An Academic Skating on Thin Ice Peter Worsley, 2008-04-01 Peter Worsley's studies at Cambridge were interrupted by war service as a communist officer in the colonial forces in Africa and India and it was here that he developed a keen interest in anthropology He work in mass education in Tanganyika and then studied with Max Gluckman at Manchester University Banned from re entering Africa Worsley went to Australia where he was banned once more this time from New Guinea yet he did succeed in completing field research for his Ph D on an Australian Aboriginal tribe His subsequent book on Cargo cults in Melanesia is now regarded as a classic but his left wing politics ensured that he could not get a job in anthropology so he switched to sociology on his return to Manchester

Cargo Cult Lamont Lindstrom, 2019-03-31 Who is not captivated by tales of Islanders earnestly scanning their watery horizons for great fleets of cargo ships bringing rice radios and refrigerators ships that will never arrive Of all the stories spun about the island peoples of Melanesia tales of cargo cult are among the most fascinating The term cargo cult Lamont Lindstrom contends is one of anthropology's most successful conceptual offspring Like culture worldview and ethnicity its usage has steadily proliferated migrating into popular culture where today it is used to describe an astonishing roll call of people It's history makes for lively and compelling reading The cargo cult story Lindstrom shows is more significant than it at first appears for it recapitulates in summary form three generations of anthropological theory and Pacific studies Although anthropologists enthusiasm for the notion of cargo cult has waned it now colors outsiders understanding of Melanesian culture and even Melanesians perceptions of themselves The repercussions for contemporary Islanders are significant leaders of more than one political movement have felt the need to deny that they are any kind of cargo cultist Of particular interest to this history is Lindstrom's argument that accounts of cargo cult are at heart tragedies of thwarted desire melancholy anticipation and crazy unrequited love He makes a convincing case that these stories expose powerful Western scenarios of desire itself giving cargo cult its combined titillation of the fascinating exotic and the comfortably familiar

Korean Battle Chronology Richard E. Ecker, 2015-05-07 On June 28 1950 five U S airmen died when their aircraft were shot down over Korea They became the first U S casualties in a war that started three days earlier when the North Korean People s Army crossed the 38th parallel and invaded the Republic of South Korea The losses of U S military personnel that began with those five airmen would continue for 37 months and would ultimately total 33 985 American fatalities and more than 100 000 other American casualties This is a history of U S involvement in the Korean War as told through those casualties by the dates they occurred their causes their numbers and the units in which they served and through all Medal of Honor citations given in full The work is subdivided into three units The Peninsular War Active Defense and The War of the Hills Armor ,1966 The Royal Court Theatre and the Modern Stage Philip Roberts,1999-11-25 The Royal Court Theatre is one of the primary forums in the development of post war drama Under the title of the English Stage Company the theatre s house actors and dramatists commissioned and produced some of the most influential plays in modern theatre history including the works of Brenton Churchill Bond and Osborne The story of the Royal Court is also the history of the contemporary stage In this absorbing account of the theatre s history from 1956 to 1998 Philip Roberts draws on previously unpublished archives in both public and private collections and a series of interviews with people prominent in the Court s life The book also includes a Foreword by the former Director of the Royal Court Max Stafford Clark The result is an intimate account of the working of the foremost house of modern drama and its relationships to the world of the theatre in Britain and abroad Who's who in the Theatre ,1981 Air Force Cadet Winston Forde,2010-09-22 This story was written as one of a series of books covering some familiar professions intended to entertain as well as inform It was a glorious opportunity for the new author to write about his most unusual choice of a career and life after school whilst others were going for the traditional professions of Law Medicine and Engineering The Story starts with the main Character Ola just about to end his school days at the Prince of Wales School and applying for a Cadetship at the Royal Air force College Cranwell in Lincolnshire United Kingdom Even for the British candidates that training leading to a Commission in the Royal Air Force was only available to a select few and so this was bound to be dealing with the mainly unknown Soon after his acceptance by a local Selection Board Ola embarks on a series of personal experiences that took him overseas to Europe for the first time and a life in a Temperate country with quite different customs and weather He has little time to adjust to his new way of life and to attend a proper Selection Board before arriving at the College to start his training and life as a Flight Cadet that would last over a period of three years The reader is made to feel every bit of this military and exciting journey involving so many special programmes that would turn those young men into fully trained pilot officers on Passing Out The jewel in the story is of course Olas experiences in the air whilst flying in trainer aircraft or in gliders and this together with the adventure comradeship and achievements gained through discipline and determination would leave any young reader wanting more Ironically Winston ends his career working with the young cadets in the Air Training Corps who would undoubtedly find this riveting reading
