October Eight Oclock Stories:

Short Story Index ,1994 More Matter John Updike,2009-02-19 In this collection of nonfiction pieces John Updike gathers his responses to nearly two hundred invitations into print each an opportunity to make something beautiful to find within oneself a treasure that would otherwise remain buried Introductions reviews and humorous essays paragraphs on New York religion and lust here is more matter commissioned by an age that as the author remarks in his Preface calls for real stuff not for the obliquities and tenuousities of fiction Still the novelist s shaping hand his gift for telling detail can be detected in many of these literary considerations Books by Edith Wharton Dawn Powell John Cheever and Vladimir Nabokov are incisively treated as are biographies of Isaac Newton Abraham Lincoln Queen Elizabeth II and Helen Keller As George Steiner observed Updike writes with a solicitous almost tender intelligence The critic and the poet in him are at no odds with the novelist the same sharpness of apprehension bears on the object in each of Updike s modes The story of H.M.S. 'Powerful'. From the diary of a 'Powerful' man Powerful ship,1900 Bulletin of the Minneapolis Institute of Arts Minneapolis Institute of Arts,1921 Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling,Frederick Denison Maurice,Henry Stebbing,Charles Wentworth Dilke,Thomas Kibble Hervey,William Hepworth Dixon,Norman Maccoll,Vernon Horace Rendall,John Middleton Murry,1861 The Story of the Great War (Vol. 1-8) Various Authors,2023-12-16 The Story of the Great War Vol 1 8 is a comprehensive and meticulously curated anthology that chronicles the First World War providing a multi faceted exploration of the global conflict Through a blend of eyewitness accounts military analysis and socio political commentary these volumes capture the complexity and the tragic grandeur of a war that reshaped the world The literary style ranges from poignant personal narratives to analytical essays reflecting the diverse experiences of soldiers and civilians alike all while situating these narratives within the broader historical context of early 20th century geopolitics The anthology is the collaborative effort of various authors each contributing unique perspectives influenced by their backgrounds as historians journalists and combatants This convergence of voices serves to honor the collective memories of those impacted by the war Their motivations likely stem from a desire to not only portray the realities of war but also to prevent the amnesia that often accompanies historical trauma ensuring that the lessons learned from such conflict resonate with future generations This monumental collection is an essential read for anyone interested in understanding the profound effects of World War I whether for academic study or personal enlightenment The rich vivid storytelling coupled with scholarly insight makes it an invaluable resource for history enthusiasts students and anyone seeking to comprehend the complexities of this pivotal moment in human history Ocean to Ocean on Horseback: Being the Story of a Tour in the Saddle From the Atlantic to the Pacific With Especial Reference to the Early History and Devel Willard W. Glazier,2020-09-28 It was the intention of the writer to publish a narrative descriptive of his overland tour from the Atlantic to the Pacific soon after returning from California in 1876 and his excuse for the delay in publication is that a variety of circumstances compelled him to postpone for a time the duty of arranging the contents of his journal until other pressing matters had been satisfactorily attended to Again considerable unfinished literary work set aside when he began preparation for crossing the Continent had to be resumed and for these reasons the story of his journey from Ocean to Ocean on Horseback is only now ready for the printer In view of this delay in going to press the author will endeavor to show a due regard for the changes time has wrought along his line of march and while noting the incidents of his long ride from day to day it has been his aim so far as possible to discuss the regions traversed the growth of cities and the development of their industries from the standpoint of the present From earliest boyhood it had been my earnest desire to see and learn from personal observation all that was possible of the wonderful land of my birth Passing from the schoolroom to the War of the Rebellion and thence back to the employments of peace the old longing to make a series of journeys over the American Continent again took possession of me and was the controlling incentive of all my ambitions and struggles for many years To see New England the home of my ancestors to visit the Middle and Western States to look upon the majestic Mississippi to cross the Great Plains to scale the mountains and to look through the Golden Gate upon the far off Pacific were among the cherished desires through which my fancy wandered before leaving the Old Home and village school in Northern New York The want of an education and the want of money were two serious obstacles which confronted me for a time Without the former I could not prosecute my journeys intelligently and for want of the latter I could not even attempt them Aspiring to an academic and collegiate course of study but being at that period entirely without means for the accomplishment of my purpose I left the district school of my native town and sought to raise the necessary funds by trapping for mink and other fur bearing animals along the Oswegatchie and its tributary streams This venture proving successful I entered the academy at Gouverneur in August 1857 from which institution I was appointed to the State Normal College at Albany in the fall of 1859 I had been in Albany but six weeks when it became apparent that if I continued at the Normal I would soon be compelled to part with my last dollar for board and clothing
