de uno de los mundos y las obsesiones de un creador universal y necesario

Latin American Novels of the Conquest Kimberle S. López, 2002 The fictionalized explorers and conquistadors represented in this corpus all identify with certain aspects of Amerindian culture significantly those elements that are most distinct from European culture such as cannibalism and human sacrifice but also feel the need to distance themselves from these others in order to protect their own European cultural identity In most cases the conquistadors themselves are represented as outsiders within the enterprise of imperialism due to ethnic religious or sexual differences from the norm This representation turns the gaze inward toward the other within European culture underscoring the complex origins of Latin American cultures in the violent encounter between the Amerindians and the conquistadors By examining these issues Lopez's Latin American Novels of the Conquest illuminates the ways in which Latin American novelists used their literary imaginations to embody their ambivalence regarding their own transcultural heritage as children of both the colonized and the colonizer

The Lord of the Last Days Homero Aridjis, 1995 In 10th Century Spain the conflict between Christians and Moors through the eyes of twin brothers Born to a caliph and his concubine the boys paths divide in childhood one to become a Christian monk the other a Saracen warrior then come together in a battle on opposing sides By the author of 1492

Utopian Dreams, Apocalyptic Nightmares Miguel López-Lozano, 2008 Utopian Dreams Apocalyptic Nightmares traces the history of utopian representations of the Americas first on the part of the colonizers who idealized the New World as an earthly paradise and later by Latin American modernizing elites who imagined Western industrialization cosmopolitanism and consumption as a utopian dream for their independent societies Carlos Fuentes Homero Aridjis Carmen Boullosa and Alejandro Morales utilize the literary genre of dystopian science fiction to elaborate on how globalization has resulted in the alienation of indigenous peoples and the deterioration of the ecology This book concludes that Mexican and Chicano perspectives on the past and the future of their societies constitute a key site for the analysis of the problems of underdevelopment social injustice and ecological decay that plague today's world Whereas utopian discourse was once used to justify colonization Mexican and Chicano writers now deploy dystopian rhetoric to interrogate projects of modernization contributing to the current debate on the global expansion of capitalism The narratives coincide in expressing confidence in the ability of Latin American and U S Latino popular sectors to claim a decisive role in the implementation of enhanced measures to guarantee an ecologically sound ethnically diverse and just society for the future of the Americas Aztec and Maya Apocalypses Mark Z.

Christensen, 2022-07-14 The Second Coming of Christ the resurrection of the dead the Final Judgment the Apocalypse is central to Christianity and has evolved throughout Christianity's long history Thus when ecclesiastics brought the Apocalypse to Indigenous audiences in the Americas both groups adapted it further reflecting new political and social circumstances The religious texts in Aztec and Maya Apocalypses many translated for the first time provide an intriguing picture of this process revealing the influence of European Aztec and Maya worldviews on portrayals of Doomsday by Spanish priests and Indigenous authors alike The Apocalypse and Christian eschatology played an important role in the conversion of the Indigenous population and often appeared in the texts and sermons composed for their consumption Through these writings from the sixteenth to the early nineteenth century priests' official texts and Indigenous authors' rendering of them Mark Z Christensen traces Maya and Nahuatl influences both stylistic and substantive while documenting how extensively Old World content and meaning were absorbed into Indigenous texts Visions of world endings and beginnings were not new to the Indigenous cultures of America Christensen shows how and why certain formulations such as the Fifteen Signs of Doomsday found receptive audiences among the Maya and the Aztec with religious ramifications extending to the present day These translated texts provide the opportunity to see firsthand the negotiations that ecclesiastics and Indigenous people engaged in when composing their eschatological treatises With their insights into how various ecclesiastics Nahuas and Mayas preached and even understood Catholicism they offer a uniquely detailed deeply informed perspective on the process of forming colonial religion Postmodern Artistry in Medievalist Fiction Earl R. Anderson, 2018-06-21 Focusing on modern day fiction set in the Middle Ages or that incorporates medieval elements this study examines storytelling components and rhetorical tropes in more than 60 works in five languages by more than 40 authors Medievalist fiction got its postmodern start with such authors as Calvino Fuentes Carpentier and Eco Its momentum increased since the 1990s with writers whose work has received less critical attention like Laura Esquivel Tariq Ali Matthew Pearl Matilde Asensi Ildefonso Falcones Andrew Davison Bernard Cornwell Donna Woolf Cross Ariana Franklin Nicole Griffith Levi Grossman Conn Iggulden Edward Rutherfurd Javier Sierra Alan Moore and Brenda Vantrease The author explores a wide range of medievalizing tropes discusses the negative responses of postmodernism and posits four hard problems in medievalist fiction Approaching the End of the Millennium Homero Aridjis, 1995 A brief review of past centuries the present and next millennium in
