

NIAL GRIFFITHS SHEEP SHAGGER

"An extraordinary and ferocious work. It will inevitably generate comparison with the novels of Cormac McCarthy, but Niall Griffiths is his own man, with his own distinctive voice."

—JOHN SANVILLE

The Baptist's Head Compendium Alan Chapman, Duncan Barford, 2024-06-25 The intimate personal journals of two occultists practising western magick to achieve The Great Work also known as awakening or enlightenment With its humour honesty and down to earth approach extending beyond the cult following it gained after its original publication in the late noughties The Baptist's Head Compendium has proved itself a seminal text and indispensable guide to anyone suspicious of or disillusioned by magick purely as a tool for personal power or material gain Sharing the details of their discoveries and mistakes in the process of making them Chapman and Barford demonstrate how magick is a genuine spiritual tradition leading to enlightenment They have their minds blown and the strangest experiences of their lives By holding nothing back but sharing all results and methods the reader is equipped to embark on their own exploration of magick as a path to spiritual awakening Originally published as a trilogy but long since out of print these books are now available for the first time in a single volume revised and updated with new introductions by the authors

Literature in Society Regina Rudaitytė, 2012-12-05 The essays in this volume focus on the text world dichotomy that has been a pivotal problem since Plato implicating notions of mimesis and representation and raising a series of debatable issues Do literary texts relate only to the fictional world and not to the real one Do they not only describe but also perform and thus create and transform reality Is literature a mere reflection expression of society a field and a tool of political manipulations a playground to exercise ideological and social power Herbert Grabes seminal essay Literature in Society Society and Its Literature which opens this volume perfectly captures the essential functions of literature in society whether it be Derridean belief in a revolutionary potential of literature the power of literature to say everything or Hillis Miller's view of literature having the potential to create or reveal alternative realities or according to Grabes the ability of literature to offer to society a possibility of self reflection by way of presenting a double of what is held to be reality and last but not least the ability of literature to considerably contribute to the joy of life by enabling a particular kind of pleasure the pleasure of reading literature The subsequent essays collected in this volume deal with complex relations between Literature and Society approaching this issue from different angles and in various historical epochs They are on diverse thematics and written from diverse theoretical perspectives differing in scope and methodology

The 2000s: A Decade of Contemporary British Fiction Nick Bentley, Nick Hubble, Leigh Wilson, 2015-10-22 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 2000s shape contemporary British fiction The means of publishing buying and reading fiction changed dramatically between 2000 and 2010 This volume explores how the socio political and economic turns of the decade bookended by the beginning of a millennium and an economic crisis transformed the act of writing and reading Through consideration of among other things the treatment of neuroscience violence the historical and youth subcultures in recent fiction the essays in this collection explore the complex and still powerful relation between the novel and the world in which it is written published and read This major literary assessment of the fiction of the 2000s covers the work of newer voices such as Monica Ali Mark Haddon Tom McCarthy David Peace and Zadie Smith as well as those more established such as Salman Rushdie Hilary Mantel and Ian McEwan making it an essential contribution to reading defining and understanding the decade

A Companion to the British and Irish Novel, 1945 - 2000 Brian W. Shaffer, 2008-04-15 A Companion to the British and Irish Novel 1945 2000 serves as an extended introduction and reference guide to the British and Irish novel between the close of World War II and the turn of the millennium Covers a wide range of authors from Samuel Beckett to Salman Rushdie Provides readings of key novels including Graham Greene's Heart of the Matter Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea and Kazuo Ishiguro's The Remains of the Day Considers particular subgenres such as the feminist novel and the postcolonial novel Discusses overarching cultural political and literary trends such as screen adaptations and the literary prize phenomenon Gives readers a sense of the richness and diversity of the novel during this period and of the vitality with which it continues to be discussed

British White Trash Mark Schmitt, 2018-03-15 White trash is a liminal figure that dramatizes the intersection of race and class Contemporary British novelists like Irvine Welsh Niall Griffiths and John King use this originally US American stereotype to interrogate the racializing discourse of class in British society Their novels are interdiscursive reflections of the figurations of race and class that still haunt the British cultural imaginary British White Trash is the first analysis to comprehensively examine the adaptation of the white trash stereotype in major British novels The study thus contributes to a critical understanding of racism and classism its cultural representations and its underlying social processes

The 1990s: A Decade of Contemporary British Fiction Nick Hubble, Philip Tew, Leigh Wilson, 2015-05-21 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 1990s shape contemporary British Fiction From the fall of the Berlin Wall to the turn of the millennium the 1990s witnessed a realignment of global politics Against the changing international scene this volume uses events abroad and in Britain to examine and explain the changes taking place in British fiction including the celebration of national identities fuelled by the move toward political devolution in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales the literary optimism in urban ethnic fictions written by a new generation of authors born and raised in Britain the popularity of neo Victorian fiction Critical surveys are balanced by in depth readings of work by the authors who defined the decade including A S Byatt Hanif Kureishi Will Self Caryl Phillips and Irvine Welsh an approach that illustrates exactly how their key themes and concerns fit within the social and political circumstances of the decade

The Cambridge Companion to British Fiction, 1945-2010 David James, 2015-10-06 The Cambridge Companion to British Fiction since 1945 provides insight into the critical traditions shaping the literary landscape of modern Britain

Embodying Identity Harri Garrod Roberts, 2009-07-01 Since the time of Freud some of the most radical innovators within critical theory have stressed the importance of the body and its representation to the constitution of subjectivity This book explores some of the theoretical debates surrounding the body and assesses its value as a critical concept through an analysis of the body's representation both in Welsh literary texts in English and discourse about Wales more generally. Combining psychoanalytic with more culturally orientated approaches to the body, the book offers an historically informed account of the body that analyses its role in the construction and contestation of identity at a cultural as well as individual level, contributing in a new and radical way to the rapidly expanding critical literature concerned with exploring the construction of identity in a Welsh cultural context.

The Complete Review Guide to Contemporary World Fiction

M.A. Orthofer, 2016-04-19. A user-friendly reference for English language readers who are eager to explore contemporary fiction from around the world. Profiling hundreds of titles and authors from 1945 to today with an emphasis on fiction published in the past two decades, this guide introduces the styles, trends, and genres of the world's literatures from Scandinavian crime thrillers and cutting-edge Chinese works to Latin American narco-fiction and award-winning French novels. The book's critical selection of titles defines the arc of a country's literary development. Entries illuminate the fiction of individual nations, cultures, and peoples, while concise biographies sketch the careers of noteworthy authors. Compiled by M.A. Orthofer, an avid book reviewer and the founder of the literary review site The Complete Review, this reference is perfect for readers who wish to expand their reading choices and knowledge of contemporary world fiction. A bird's-eye view of titles and authors from everywhere, a book overfull with reminders of why we love to read international fiction. Keep it close by Robert Con Davis Udiano, executive director, World Literature Today. M.A. Orthofer has done more to bring literature in translation to America than perhaps any other individual. This book will introduce more new worlds to you than any other book on the market. Tyler Cowen, George Mason University. A relaxed riverine guide through the main currents of international writing with sections for more than a hundred countries on six continents. Karan Mahajan, Page Turner blog, The New Yorker. The 2010s Emily Horton, Nick Bentley, Nick Hubble, Philip Tew, 2024-02-08. This volume relates the British fiction of the decade to the contexts in which it was written and received in order to examine and explain contemporary trends such as the rise of a new working-class fiction, the ongoing development of separate national literatures of Scotland, Wales, and Ireland, and shifts in modes of attention and reading. From the aftermath of the 2008 global financial crash to the Covid-19 pandemic of 2020, the 2010s have been a decade of an ongoing crisis which has penetrated every area of everyday life. Internationally, there has been an ongoing shift of global power from the US to China, and events and developments such as the election of Donald Trump as US President, the emergence of the Black Lives Matter movement, the rise of the populist right across Europe, and very gradually the incipient effects variously of AI. Nationally, there has been a decade of austerity, economics punctuated by divisive referendums on Scottish independence and whether Britain should leave or remain in the EU. Balancing critical surveys with in-depth readings of work by authors who have helped define this turbulent decade, including Nicola Barker, Anna Burns, Jonathan Coe, Alys Conran, Bernadine Evaristo, Mohsin Hamid, James Kelman, James

Robertson Kamila Shamsie Ali Smith Zadie Smith and Adam Thirlwell among others this volume illustrates exactly how their key themes and concerns fit within the social and political circumstances of the decade Contemporary British Fiction Nick Bentley, 2008-08-27 This critical guide introduces major novelists and themes in British fiction from 1975 to 2005 It engages with concepts such as postmodernism feminism gender and the postcolonial and examines the place of fiction within broader debates in contemporary culture A comprehensive Introduction provides a historical context for the study of contemporary British fiction by detailing significant social political and cultural events This is followed by five chapters organised around the core themes 1 Narrative Forms 2 Contemporary Ethnicities 3 Gender and Sexuality 4 History Memory and Writing and 5 Narratives of Cultural Space The Demotic Voice in Contemporary British Fiction J. Scott, 2009-05-14 This book is an assessment of narrative technique in contemporary British fiction focusing on the experimental use of the demotic voice regional or national dialects The book examines the work of James Kelman Graham Swift Will Self and Martin Amis amongst many others from a practical as well as theoretical perspective Celtic Literatures in the Twentieth Century Сборник статей, 2015-09-09 The Centre for Irish and Celtic Studies at the University of Ulster hosted at Coleraine between the 24th and 26th August 2000 a very successful and informative conference on Celtic Literatures in the Twentieth Century The lectures and the discussions were of a high standard and it was the intention of the organisers to edit and publish the proceedings as soon as possible thereafter Unfortunately due to difficulties in assembling some of the papers this was not possible and consequently publication has been delayed much longer than was originally anticipated Despite this delay we feel that those papers which we have received merit publication at this time not only because of their intrinsic merits but also because they represent the views of the authors on their respective topics at the turn of the twenty first century and will hopefully be of value to those interested in the state of the modern Celtic literatures The Novel Now Richard Bradford, 2009-02-04 The Novel Now is an intelligent and engaging survey of contemporary British fiction Discusses familiar names such as Martin Amis Ian McEwan Salman Rushdie and Angela Carter and compares them with more recent authors including David Mitchell Ali Smith A L Kennedy Matt Thorne Nicola Barker and Toby Litt Incorporates original coverage of subgenres such as chick lit lad lit gay fiction crime fiction and the historical novel Discusses the ways in which notions of regional identity and tribalist views have surfaced in UK and Irish fiction and how post Imperial sensibility has become a feature of the British novel Situates contemporary fiction within its socio cultural and literary contexts Bowker's Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007 , 2008-02 The Book Lovers' Companion Michael O'Mara Books, 2014-07-25 Compiled by a range of English literature experts and avid readers and with a foreword by Lionel Shriver author of We Need To Talk About Kevin The Book Lovers Companion is sure to inspire any book lover Brexlit Kristian Shaw, 2021-07-29 Britain's vote to leave the European Union in the summer of 2016 came as a shock to many observers But writers had long been exploring anxieties and fractures in British society from Euroscepticism to immigration to devolution to post truth narratives that came to the fore in the Brexit campaign and its aftermath Reading these tensions back into contemporary British writing Kristian Shaw coins the term Brexlit to deliver the first in depth study of how writers engaged with these issues before and after the referendum result Examining the work of over a hundred British authors including Julian Barnes Jonathan Coe Kazuo Ishiguro and Ali Smith as well as popular fiction by Andrew Marr and Stanley Johnson Brexlit explores how a new and urgent genre of post Brexit fiction is beginning to emerge

The Book Club Bible Michael O'Mara Books,2011-07-31 With a foreword by Lionel Shriver author of We Need To Talk About Kevin The Book Club Bible is the essential guide to the best book club reads

Page and Place: Ongoing Compositions of Plot Jon Anderson,2014-10-15 If people are geographical beings what can fiction tell us about this truth This book explores how literature can help us understand the nature of the relations between people and place how humans create connections between their identities and their geographies and how these can be threatened and lost Literature is an important if unusual way to explore these relations At once centred in imagination and ideas fiction is also indelibly connected to as well as influenced by the geographies in which it is set As this book argues the relationship between fiction and location is so important that it is often difficult to know which is imagined and which is real Exploring the relations between people and place through fiction writing set in Wales Page and Place garners poetic insight into how places are written into our stories and how these stories take and make the places around us The book introduces the notion of plot to describe the complex entanglement between fiction and geography and to help understand the role that places play in defining human identity
