Shaping China's Future In World Affairs Robert G Sutter, 2019-06-26 This book considers Chinese foreign policy and China's future role in world affairs in the context of the country's recent past Robert Sutter shows that although it appears to be in U.S. interests for post-Mao leaders to continue moving toward international norms a post-Deng leadership backed by growing economic and military power and reflecting profound changes in China's economy and society could move in markedly different directions Most foreign powers appear willing to accommodate China avoiding actions that could prompt a sharp shift in Chinese foreign policy but Sutter argues that current U.S. policy intrudes on so many issues that are particularly sensitive for Beijing and for China's future that it represents perhaps the most critical variable determining how China will position itself in world affairs Concluding that there is no guarantee the United States will use this influence wisely Sutter examines the uncertainty and unpredictability of U.S. foreign policy in the post-Cold War environment that work against the creation of an effective U.S. policy toward China

Foreign Policy Making in Taiwan Dennis V. Hickey, 2006-12-05. Following President Chen Shui-bian's victory in the controversial 2004 presidential election, this book examines the future direction of Taiwan's foreign policy, focusing on the internal and external forces that influence and shape the country's foreign policy decisions today. The author suggests that four levels of analysis—the international system, governmental structure, societal forces, and individual factors—pose some explanatory value when seeking to understand Taipei's foreign policy behaviour. Taiwan's foreign policy decision making remains an extremely complex process involving many important variables. However, the author's detailed analysis reveals that external factors particularly seismic shifts in global politics and the role of China and the US have had an extraordinary degree of influence over the island's foreign relations. This book highlights these factors as important considerations that continue to play a critical role in shaping Taiwan's foreign policy. Providing a clear analysis of the dynamics of Taiwan's foreign policy, Foreign Policy Making in Taiwan is an important addition to the literature on Taiwan and will be essential reading for followers of Chinese politics, comparative politics and foreign policy analysis.

EU-China-Africa Trilateral Relations in a Multipolar World Anna Katharina Stahl, 2017-10-25. This book considers the effect of China's unprecedented economic growth and more prominent geopolitical role in the twenty-first century. EU-China's growing economic and diplomatic influence is particularly relevant in Africa, where it presents an alternative to conventional North-South relations and proposes a new type of South-South partnership. Stahl examines the EU's foreign policy response regarding China's growing presence in Africa, as well as the EU's attempts to refocus attention on the African continent. Drawing on a rich body of evidence collected through fieldwork in China and Africa and extensive expert interviews, the author sheds light on the novel trend of EU-China-Africa trilateral relations. The book offers a new analytical framework for the study of the EU's foreign policy of engagement with emerging powers and will appeal to graduate students and scholars interested in the EU's international role, international relations and development, as well as contemporary Chinese and African studies.
