The Two Germanies and Military Security in Europe C. Bluth, 2002-10-31 This original study based on documents hitherto not discussed in literature of the Cold War adds a significant new perspective to an important episode in Cold War History The subject of this book is the policy of the two Germanies towards the talks on Mutual and Balanced Force Reductions MBFR in Europe during the 1970s Negotiations on MBFR continued for a long time without progress There has been much speculation about the motivations of the Eastern side This book makes use of newly declassified files and for the first time reveals the true purposes and intentions of the Warsaw Pact in those negotiations

Critique of Security Mark Neocleous, 2008-05-12 This book brings together a range of diverse discussions about security in order to sustain a genuine critique of the subject It is unique in its examination of the historical and political links between social security and national security and in its assessment of the way that emergency powers as the most intense realisation of the rhetoric of national security have been synthesised with normal law Among other ideas and concepts Mark Neocleous discusses the place of security in the liberal tradition of political theory Building on insights from Foucault and Marx he argues that liberalism's central category is not liberty but security He also deals with the role of security in justifying the introduction and continuation of emergency powers through a historical excavation of the state of emergency a political reading of the way emergency powers are only tangentially concerned with warfare and a theoretical reading of the debate between Schmitt and Benjamin
