Sense About Defense The Report Of The Labour Party Defence Study Group:

The Defense Economic Adjustment Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Employment Opportunities,1983 Economic Adjustment And Conversion Of Defense Industries John E. Lynch,2019-04-08 Defense plant cutbacks and military base closures have affected hundreds of U S communities during the past twenty five years Tracing the recovery of four communities after large defense plant cutbacks and of one hundred communities after military base closures the contributors analyze the transition from the production of military to civilian goods The contributors examine the market potential of reusing defense industrial plants to produce civilian products within the one to two year period called for by economic conversion proponents showing that the complex process needed to develop test and market an entirely new product requires a minimum of five years They also review the wide range of economic development techniques available at the state and local level conversion approaches in Western Europe programs for displaced workers and reasons why the economic conversion approach has failed to attract public support in the United States The case studies are used to formulate an integrated composite approach for coping with plant closures and major employment dislocations Stressing the importance of community based economic adjustment activities this book will be valuable to all concerned with mitigating the effects of military and civilian plant closures British Defence Policy Since 1945 Ritchie Ovendale,1994 Based on excerpts from original sources this book provides an introduction to the controversies and dilemmas that have confronted those making and implementing British defence policy since the end of World War II Ovendale explores the policy dilemmas caused by Britain's parallel commitments to continental Europe and to a global foreign policy the legacy of her imperial past He also examines the decision in 1957 to rely on the nuclear deterrent abolish conscription and move away from a maritime strategy and the role of the Treasury in dictating the limits of British defence policy Disarming Military Industries Peter Southwood,1991-06-18 The author notes in the preface that an opportunity for significant cuts in nuclear and conventional forces by major global powers has appeared Presenting the evidence that the West can cope successfully with disarmament he identifies policies which need to be adopted for that end The Defence of the Realm in the 1980s Dan Smith,2021-01-26 This book first published in 1980 is a close analysis of Britain's defence policy in the latter years of the Cold War It examines the factors that limited the choices available to the governments of the day including technological advances costs changes in the balance of power strategic thinking in both West and East and the consequent implications for the development of forces and arms National Union Catalog ,1979 Includes entries for maps and atlases Foreign Assistance Legislation for Fiscal Year 1979 United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations,1978 Subject Catalog, 1979 Library of Congress,1979 Economic Conversion United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking, Finance, and Urban Affairs. Subcommittee on Economic Stabilization,1989 Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1979 New Conventional Weapons and Western Defence Ian Bellany,Tim

Huxley,2013-11-26 Giving an overview of research and development in weaponry in the maritime and aviation sphere as well as land based technology this study looks forward to the effects of emerging innovations on defence policy making

Democratic Socialism and the Cost of Defence Mary Kaldor,Dan Smith,Steve Vines,2018-12-07 First published in 1979 The report of the Labour Party Defence Study Group which met from early 1975 to mid 1977 represents a unique attempt to portray defence policy in the context of disarmament and the need to restructure and control the institutions of defence in particular the defence industry The report presented the fullest study made by any British political party concerning the implications and consequences of its stated defence policy and embodied an examination of defence from the perspective of approaches of disarmament At the same time the search for a new policy in international relations was harmonised with the further development of a new industrial strategy concentrating upon the potential for converting part of military industry to civil work This work which presents a distinctive intervention in the general debate concerning defence policy industrial and technological planning economic priorities and public policy will be of considerable relevance to both specialists in each of these fields as well as the general reader The Global Politics of Arms Sales Andrew J. Pierre,2014-07-14 Marshaling a great deal of new information in a highly readable manner the author explains the reasons for the dramatic expansion of arms sales during the past decade and clearly traces such trends as the rise in sophistication of weapons being sold so as to include the most advanced technologies and the shift in sales to unstable parts of the Third World Originally published in 1982 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Labour Party Defence Policy Since 1945 Dan Keohane,1993 Air Power in the Next Generation Edgar Feuchtwanger,A. Mason,1979-06-17 The Demilitarized Society Seymour Melman,1988

Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1978 Secrecy, Public Relations and the British Nuclear Debate Daniel Salisbury,2020-02-06 This book constitutes an original archival history of government secrecy public relations and the debate surrounding nuclear weapons in Britain from 1970 to 1983 The book contrasts the secrecy and near silence of the Heath Wilson and Callaghan governments on nuclear issues in the 1970s with the increasingly vocal case made for the possession of nuclear weapons by the first Thatcher government following a shift in approach in 1980 This shift occurred against a background of rising Cold War tensions and a growing public nuclear debate in the UK The book seeks to contextualise and explain this transformation considering the role of party politics structures and personalities inside the government and external influences notably the role of investigative journalists and think tanks in cracking open official secrecy and demanding justification for Britain s possession of nuclear weapons and the peace movement in driving increasingly assertive public relations from 1980 The book draws on material from archives and interviews with key figures involved to provide an original and engaging account It argues that this process of opening up saw significant disclosure of nuclear policy for the first time and the most extensive public justification of the British nuclear capability to date which has shaped public understanding of British nuclear weapons into the twenty first century This book will be of much interest to students of British politics Cold War studies nuclear politics and security studies In Pursuit of Disarmament Inga Thorsson, 1984 The Uncertain Union Robert Geyer, 1997 It is a comparison of the divergent development of the British and Norwegian labour parties EU policies in the 1980s and 1990s
